Against All Odds

A Road to USA

Craig Kanyemba

© Apadana Group 2019

Friendly Advice: Aftermath

Published by Apadana Group
Johannesburg, South Africa
Apadana.zw@gmail.com
Reg. 2018/618735/07

kanyembacraig0@gmail.com

Against all Odds: A road to USA

Also available on Amazonkindle and Smashwords

Category: Non-Fiction and Current Affairs.

ISBN 978-0-620-84609-7

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form by any means electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise without the written permission of the copyright owner.

Layout and Cover Design by Apadana Group
Printed in South Africa by Digital Action

To my Lord Jesus Christ, my God, third letter to you.

Thank you everyone for your further support:

My family and all my friends, I really appreciate all of you.

As before in 1963: Speaking in Addis Ababa on May 24, 1963 at a meeting of thirty two (32) African Heads of State and Government Dr. Kwame Nkrumah delivered the following speech calling for a strong Union of Independent African States. This historic well-reasoned call was ignored in favour of a weak Organization of African Unity (OAU). Decades afterwards, the OAU was replaced with the current African Union which is exactly what Dr. Nkrumah has never wanted it to be – a body controlled by the same imperialists who the African freedom fighters had fought to gain political independence....

Citizens can have a better Africa that produces free education, transportation, clothing, food and shelter when people come to terms with the past and understand sociocultural factors at there disposal.

Let every soul be subject to governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and the authorities that exist are appointed by God. Therefore whoever resists the authority resists the ordinance of God, and those who resist will bring judgement on themselves. For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to evil. Do you want to be unafraid of the authority? Do what is good, and you will have praise from the same. Romans 13 vs 1-3.

Against All Odds - A road to USA

INTRODUCTION 9

Chapter 1 11

THE BALLOT BOX AND DECEPTION 11

Electoral Power 11
Whom does the army serve? 13
Should they meddle in with political affairs? 13
A Possible Direction 17
Why is there a need for indigenous investors? 19
Power is not progress 22

Chapter 2 26

EDUCATION IN THEORY 26

Education in Africa 26
A further Confusion 30
Families with a financial crisis 34
Something to learn from the old ones 38

Chapter 3 43

POWER OF DIVISION 43

Politics and iniquities 43
What about days of peace? 46
Governance without the people at heart 51
A Long Journey 54
Earthly Peace 57

Chapter 4 64

SANCTION AND SOCIAL SYSTEMS 64

In a biblical way; Revelation 13:16-17 64
Policies and Power 69
It is important to understand 73
A New Enemy 78

Chapter 5 82

BELIEFS 82

What do we believe in? 82
Do we have a purpose? 85
What is the destination? 88
How far are businesses willing to go? 93
Businesses in beliefs 96

Chapter 6 102

FREEDOM OF A CULTURE 102

The Karl Marxist 102
Uniting the Continent 106
China's Difficult Examples 112
Respect to all 116

Chapter 7 120

FAITH 120

No Vision is Greater Than His 120
Bear No Deceit 123
A Good Spirit 126
The Time of Nelson 129
Spreading The Truth 132

Chapter 8 139

FAMILY 139

The Strength of A Family 139
The Promised Land 143
Are we focused enough to belong? 146
Unity to Emerge 151

Chapter 9 157

ECONOMY 157

Entrepreneurship 157
People of Congo 164
A ROAD TO DISCOVERY 167

Chapter 9 171

REDEMPTION 171

Knowledge is Power 171
Nehanda Nyakasikana 175
A Time to Grow 177
Communication without War 180

Chapter 10 183

FRUITS OF UNITY 183

Sacrifice before Glory 183
Without This Sacrifice 187
House without a FOUNDATION 188
In the time of crisis, whom do we depend on? 192

THE TESTIMONY OF JIM KUNAKA 197

Jim Kunaka in front of Mohlante Commission. 197
The Last house of Power 204

Dark Lovely
01082018

INTRODUCTION

I waited for more than one hour for the Zimbabwe Electoral Commission (ZEC) to announce the results of the elections for the last province in the country. It was fifteen minutes after midnight, but I was still watching a live news channel. The fever of excitement from the reporters waiting to reveal the identity of the new president was contagious.

The first thing I saw when the program went live was a man from an opposition party claiming that the last provincial results were false. This was even before the election results were released to the media. The security officers that were in this room were ordered to escort the man out of the building to avoid further disturbance and these claims were justifiable. I turned my attention to the journalists reporting on the elections, and my uncle had fallen asleep vexing and predicting that the elections would be rigged in favor of the old regime party. I was sceptical even though my instincts warned me that my uncle could be correct.

The results were announced at midnight. A thirty-eight years old ruling regime won elections as expected. I was overwhelmed by emotions of anger and pain, although I was perfectly sure from the beginning that they were going to win, I couldn't bear watching it all happen again.

In the same week of the presidential elections, just before the election results were announced, a day after people had voted, soldiers fired live ammunition at a street protest incited by a cause of delay to announce election results. Six people were shot dead and many were left badly injured. Most of the victims were shot at the back. The consensus was that the deceased had been running from soldiers firing live rounds. The government was thought to have shown little regard for public opinion.

I have nothing personal against these soldiers. They were under orders. But I am disgusted by the fact that they'd opened fire on citizens who were executing their democratic right to protest against the chicanery of the ZEC, which had successively rigged elections more than once on behalf of a dictator, who had presided over gross human rights violations, the collapse of the economy, and persecuted opposition candidates and their supporters since 1980. Zanu-PF (Zimbabwe African National Union-Patriotic Front) took away people's freedom and MDC-Alliance (Movement Democratic Change) broke the unity in the country.

Divide and rule or divide and conquer, in politics and sociology is gaining and maintaining power by breaking up larger concentrations of power into pieces that individuals have less power than the one implementing the strategy.

Britain and the US have successfully dismantled the economy of Zimbabwe through ZDERA (Zimbabwe Democracy and Economic Recovery Act) and EU (European Union) sanctions imposed on Zimbabwe around 2001. Although, it was Britain that broke the Lancaster house agreement made in 1979. All these sanctions didn't affect Robert Mugabe or his elites, they affected children of Zimbabwe and Africa as a whole.

This book has a schema offering a balanced review and a solution of an Aftermath into the struggles towards decolonization and financial freedom of Africans in the near future. It has a quintessential influenced holistic approach towards the practicality of every aspect of African society, in an attempt to market an African lifestyle to the widest possible circle of influence.

Chapter 1

THE BALLOT BOX AND DECEPTION

Electoral Power

Where electoral fraud and corruption are endemic, successive wins at elections are violently guaranteed. Especially when guns and bullets support electoral fraud and corruption. Nevertheless, the protests and demonstrations that follow rigged elections are a barometer of popular sentiment. When six people were killed during a protest, this was a way to inspire fear in people. They knew by killing innocent people, many would walk away from their freedom rights only to be enslaved over again without a say.

The cosmetic changes to the electoral cope that preceded the recent elections in Zimbabwe magnified chicanery acts, which turned the majority of eligible voters against the ruling party. During this moment, they went into the public causing massive havoc and distraction, but in doing so, the ruling party repeated old mistakes. In the same week of presidential elections, opposition's leaders announced that the number of people that voted had increased than the number of registered voters.

This deception is a staple of African politics. The families of those victims that were assaulted and killed by the army refused bribery to change their statements to the media.

A Deception Tool

People without enough ambition to change their own lives have no vision at all. And scriptures say: Where there is no revelation, the people cast off restraint; but happy is he who keeps the law.

Individuals have a strain of ideas after a consumption of power, and they turn against each other. A battle between two people is transformed into a war for the whole nation. And it is a struggle to remain in power. There is a political joke that says; African wars are considered tribal, but western wars are world wars.

People that are in power in the continent of Africa played a vital role during the struggle for equality against Caucasian supremacy. However, these struggles affected their mental psychology, they came into power and restored Caucasian supremacy oppression on their citizens under Black Supremacy, a power to the people movement. They have failed to distinguish the difference between the old ruling systems and modern innovations. In this way, it is clear as well that they have failed to allow a change driven society to rise. For Africa to develop fully and continuously prosper, young people should be in power, not only in politics but in businesses as well.

Although, human power is of no use, it is only temporary. Restlessness lies on the head that wears the crown and the accompanying paranoia sees enemies everywhere and seeks relief from fear. Due to an increase in corruption and violence, it seems as if every politician is dirty. When they are confronted about such issues and the reasons for such acts; they disarm the police, and assault activists, and reporters.

A Chief System

African cultures have not evolved, and people are still treating this as norms, but to what end? A leader whose age is old and weary is not questioned by the cabinet or the parliament on his wrong decisions, this culture fails to understand about the modern-day leadership qualities. When a president is voted into his position by the people, it is in the power of the same people to vote him out.

The power of a modern state was designed to be effective with astounding force, providing only certain designed possibilities for direct public participation like the ill-fated electoral democracy, and serving exponentially the agenda of capitalist modernity.

When people fought wars against oppressing regimes, it was the mindset they had aimed to change. Although, it was done by physical means, and that same mindset of change was later banned in the same countries with people that once fought for the freedom of thought. People are still suffering from the people that allegedly freed them from the so-called 'oppressors'.

Oppression has nothing to do with skin color, but rather money and power. These are the same African leaders that claimed in rallies they had war experiences at first hand, and yet, they've hands with innocent blood, murdered patriots who condemned their venality and challenged their power.

Africa's governing systems' power rest on the shoulders of monoliths that are increasingly hijacking resources and polarising populations. They illegally own the army with young militant people aspiring to be political figures in a disfigured country.

Whom does the army serve?
Should they meddle in with political affairs?

Niccolo Machiavelli in the book, the prince, he targets such a leader whose ideologies are to satisfy the army before the people, and in that manner of things, the country is mostly to be authoritarian or autocratic.

The military is trained to protect citizens from threats and wars through public taxations. The Zimbabwean army is caught up in a crossfire between politicians with agendas that oppose basic rights to people. Blind obedience of a slave. They do not realize that they are caught in the whirlwind of politics. When politicians use them as a personal investment, they descend into a maelstrom of corruption and fraud, which debts facilities and depletes resources. When people are pressurized by political problems in the country, they are likely to flee for greener pasture or retaliate causing a civil war.

Political chicanery caused many citizens to flee the country in pursuit of freedom and a stable economy. Those citizens that left the country are mostly taxpayers, youth and business partners, who started funding and growing another country's economy, even for a minimum wage. Civil servants became the stooges of politics in play. The party infiltrated companies into doing them favors, in exchange, businesses were involved with politicians in dubious transactions for economic leverage and financial gain.

Military Education

The disjuncture between revenue collected from taxes and the welfare on the population multiplies instability and poverty in the country. Thomas Sankara said, "A soldier without any political or ideological training is a potential criminal." Bullets become a currency and salaries of soldiers, nurses and teachers are smuggled into a politician's bank account, yet the infrastructure is decaying.

The military is harnessed to ambition in the service of greed in politics. In African countries, the army remains a number one victim of greedy politicians. They are left without food, uniforms, and facilities to catch up with the recent developments in military tactics and technology. It is advisable that in the modern world the army should stay out of internal politics to focus on external enemies and other future threats to the country, instead of ill-treating citizens as enemies. Knowledge is power, but understanding is everything.

Confusing ideologies

People are born free, and they choose their enemies but sometimes they are chosen as enemies by others. We face a struggle with political regimes in Africa, where the culture of leadership is autocratic and non-idealistic. People confuse a president for a king or a monarch. This confusion emerged from a culture that has refused to evolve or was never given a chance to evolve, so the younger generations are abandoning it. Generations before us left nothing but the land, without capital these lands remain quiescent. This world is changing and cultures are failing to adapt, there is hypocrisy in celebrating the African cultures, it is not synchronous with the modern world that children are growing up in.

The gourmandism of African political life is stupid than imagined because it usually spends more money than it makes. It doesn't make efforts to work towards something and to courageously build it, but it avid for power, and then misuse it after failing to accomplish duties and promises. Mostly these are well-educated people in a society and respected models, which led me to question how they were groomed into leadership. There is a monument theory that; politics should direct guns but in our case, guns direct politics.

The world has always been a theatre for wars, and countries such as Syria are still going through these disastrous wars over politics and religious opinions. All these deeds are motivated by a president without qualifications for his/her job. The instability of politics in one country affects other countries, this is the core foundation of hatred in the world. And I fear much that it is the same thing that happened in Africa and still happening in Africa, the major obstacle to progressive improvement is mental rather than environmental, this hinders people in Africa to become a United States. Those major foreign investors interested in Africa are also playing a role in the current political conflicts and situations in Africa.

Marcus Garvey

People that are in power are as blinkered as those following them. The idea of African Unity proposed by Marcus Garvey and later by Kwame Nkrumah and Muammar Al Gaddafi was calculated to help Africans benefit from their continent. However, some of the people that proposed this idea were in dictatorial positions and it seemed rather a wicked idea then. In the African treaty for unity, people will learn and educate each other beyond their differences.

> Because of poverty, there are higher religious manipulations in Africa compared to other continents because of poverty in the continent, people are desperate for hope, these religious views affect elections in a country indirectly. A biased conversation between members of these different sects is a recipe for conflict. True men of the Lord Christ Jesus are peaceful and just, and if they are purveyors of conflicts and wars, then it just another shade religion umbrella.

Nevertheless, we are still bounded to leaders who are motivated by the lust for lucre to seek political authority. A true leader inspires others but the charlatans who seek office to advance their investments are a disaster waiting to happen. They have many opportunities for starting profitable businesses, but instead, they want a fish from other fishers. They cannot see that the rewards from dynamism and enterprise are more fulfilling and satisfying than remuneration from employment. The non-preferred route to leadership in this world.

A Possible Direction

No one has to read an entire library or books to discover that African leaders simply bequeathed the legacy of poverty and ethnicity from colonialism to their peoples. It is one of the reasons why the approach towards the United States of Africa seems to be elusive. The current crop of leaders is so confident of its tenure that its central preoccupation is to plunder available resources.

> It would be beneficial to African companies to trade across African countries without a barrier. Clearing out custom levies would increase trade, but these people fear change, and yet they own nothing besides what they have, mostly, looted and stolen.

These are the borders limiting most of our potential trades as Africans. Posterity will suffer a loss hundred years from now and the egocentric preoccupations of venal politicians which ignite conflicts multiply the loss. Many African countries are going through conflicts that could be solved by revaluing them into a single army and the United States to have one African country, with a dominant currency. Which means people are enabled to draw a constitution that benefits Africans and their values and beliefs, especially on how they can relate to other people from different continents in search of a better home.

History's Failure

Furthermore, elections have been rigged in almost all countries in Africa. Voters are either ignorant or terrorized into supine passivity. Colonialism that reared colonized minds like Idi Amin also affected R.G Mugabe, Nelson Mandela, Jacob Zuma, Y K Museveni and other leaders. People are governed by policies they do not understand. It is an illusion that they do not receive the type of education for developing countries. Needlessly, education is fast-tracked to accommodate patronage networks, only later to realize that they have educated people going into foreign lands for employment.

Moreover, the history of Africa is limited by the fact that we are yet to discover a cache of indigenous knowledge, which can be harnessed to structural development. We have a shortage of major competitive universities that expands research in both modern and ancient times, and also spreading this research to other countries. Failing to find solutions to settle the past affects the present and the future, the majority of indigenous Africans remain in bondage even after independents and hundreds of years of economic oppression.

African Sovereignty

A nation is for the people first and the President second, which is a completed principle called to serve the nation. Then broadening small states to merge as one into a continent eradicate the current reality of political influences on small states, and at large, a society filled with drugs, guns, and poverty only survives at the expense of poor people. We cannot build anything if we are divided over our concerns of power.

A vision has to come to pass. Leaders who glorify themselves as gods over man are like the Egyptian Pharaohs that lived in Africa thousands of years ago. They have turned the courts into their labs with a manipulated audience, and mostly, very poor men eating peanuts after the master's dinner. A lost sheep following a wolf in sheep's clothing.

When do we build after elections?

It is the fodder that rulers of this world feed on. Every one of us needs food and warmth clothes. Politicians have discarded the idea of unity in favor of cartels that are neither legitimate nor sustainable. Except for South Africa, technology is rudimentary in Africa and development is always postponed until it becomes a dire necessity.

We can put our trust in God and work towards a better future, although the proposal for unity may be disputed, it benefits everyone without exception. We cannot allow other people to do our job, whilst we fold arms waiting to be fed.

Why is there a need for indigenous investors?

In a continent with more than one billion and two hundred million people, hundreds of millions are still living based on their employer's minimum wage policy. The prerogative of an employer to terminate employment at his discretion jeopardizes the welfare of employees. Large investors in the continent are exploiting labour since it is cheaper in Africa, which has caused several xenophobic incidents in South Africa to get rid of a high migration into South Africa. Investors are taking advantages of this patronage systems to feather their own nest. A government is an enabler to provide, nurture and support new businesses by further improvement of economic power.

It is easy for a man in great authority to accept money than a building plan, especially in Africa, it has been proved correct on many occasions.

A predicament people face usually is when choosing their lives above minimum wages. Employees are motivated by the prospects of financial security. These are the voters and supporters of propaganda.

Foreign Investors' Slavery

It is hard for these people to let go of the sense of working for someone, servant alike. However, some people have a responsibility that requires them to move forward even in pain to ignore their joy. And those that do open companies and struggle with capital, the government is not an enabler when funding such projects, but obstacles for these businesses are for the open minded people.

A whole nation's development starts with a small investment, although it is unnecessary to blame such and such for a poor economy in the country. Africa's divided countries have governments that are either facing sanctions or recession to sustain a nation.

This is caused by the decisions at forums and platforms where African countries are a token of observers and spectators of different political spectrums. We are not united as a continent, and our resources benefit every other continent except Africa. All these African economies are impotent to sustain citizens in the continent compared to other continents and countries in the world of economics.

Destroying A Nation

Economic sanctions and corruption can impoverish citizens more than wars could. But scarcely affect leaders who stash their loot in safe havens. Greed cannot see beyond its disadvantage to the welfare of other people. These sanctions only affect millions of people living in these countries, including children. Poor people fear for their lives, and poverty directly terrorizes and supine passivity.

Stalwarts of liberation struggle metamorphosed into dictators and tyrants. They never recovered from the trauma of colonialism, so they sought relief in the accumulation of wealth and the adulation of the multitude. The revenge is towards the stooges of colonial regimes. It is true that the more we hate our enemies, the more we are just becoming like them. In other words, we are still under the influence of our hearts and evil regimes that we overthrew years ago. But evil must be vanquished before mankind can reach ordination.

Undocumented Struggle

History repeats itself under different circumstances. In four hundred years, Africans have to rediscover the colonization by the stalwarts of the liberation struggle monopolized the harvest through political independence. Those that were in war always remind other people about how difficult the revolutionary struggle was. And this war always seems as if it had one hundred people only and they all want the power to share their hard grievances of war. The stories told to children don't entertain angry adults. Change is a constant evolution which cannot be detained by the chicanery of rapacious venality.

Citizens are expected to celebrate the achievements of liberation struggles while living as immigrants and refugees in the same continent.

I will rather be a blind man and understand that I've never seen the light of the sun since birth, only imaginations, not to be a man with eyes that cannot see what is in front of him, although it is clear to those around him. A humble man does not preach about his humbleness, but it is for a wicked man to preach the goodness of his evil deeds.

A person with a jealous heart and envy is not a good leader. At times, it is for those that defeats evil to become leaders of their fellow men. Men who care about their status are condemned to a downfall. Those with ambitions usually trample on others to succeed and then supersede void of a heart with money.

Political Failure

African political leaders suppress dissent. And there is strength in unity and numbers. Procrastination is time consumed and sacrificed for a lost cause. It is only by the unity that we can benefit twenty generations of the aftermath. There is never a right time to do it besides this period in time. We should understand that this land was only divided after 1873, and shared among the colonists of Europe. The words immigrants, passports, and refugees were not important in our idiolect, lexicon or vocabulary.

The African Union leadership compromised moral values for money. Some of them do have money and positions to influence certain companies, but businessmen will always put their interest first. The biggest investors in Africa are making more profits, only to send those profits back to the east or west headquarters on another continent.

Robert Mugabe and Muammar Gaddafi both suffered in the hands of the African congress to bring an African ideology to life just like Kwame Nkrumah lost his debate to Julius Kambarage Nyerere in 1963. People later witnessed the brutal death of Gaddafi, after then poverty has rapidly increased in Libya. Individuals in power can jeopardize the continent for small shares in a company, making deals that cannot build a continent and cause vital changes in our ways of living. These deals enrich a few people at the expense of many people. Most of these individuals must have the power to make these investments on international trade boldly.

Power is not progress

We rather die for an idea that lives on, than to live for any idea that dies. Zimbabwe was sanctioned, and the magnitude of the resulting poverty affected the entire continent. The idea of African solutions for African problems began with the liberation struggles and it didn't end there. It has emerged that many leaders that have scares of the war suffer the epiphany of the messiah complexity. Most parties that were involved with the Africa liberation struggle have a declined calibre of leadership, the likes of African National Congress (ANC) and Zimbabwe Africa National Union Patriotic-Front (ZANU-PF). It is quite a phenomena that these people were able to give people one-step forward into the future but few people among this generation healed and evolved mentally.

The reason being that most want authority, not the job but the position. However, voters argue around the fact that economic power is today's revolutionary idea, but only people can bring forth this idea to life. Most of the elderly political group have nothing to give to leadership, only hate, which has currently created a situation in African countries after years of independents. The integrity of the 1960s has collapsed under the weight of greed.

All of this happened because someone signed away the patrimony. Culture is dynamic and the senescent captives of custody and tradition should exit in the theatre of operations so that descendants pregnant progressive improvements that can enter this stage of history. The elderly group without new knowledge in leadership should go and rest, allowing the young leadership to gear up and accelerate life on earth to betterment and adornment. People with an understanding of the characteristics of bad leadership understand that it is a weapon of division. From a business perspective, a farmer's son is also a farmer. Practically, the experience is required with every qualification possible to work for a sizable salary.

Division is Supremacy

Africa governments are led by people living the continent in enormous debts. Individuals that understand the wealthiest of these lands and natural resources are in limited positions. Those with economic knowledge carry an idea and resources to a man in power and offer large amounts of money to either compromise quality for quantity or to compromise integrity.

The hope that my grandfather had for his ancestral land seized to exist during the Robert Mugabe era. The sense of belonging is lost and the unfulfilled promises of a brighter future tremble like light to the sight of a blind man, and a sound voice is substantiated by a clear vision. Many Africans were not poor until money started determining the level of riches. Social comparison inspired a sense of relative deprivation.

If we do not change this Africa while it is still possible in time, the incidence of corruption among politicians will become chronic. The reprobates have been in office long enough and we cannot see any prospects that the miscreants are likely to take early retirement. But the acute poverty which accompanies chronic corruption will drive the scoundrels from office. A hungry person is an angry individual. Supremacy can lose the authority to rule when people are without division.

Nelson Mandela

The best way to do the continent well is by working together, not because one is better than the other, but effectiveness emerges from unity and togetherness towards the same goal. Dialogue is not only a public statement but action that pursues it. People together again fail to recognize a personal mistake from a public mistake. When accepting wrongdoings as a leader, in fear, some of those that are blind to the truth become weak leaders, but it is the strength of a thoughtful leader to admit his wrongdoings.

To be on the same page, modern leaders throughout these countries understand power, and yet, nothing of profit accompanies this understanding. The case of Nelson Mandela, he made it clear that he was not a saint in the case of his struggle. Accepting his mistakes as a leader, he became much of a leader than those that came after him. He made it clear to this day that the power for the young ones to change their society rests on their shoulders. Whilst other leaders use his name as a way to find a voice in their societies. And condemnation is not a way for us to join hands and work together, there is more deception in the economic systems of today to just blame it on one man. Should we choose to continue engaging in wars for other corporations profit through our disputes?

Rich Land Poor People

There are enough resources and workforce to build a life on the continent. And enough education to protect that privilege, however, the direction of our politics is after foreign hospitality. This is not a Congo problem neither a Nigerian problem nor a South African problem but an African problem that should be dealt with soon or later. Procrastination leads to economic slavery while half of the world is improving, Africa remains Eldorado.

Burning issues include free education and free health care, both were an accomplished fact in Libya during the golden age under Gaddafi. Libya has major oil deposits. Gaddafi protected Libya from foreign predators, but it came with a cost. He was not only a leader but a visionary. Visionary leadership is fertile and prosperous. Oil in Libya was used to grow the economy, after the fall of Gaddafi, Libya has descended into chaos.

The Congolese citizens and Zimbabwean citizens work as toilet cleaners and dish-washers for lowest wages to support their families. They are slave earners in other countries while greed and jumbled politics is demolishing their countries. Families have been separated, instead of farms and mines, its restaurants and domestic work. The diamonds produced in both countries should benefit the whole nation, not a few people.

Chapter 2

EDUCATION IN THEORY

Education in Africa

Before understanding more about education, we should highly note what Dennis Prager said; education in and of itself, divorced from the higher ends of God and goodness, can lead, and often has led, to great evil. Best educated people in Germany supported Hitler and the Nazis, and all of the western supporters of the genocides regimes of Stalin in Soviet Union and Mao in China were highly educated. There is nothing about a Ph.D. that guarantees a person will be wiser, kinder or more ethical than someone with just a high school certificate.

Poor Judgement

An educated fool is still a fool. And that fool is like a chief who sold his land to a man with knowledge about that land. Years later, minerals were dug from this land in large quantities. The man who had bought the land forced the chief out of this land. When education cannot stimulate cognitive maturation, an educated person is like this chief who later struggled to find a place to live with his family.

Many students pursue an education in the hope of riches. Education in Africa is a comparison to the standards and values of a Caucasian hegemony. It is through the ordinary systems that people spend years with continuous studies, receiving information based on foreign researches and foreign data analysis. Africa has not yet reached a point to undertake the education that could be implemented into many people's lives and improve their lives locally.

A society that has electric engineers has communities living without electricity. A country with many doctors has ministers and a host of others traveling to foreign countries for medical treatment. It is much difficult to apply it to practical means. It is much considered that theoretically education is the key to success and the debate is for a fact, but without capital it is nothing, but intellectual slavery of knowing and failing to implement it.

It is a leading factor to success, but it shouldn't be considered as the only key. A person with education and capital creates success, but a person with education only seeks employment.

A Changing world

The world has evolved faster for the past hundred years, using the old systems requires new economic strategies. In spite of fear to dive into passions and businesses, most people remain fastened to responsibilities. The world has changed and it is time to change from the old ways including the educational system. It is still the same old education and it is obsolete.

The innovations that have come into widespread use have nothing to do with earning four-degree certificates. If the motivation behind our education is money, it is a disappointment.

Family Growth Using Education

When it comes to family businesses, the first thorny is capital. The fear is to watch it fail. Nevertheless, fear to fail prevents learning common business mistakes.

Many young people or adults have a major fear in starting their businesses. It only requires the right books to be able to run a business from the ground up. It is like nursing a child from birth. It accumulates wealth for posterity. Family wealth is an essential part of life. Individuals that can implement and build education create enlightenment.

Learning to operate finances and commercial transactions should be taught to children as basic information. It is a vicious cycle when people spend time living a hand to mouth life. The African governing system is familiar with the United States of America system, which ignores poor people and build more wealth for the rich, but controls the growth and the well-being of the entire society. In the end, instead of bequeathing an inheritance to grandchildren, a pension from bank owners is affected by a world cycle of economic depression.

Failures in Universities

Spending time, partying and drinking at universities is not helpful, students should take the opportunity to build their lives by observing closely the one percent of wealthy people in the world. Those that carefully use their talents gain capital to invest further in their ideas. A job and a college degree in this world today is hidden pain.

It is not that people should drop out, only if necessary, it is not enough that we spend time trying to make society happy by acquiring some sort of a certificate. We have to notice the difference in our education and change our approach towards it. Few people noticed the faults in the education system and are privileged enough to home school children. The standard system found a way to separate families in search of education, and at usual times, learners fail to remember the business side of education. Learners are either victims or perpetrators of the current system, yet there are opportunities for innovation.

Social Growth

There is a need for creativity and modernization of rural areas. Furthermore, students acknowledge education, but endure sorrow when remuneration is not commensurate with qualifications. The majority abandon education attained over the number of years to start a new career that pays more. Too many Africans are convinced that it is through this way to attain a good living, yet more than seventy-five percent have impressive and inspiring talents. In almost everything people do, it is only a matter of practice that creates perfection, and learning to invest both time and money creates the true value of education by practical means.

Survival, some will argue that it is not about competence, but unity. At most, some people are foolish enough into thinking that competition against colleagues makes them better. However, teaching those in our communities increase knowledge into widespread and it improves their standards of living, and this is how a society grows.

A child in a software engineering class or a software development class is taught to work for a corporation, instead of building a corporation off his hands. International education system grooms employees. The world motivates everyone to focus on money, although we can never have enough of it. Using knowledge to build companies will create major shareholders from the very founders to after generations of children to exercise responsibilities.

Education is in our homes, and not only in schools. It is what we teach our children that once built the world. However, parents do not have time to teach because work and living expenses are high. The tradition of the education system has condemned graduates to pensioners.

Notice most people that are leading members of societies are rated according to their financial wealth level. Therefore, those without education feel that without the guidance of these people, they are somehow lost. We cannot distinguish between scholastic or professional skills and financial skills. We are not learning about passions, which is a less money-driven objective. We remain poor despite qualifying as accountants or lawyers.

A further Confusion

The world has changed and we should grow from the old education system to the new system. As an alternative, investing money into buying a house is not a huge investment, but property development is. This allows us to be financially aware of our environment and societies.

Education is learning to live with others. A certificate creates a fallacy and it not an advantage to start with. The point of education is to acquire a certain skill to practice later in life, but the majority do not have resources to carry out further researches. Children shouldn't be born to corrupt the world.

Parents with accounting certificates struggle to earn a comfortable life and early retirement is not granted. The country with economic challenges develops poor societies and poor ideologies.

Money has Changed Education

We are too focused on money that all other passions lack our attention. Our focus on money has created more debts during the past few years. Reasons for acquiring skills in universities remain salary based, and not everyone turns out to be a chief executive officer of a company. If we are to change our perception of modern education, then there is a greater chance to change our ways of living.

Practical and Theory Education

There is a story of two people, one is educated informally and another formally. The first student acquires a certificate in business management whilst another student works for a corporation's assembly line after high school. They are both hard workers in any given situation.

After graduating on top of his class, his father's friend invited the first student to join the company for a good salary. He was employed as an operation manager, eight hours a day. The other young man became part of the company after quitting a few jobs since high school.

A young man in the production level quits his job. Also, he discovered how to make an improved product from the ground up to packaging. He started his own small company with similar packaging just like the old company, but he took it back to his hometown and started doing door-to-door deliveries of the product under his name. On the other hand, the operation manager hunted for further promotion, and a way to improve his skills.

The difference between theory and practice is effectiveness. We have to be efficient in practical ways while building companies of our own. Innovation could be lost in time when it is underestimated. Almost all people are lost in a search for promotion and an increase in salary.

The Impact of Positivity

Hard work should be treasured. A society should remember that the world works in a different way than what we perceive it to be. We can improve our lives without using force. Once in a seminar, a professor insisted that creativity is the way forward for African youth. The impact of entrepreneurship can bring change to the continent. Although, most people are born from a society that serves as an example of fear. When people suffered from numerous oppressive regimes and poverty, some surrendered to acculturation. Instead of reinventing the wheel, the current system is imperialist, communist and capitalist. Systems evil enough to oppress the middle class and the lower class.

Starting over Again

It is hard for Africans to reinvent the economic structure to suit millions of lives. The benefit of European education development is elusive or delusive in Africa. Only a few people are receiving education the right way. At first, it was about increasing the literacy skills, but finding prosperity in communities with a culture deemed to failure requires a change of mindsets.

Africa has many kinds of minerals, and yet, few students have qualifications in these fields. Governments and businesses managed to convince indigenous people that these mines are low-graded. This decreased migration into industrial areas, abandoning wealth over misinterpretations.

The aftermath in Libya has affected several learners. Resources are available from Cape to Cairo; the idea of free tertiary education was possible in Cuba. The Zimbabwean government does not yet have a vision for the country such as this; citizens do not eat history for launch and heroes for dinner.

Building independent universities focus on dominant African cultural research. We spend more time evaluating foreign information, and this information is examined in a foreign environment. A virus called Ebola erupted in Africa, since then, few local universities further studied the virus in Africa.

Several doctors await for foreign analysis, of which, African lives are much at risk. Nearly a third of the information in research facilities is foreign. We participate and collaborate with researchers with enough resources, although important information remains classified as part of the examination.

Power is not Black or White

Powerful people do not patronize local hospitals and doctors. This is an abnormal psychological pattern. Most politicians have compromised the trust and confidence placed in local doctors by neglecting local facilities for foreign institutions. Many spend exorbitant sums of money going abroad for medical attention.

When a government spends money on salaries and civil servants, investments and development projects end up in dust over economic corruption. Zimbabwean government employs over two hundred thousand civil servants while the country is broke. And we cannot be held captive by poverty and the chicanery of industrialized corporations. It is the new slavery and a biased mentality of imperialists that African-Americans fought against and still are. A civilization cannot be born out of an old mindset. History of educated Africans before imperialism was distorted to dehumanize and demonize the native people.

Commercial transactions should be reciprocal and mutually beneficial. The begging bowl mentality of the African Union is demeaning and mortifying. Prosperity on earth has nothing to do with race or religion. Besides, everything has to do with who can harness resources to his advantage. The old rules still apply in Africa to the welfare of the collective. Greed has eclipsed the sense of collective destiny that welds disparate populations with a common ancestry of a people. It is important to understand the reason behind a union. It is not the aim for making a living only, but to provide the best for our communities, in terms of lower prices and good services. In the long run, this will correct an imbalance poor people are facing in the world.

Illustrating the idea that many people are making millions only to lose this money later in life and suffer depression, financial literacy is a fulcrum of economic prosperity. Two brothers were discussing investing in their passions.

One mentions that soon after his accounting certificate would work for a period to raise capital for his own company. This is theoretically possible. Most people chose to work for a certain period, and later they discover twenty-five years passed while building another man's ambitious vision.

Regression

A person receives a bonus and creates responsibilities just to spend the incentives. The more a person buys and spends could predict a bad financial future. If we are to fail, we fail forward towards a successful future. Persistence keeps our dreams alive. Management is a pattern of allowing wealth to survive for future generations.

Families with a financial crisis

Families should have faith to build wealth daily to a yearly basis. A burden from poor financial background creates linkage from one generation to another, which results in three to four generations of poverty. Children without an inheritance suffer more than expected.

An education without financial skills grooms employees instead of employers. When the majority of the population are employees, most individuals are pragmatic than professionals and scholastics.

Not everyone is blessed enough to lead a nation into great prosperity. We should determine what wealth is and how can it be built since it is imperative that we understand how wealth is accumulated. Most Africans are drowning in poverty, and the universal consensus is that hard work is the key to prosperity, but without jobs, then what is the key to prosperity? There is much land to utilize in Africa, and native people need capital to take advantage of these ancestral lands. The deprivation that comes with poverty in a fertile ground starts with a conflict against the marauders.

Management is difficult

The risks that come with managing an asset requires both management skills and financial skills. At times, most families fail to utilize a property because of a shortage in funding. The new world requires more investment from stock trading to property development. And If not done properly some companies make profits during the economic depression and some fail during the depression.

An investment should survive time for more than a century. Some of the biggest reasons people in Africa have more financial challenges when most are educated is by failing to refashion trade markets. Robotic systems will take over most of the jobs in the world. A good example is an improvement of a polygraph replacing court cases, wiping out a one-third of lawyers. Accountants have to compete with a computerized financial software, which gives accurate information in a matter of minutes. While engineers are upgrading machines, companies are replacing human effort with machines causing huge retrenchments. African lands have greater wealth for almost two-thirds of the world population.

A Problem Not A Solution

Many Africans are considered illegal immigrants entering Europe in droves. Africans and the Middle East fleeing from war and poverty are seeking greener pastures. A huge number of these immigrants have a tertiary education. The number of Africans leaving the continent due to poverty distress and governing issues has intensified. This is a time to correct the old mistakes using new blood. People in positions of power neglect solutions to economic booming. This is the reason why many people are leaving the continent to seek greener pastures.

The President of Nigeria once mentioned that many young people seeking solutions away from home soil must return and explore their creativity on the home soil. This is an ignorant statement because a corruption report found the Nigerian government as one of the most corrupt cabinets in the world. As a president, first, get rid of obvious corruption in the country to create an auspicious environment for creativity.

Fools of History

None of us seems to have learned from history. Most Africans were urged to receive more education, yet there is no friendly economic environment for graduates. The administrations should expect nothing but educated hungry people with revolutionary minds. African civilizations suffer disparity and resort to violence for a society's survival.

Religious and political wars are not only problematic in Africa. The same goes for the American society that is barely studying its history.

And people are social, which is the reason why religious and governments have universal appeal. Those that have different opinions use them to their advantage. Only a few people have credentials to exercise political authority correctly. It is something we will never learn from books. When the information is limited to our knowledge, millions study one same subject of revolution. To do away with our schools is evaluating ideas and opposing the ordinary. Learners should break away from a machine type of a system that only nurse and feeds them information.

Henry Ford lived by these words, "... a strategist should be ready to revise any system, scrap any method, and abandon any theory if the success of the job requires it."

Women's leadership

Cases of rape will reduce once more women are educated. There is an increase in HIV and AIDS in African countries, sex education is not taught enough, especially in homes. Young women are vulnerable to predators engaging in relationships for money. The encouragement is to work hard and escape exploitations. There is an increase in the number of women below twenty-four and above fifteen years raising children as single parents. Two children with different fathers under the same roof.

The informal education should always be available especially with a rapid growing technology and media access, only the willingness to work towards goals should be encouraged. Customs have been passed down from generations to generations affecting young girls. If sex is not part of education, children exploit it. Education comes first before marriages since the world is governed by influencing people, the only hope is in education. For their fathers, their daughters are sleeping with old men and it is disturbing finding out. Pointing fingers against gender quality will not solve the increase in HIV and AIDS. The number of deaths has decreased with an increase in drugs, but this will not justify it.

Economic Growth

Economic participation in a state requires every person to get involved. When human beings increase in population, males and females are both productive. Every individual has to participate for a better future, it not only a political party's duty to do such. When people are about to evolve into a new generation a way of doing things change either temporary or permanent.

Something to learn from the old ones

A journey of freedom is long enough that only a few people reach at the end, Moses and many Israelites that left Egypt failed to enter Canaan.

There is no limit to growth because there is no limit to human intelligence, imagination, and wonders. Peace is not achieved by hiding indoors fearing what will happen tomorrow, it is an insult to our growth.

The alliance is a wise direction when all parties are weak. The only way for us to build institutes that can provide practical education and security is through evaluation of the African vision. A leader teaches others to lead, not to follow. We shouldn't underestimate institutional education, and it has a way of increasing individual development skills.

And building information platforms can help to transform African talents into wealth. The more the institutions increase, the more we have solutions to solve a social class system found in the world today, which is unavoidable.

We should evaluate our philosophy in terms of morality. It is not about what is missing, and it is not a bias because people tend to search the missing part without actually embracing the available part.

This happens the moment we step forward and remain organized, our sentiment is one of struggle, and resistance – stronger than before. We can create a massive booming education with enough knowledge shared among the commoners. Technology is either a weapon or a tool in schools.

Most people have underestimated the power of faith and skills in building home-based businesses that are independently owned. Best investments include buying and resuscitating failing businesses. It is a struggle starting from our own homes and our communities since change begins at home, through our daily actions and tirelessly working to fight disarticulation, misinformation, fear, and frustration.

A Future Past

By observing the Zimbabwean situation, on the account of history, the only coup d'etat was recorded in 2017, but the true coup d'etat occurred in 1980, since then, Zimbabwe has been a stratocracy, with a simple observation, the military is still playing a vital role in politics and education.

This is a disadvantage to people who want to make and give their country effective business ideas and performance. If it needs to be, it all starts by decentralizing government power and national companies operating on national level production into local governance. Without such, they reflect potential 'political burnout' or worse, scepticism and pessimism.

Positive Socialism

Hospital care is a human need. If they are free, doctors can freely operate and carry out most of the hospital research without the necessities to leave the country. The truth that surrounds our lives is deep within us, but the struggle of the truth can be caramelized that people get to see the light aftermath. Some people can run from corner to corner without actually focusing on the reason why. At times, we ignore and people die. A united Africa is stronger than a divided Africa.

Rewards are set for those that complete their good work. This might help those that are quietly motivated enough to see the light. The United States of Africa could force other negative forces to stay away from all internal political judgements. And yet, while there is a consensus against 'United Africa', politicians seem incapable of thinking outside of the box or imagining possibilities beyond the status question.

Planning to Fail

By failing to express ideas people tumble indirectly. We serve and learn no justice to the end; people have always been living for money instead of love for building each broken society. Hard work is derived from our potential that lies beyond our thoughts. The modern world is a competition theatre for progress and profit.

Failing to Plan

Great education is not spending millions of dollars in a private school. It is not what we give children that makes them great adults, it is what we teach them that makes them gigantic. When we hold back the decision of thoughts, we have stripped away the ability for children to build their potential. Often, at that moment, we miss a talent in a child. Actions are based on impulse and sentiment. We usually do not want the best for our children in the sense that we want what is best for our prestige. The success that parents and societies search from a child leads to unhappiness, a guitar player ends up as a good and sad dentist.

Much has been said about the current system of education, and yes, it is unsatisfactory to students, and it can be substituted by practical schools funded by institutions powerful enough to flourish poor communities. Nevertheless, the amount of time that children are exposed to technology either at home or school could be used to assemble gadgets and developing passive education through exposure to information. The ability of people to build education is in their families.

It is through understanding this education system that children are involved with, for the time being, it be might the best we have, and only if there is room for improvement.

The pattern in the education system is in the hands of the government as much as they analyze the kind of information that children are receiving. The importance of it is to further the economy and increase high levels of discipline. The same attitude is that the government has bonded with the education, due to high corruption in the country, it affects and falsificate the way of learning. It shouldn't unnecessary take time in African schools to learn the new transformed education, which includes financial literacy.

Case a) During the days of Colonization > sixty years ago Case b) In Harare, Soldiers were firing live ammunition at civilians.

Chapter 3

POWER OF DIVISION

Politics and iniquities

Politics is based on theories, led by philosophy. A leader's education is a representation of exemplary, and if ideologies are not implemented it means a teller of tales is in power. This is not a good development of political leadership. A soldier cannot rule a majority of people during an economic crisis. A military mindset is not used to the dynamics of economics.

The Art of War

It is in identifying the enemy, which creates rather a better solution to work-out a way to defeat him. People only build-in anger as a weapon, but never a solution.

The only way to deal with a devil is fire, a permanent solution. We forgive our enemies as we are also forgiven. Identifying enemies creates a way to learn and live with them. It is a matter of forgiving, and a soldier tactically keeps enemies closer than friends

While some of us generously acknowledge this significant, if not exceptional, normative differences in generational socio-politic and economic upbringing, many of us simply cannot afford to risk or indulge with such high and dangerous violent terrains, understanding an opt to disengage. The more whispers circulate, rumours appear real and inspire fear, the illusion of fear is real.

The African delusion

A real big failure is when heads of state seat in the same room and fail to discuss the big elephant in the room, for example, corruption and government autocracy. AU has failed people dismally that the purpose of its existence is questionable. It should be abolished in favor of a United Africa, and we emerge as a United States, yet not abandoning our sense of nationality, but rather enriching it in the process.

One of the things Adolf Hitler said in the halcyon days was, "I am not a criminal because of that. If today I stand here as a revolutionary, it is as a revolutionary against the revolution. There is no such thing as high treason against traitors ..."

Politics is an international bogus game. Most ministers in cabinets continuously ignore nobility and nationalism, but they do manage to blame the apartheid or colonisation for current problems. Those with Atychiphobia play a vital role in corruption. They fear to lose power over to others as well. African leaders mostly are failing to address the issue of corruption in their countries, and yet seeking solutions from former colonizers. Accountability and responsibilities is a way forward.

False Decolonisation

The party that ruled over people during the old eras extended its roots into the new era, leaving those who came before to their respective historical moments. This has determined quite an extremist revolution. Many activities have occurred up to this stage and that people are starting to testify the negative energy that is within our boundaries on a limited scale. All these parties have an old system that has to be investigated for its immoral, and eradicating all its iniquities. Most are not aware that the unity of a country cannot only depend on a dialogue; political leaders cannot only set aside their personal views and judgements towards each other, although there is often an element of duplicity. As brothers come to terms, it increases both wealth and political interests above a country's boundaries.

Jealous deludes

Since, while the government is serving as a cabinet, instead of discussing the future, they vaporize each other's ideas. Within the context of radical politics, especially those centered on nationalist are the 'older' generation coming to us with a piece of heavy baggage, ranging from colorism, ethnocentrism, and misogyny.

A philosophy is an idea that has to pass away allowing evolution and a revolution to occur. The majority of questions that are not answered in due time can intensify and force two revolutions at once. We have one idle treasure and that is unity. Since most of the African countries are poor and hungry, it will be up to them to interchange their several languages and cultures. If all these are combined into one, then we receive and give out more information. The stumbling block in these cases is that; people fear a massive change. Change is very difficult.

The highest rate of poverty is amongst the most corrupt governments. Numerous deals made with African countries are increasing poverty for future generations. When the entire country's status is measured by one powerful party and its leader, then we should consider this as autocratic. Most public figures that fight against regimes, often suffer from prolonged painful torturing.

We all seem to incline to let one man die for our freedom. The time is now for Africans to open borders to increase their international growth, hatred for the African Caucasian is a political propaganda and a very gigantic stumbling block.

Days of wars are characterized by blood.

what about days of peace?

Identity Politics

Our supported parties bring in one story; and this is a behaviour familiar among African politicians and the Middle East, with such terror from extremist groups that are boundless and uncompromising, disregarding human life. People that were determined with Marxist ideologies changed their communist ideologies, and only after the party receives enlightenment to rule, the cabinet switches sides when fortune mounts up.

We have to harmonize each other into accepting that change in the continent is possible if we learn to work as one, not separated. When minerals are looted, the cost is paid through public taxation and suffering. Most people hold a right to the so-called "land", yet again, it is dazzling that people seem like they are not interested about the next fifty years to come after a simple investment.

"Rape of the earth", it is about how boundaries are plundered. People move away from all these lands allowing an investor through a party to benefit from poor mentality leadership. We are in a system that only depends on its survival, the integration is amongst the civilians, and the governances amongst the powerful. It is much more of a terror for those that work for a greedy man. It is imperative for most of us, in the new world when respect is money.

Fear of Change

A way for people to survive in countries with a poor economy or poor education is through self-reliance, and contributing towards building a society that is fair in general. Capitalism, if mismanaged, its leads to corruption and to an imbalanced economy. It should be known that to get the idea out and making it a living object depends on persistence, not fear.

Success always seems as if it is individualized but for relevance and honest opinions, children can alter the reality of their parents. We have several examples of the ruling parties in the world as a whole under the leadership of young people. If the party's act relies on its leader's feelings companies will not grow. And to accumulate yields of profit is not similar for a government to massacre innocent people to protect power.

A Dangerous Future

When all governments come to an alliance of power, they are legitimate in handling power from one point of the earth to the other, but only evil men are in those positions of power, this a devil's world. And they are several cases involving abuse of innocent people, and those that kill them for power.

This system was embossed by the most powerful of men, not to better the world, but rather to control it.

Some people have an overt self-interest, making any claim to prioritizing economic stability farcical. When we are tormented to the last point of pain, we accept death without hope.

Future in your Hands

Our judgements contribute to our decisions. Citizens involved with corrupt businesses will mess up the entire country for seamy profit reasons. We should allow ourselves to stay focused on our businesses and finding an alternative to the education that is upon us. We are able to build food security by prioritizing the common vision. The freedom has to circulate into every head, however, this solution will never eradicate the problems humans face. There is a need for peace in the world, but it a myth to a human heart. If the parties are treating people with contempt, then the power is in the hands of maniacs.

We have to decide today to be a better people for today and tomorrow's sake, and all the pain and hurt in the world is an act of our hearts. In that, we have the benefit to act upon something that will bring out the greener side of our lives. If we have the opportunity to increase the value of our lives as people, we should use that opportunity wisely.

The focus is to build and supply each other with products to grow the economy. Division does not alarm people to invest their income in fuel companies, gas companies, and mining companies.

Fool Me Twice

People will continue to vote, and poverty in the land is someone's jotted success. We are mostly searching for love in the wrong places, ideas are important in our lives, and we should be willing to change if needed to be. Our human efforts support tools from an old system in the new world order.

The speech that we usually receive from political parties before an election is contradicting to the behavior of political parties after the elections. The majority of people are like a flock of sheep that choose a wolf to be their worthless shepherd. When that wolf is hungry, it consumes one sheep at once.

Mostly African political parties have lost the need for justices and free economic systems as they once anticipated doing. Therefore, with an example of President Museveni, the attention should not be set on him to decline, because in his full strength, he cannot step down until some people challenge him to his full capability. We remain reluctant to move forward towards challenges as these.

Still Colonised

Many Africans governments have an old wave of leaders that has to be replaced with a new wave of young leaders that believes the system can to be modernized. Due to modern changes, people tend to have a different point of views on culture and traditions, these two interfere with a vision to work towards a successful society. Older leaders have enemies and these enemies pay no attention to other activities besides planning wars and battles. Their innovation and experience are different from those that were born after apartheid.

Most of us we are no longer standing our grounds to defend our liberty or beliefs, we have become more agreeable to anything, and we all seem to have curved eyes on the price. The people at heart notion gives more power to the leader and that makes more sense to our productivity. The philosophy that is behind the modern political parties causes many economies to oppress the population using both directly and indirectly ways.

Following the Crowd

They vote for policies that are mostly impossible to practice. When people are hungry and in poverty, they support anything that looks like change, in this way, some cruel party leaders take advantages of this desperation in people and use it for their agendas.

Without enough knowledge, most people will jump the moment party leaders' calls out for help. Even if they are wrong, people are blinded by the need for change while supporting lunatics without knowledge of the consequences.

This is considered as a unity, but at some point lust of power leads to mischievousness. In this manner, some have also failed to differentiate the truth against lies. It is during that time when the truth is compromised. We all get caught up with our political dilemmas that are not even valuable. And not everyone should indeed be involved in the governing system, besides those that are well educated to understand the truth behind a crooked smile. As people we hate the truth and we are willing to destroy it at any given chance.

Besides that, the illusion must be put behind us and allow people to be at their best production without interfering. This is where people can participate with a free understanding of both literal and illiteral documentation of the constitution. Also, politics is not introduced well to people at times; mostly it is the impact of politicians that brings unity or division in our communities. Yet, some political parties have failed enormously to attain power directly from strong ruling party, and they have to drag everyone into their conflicts, the ruling government views this as an act of war, and use the army to their advantage in the situations.

Educated But Not Learning

We have witnessed the death of innocent people that had nothing to do with politics, and they were found in front lines with bullets. We cannot have political parties with intentions to prove a vivid point to attain justice through the blood of innocent civilians. And it is a skill for powerful thirst parties to seek to overrule using young militant youth eager to make history.

Since, we have failed many times to bring the actual truth into existence, then we must not relate to our past too much. Another wise man said that if people are not well aware of their history, they are deemed to repeat it. For the fact that Africa history is distorted, politicians are still in their early stages of behavior and ethics. We have a debt with our history and with the focus that the parties have in land expropriation without compensation, it is generations of wealth wiped out with a simple policy.

This happens when the parties pass legislation that only benefits certain kind of people. When the oppression regimes were still active, they had an assumption that the future would be certain to favor their people's mistakes. However, history records misinterpretation just to misinform people and downgrade common knowledge.

Governance without the people at heart

People get tired of lies and filthiness of corruption in a governing system and this usually happens when the current ruling party favors some people at the expense of others. This contributes to the division of leaders around the world. African politicians in the 19th century were under the impression that the oppressive system hated indigenous people, the motivation was based on justice, these eras produced many political parties that were motivated by results. However, the vision has changed with times. We are battling for economic freedom for everyone, by this, most people are unable to teach about investing their lives in particular work, having more than ninety percent of the population earning minimum wages.

Disorder, And Too Many Parties

Parties are failing to replace the brutality of the old system with a new formal and safe quality system that helps people. The messiah mentality supports anything that typically allows the old order to pass away and closes a way for people to play a vital role in the new dispensation, and history has consecrated it with sympathy. These parties always forget at some point that they are not voted into power because of their history in struggles, but to solve current problems. Usually, a ruling party that loves power and money ignores the vision of the country.

This has surpassed freedom in these countries, politicians are in power and they can do whatever they wish to as long as their businesses are using public resources for personal gain. It is usually that they all come from the same poor background. They never had mentors or family members like brothers or grandfathers that were engaged in politics before them.

It is a matter of asking the right question to the right people. People with selfish motives can easily breach your boundary, and it separates order and increase chaos.

More than thirty-nine years of independence AU has failed to crack the ground to urbanization. Even Zimbabwe has regressed dramatically, and political instabilities hinders people's development, and this government could be compared to the apartheid government but this time under indigenous leadership.

Radical Communism

People are very good when it comes to complaining about today's governing system. Denying to unite the continent into an economic state allows other continents to continuously exploit people and resources in the continent of Africa. The enemy is poverty, not people. We do not participate in solutions, but debate without agreements. If ideas are not speculated enough, branded food and clothes are just a foreign investor's way of telling you that something is wrong.

The most commonly used system in the world is that of trading. Trading systems in Africa have to increase in the number of decades to come; trading qualifies when resources are available. The possible way to have a powerful United States is to trade and change people's norms.

People involved in changing the economy of a country as a whole spend more money than they make, instead of building lives. We take it upon ourselves to discover and enforce the very improvements we wish to see in others, security is a second care. The first care is human life, regardless of one's background. Most African governments are more concerned with securities, while citizens are starving.

Progress, And Energy

Nuclear operations are increasing from the four corners of the world, and yet we are still on the drawing board making decisions.

To keep the sectors in peace, the political agreement in every state is doubtfully strong given different answers from political activists. This decision should be for the greater good, three hundred years from today we will be forced to a commitment and a devotion towards a togetherness of every nationality. A United States will be flexible to modern ideas of survival and co-existing of people.

It is exceedingly unrealistic up until everything is done. We first measure the land to know how much seeds are required.

We are grateful enough to recognise misinformation and the noise of all the distraction tactics that reduce progress.

> Who possesses and models a deeper commitment to an activist dynamism that is continuously emerging?

Whilst unaware of our clumsy behavior, the billions invested in countries are turning sour because of the new colonization's characteristics, and the misuse of powerful resources. Looting is generally a term to keep dogs from barking when their portion is shared among greedy people.

The parties still battle in blood, yet we talk about modern freedom. It is a dual call; people are not willing to walk away from their platters of gold. Shaking hands on a deal that has nothing on the table is like looking for an investor whose investment is only to destroy.

A country is failing to fertilize its land due to trade sanctions and instabilities towards politics, it is only those that are pitiless survives the grounds of the ungodly.

A Long Journey

A single-step of victory could drive fifty-five leaders with a common goal to exceedingly achieve greatness, and changing their stereotype thought in a modern myth about the African leaders' way of thinking. Psychology of selfish thinking motivates and intrude our capacity to lead each other. Most individuals are never ready to step out of the box from the ordinary, it is the same with economics when the rulers are misinformed and their lack of composure during an argument, this logic of things will not save time slipping away on what could be achieved for the next generation. Three hundred to one thousand years from today involves different systems from different superpowers.

Many people are biased with the way of living into today's world because of media's most influential companies; in this case, the mentality is to think that money is security. Money does not protect earth inheritors from an asteroid, information and public wealth is another way for someone to make an extravagant living.

African politicians celebrate power and looting in the name of revenging the old systems. Society as a whole has different issues, some of these issues contradict the drafted constitutions.

> Are we more interested in the prerequisite of office than institutions, which can withstand the vicissitudes of circumstances?

Parties are surviving because of corrupt money, and fear intoxicated in people enables them to change the constitution to achieve their motives that only feed their needs. Several leaders in African play around with a constitution, and the reason why Zimbabwe is deep in a mess is because the leading party is not addressing the constitution properly.

Mandela's way is Mandela's way

Nelson Mandela served years in prison for an ideology and to him that was good leadership, yet he blamelessly did compromise the constitution that left some problems in South Africa even after his death. So the biggest institutions are much likely to hold order and protect citizens. Especially when they are non-profit institutes.

It is unlikely that a federal system working under mandatory regulations might as well compromise its morality to save a ruthless leader. A state's enemy is subdued to bow down and surrender, but in most cases, they usually die protecting their highest arrogance. A system where people cannot be protected by a state over high political conflicts in parties is deemed to fail. A good example is Libya. Libya had already suffered sanctions and it became a failed state.

Moreover, there is a time to hand down the state to other successors. If not the results are horrible, should the fault belong to the president? Unfortunately, many end up with scars and pain of poverty, superpowers are in-charge of this world. When major issues are coming from parties, that power is drawn by charismatic people seeking attention for their intentions that are neither driven by power to help nor to solve problems.

Forgetting Ebola

People usually avoid topics about poverty, especially when we ought to think that poverty is natural, and other major issues like cholera and Ebola. After just a few years, people have already turned away from the fact that Ebola is only in quarantine, the original problem is still out there.

The Power of Vision

A powerful mind can succeed, even if it is not well organized. The life of a continent with the richest minerals lies in the hands of those that uphold the office with proper respect and care. The difference between a non-superpower and superpower is clear, Africa is not a superpower, and the vision towards this remain delusional.

As long as we are not yet a superpower called Africa, we will always remain in vassalage.

The goal is not to overthrow superpowers and creating enemies. We have everything in the land of Africa, there is a high possibility of converting energy and saving more Africans living without electricity power. A poor parliament seeks local power and ignores world balance.

Politicians manipulate the sentiments and grievances of the ignorant majority. It is highly important for most of the things to be kept in balance, together and in secret, with several questions asked by public involving politics in the country without any leads to arrest, an old colonial system is absorbed within the roots of the modern system.

It is the same root of evil. A mother of two is so much pleased in protesting instead of going with her children to the park for ice cream.

Useless Retaliation

It is clear that blood is thicker than water, a little murder is a murder. Protesting for results through bloodshed is a double-edged knife. A system that people are constantly fighting can never be eradicated because it evolves under pressure. Poor women and men march to change the system or rather to make the system understand, of which, the system cannot change or understand. It is painful that elderly man awaits to vote for a new leader.

Nevertheless, it is an issue of building up enough boundaries to understand that the elderly man in the line should be able to relate. It will take a little while but we cannot carry on with this system, if we do not sit down and discuss our constitutions, it will never disapprove a president from harming a single citizen, and still be regarded as a worthy shepherd.

Earthly Peace

One thing that most people failed to interpret is the necessity that division among the party leaders directly affects citizens. Indefinitely, there is a high solution to all these various problems. Africa should start building everything using indigenous capital. A revelation of a paper can, however, alter the truth of the very same old dog that made peace with people's blood. As a whole, this is what it means to contribute to a better future focusing on the whole.

> We spend most of the time planning and exploring those things we want. In most cases, many families are broken right from the ground; - pursuing an "undemocratic thuggery" life. The push to make lives better is to increase the value of those from the streets. Most broken homes are much under pressure to perform. This is where behavior is modernized and the peer pressures are seamlessly impossible to deny and we only have to consider those things that matter most, loving one another as brother and sisters.

Our time for peace is against political deceit and lying. We can make success out of our own common work towards good. It doesn't benefit everyone if Africa cannot undo the colonization system; it might as well remain a dominant continent without progress. It has more problems than solutions. People think differently and those opinions should be valuated. Indeed, a single man in charge of a parliament seat cannot lead all.

We spend time analyzing a shared philosophy and a voice. Written thoughts or thinkers are particularly health to a country's knowledge. Valuating every piece of information challenges modern African systems, regarding it as a direct investment into a future civilization. The current sole purpose of African is gathering information to enable it to grow. And it can be reserved in a public house under local investors.

Building a safe zone for children of all colors facilitates a new growing conscious in people into the modern way of life. Relinquishing powers into people's hands can give a high moral standard to each man and woman's principles. True determination and opportunities are of our creation.

Before Decisions

We have an open opinion about what is happening in the world, if we chose sides amongst the best, it becomes a bitter situation when a person chooses prostitution over a secured job. The truth deepens even on emotions, we all have something in common, and it brings peace and people together.

Africans have survived for thousands of years, and that can only signify the strength of people in the continent bears. The highest concern of the entire world is to know a people's values and beliefs, and Africans have shared these values and beliefs from the Egyptian, Ethiopia, Libya, East African Empires, and South African empires, this knowledge was shared at its best, of which most people are still fascinated with the missing part of the history of the African civilizations besides the norms. People are certainly appreciated after they compromise or settle for peace under an oppressive treat.

Parties select people with enough charisma to pull crowds in, we are separated into misinformed militias from young people to elderly people. We are trapped in a political world full of noisy and frantic. We watch wars televised and media overwriting information when people are not willing to cross-examine information. The existence of a philosophy and of the entire congress has to be based on change.

Collective Insanity

Broken promises lead people to seek an alternative. Every small idea can only amount into a great idea through action. Nonetheless, we have to increase the knowledge with a wonderful milestone, with this target, shadow hunting is like a game for scavengers in the mountains. We cannot seize information and hide it.

A wealth house sometimes tells the most depression of all stories. Sacrifice is not a substitute for obedience, but rather an alternative.

The freedom of living is like an appetite for food, the greatest challenge we face is ourselves. An appetite for power does not differ from one point to another, because victims of lust do not evaluate change.

It is the impact human beings have, because of that little knowledge we are separated from God. Division among the people helps the ruler to strategical plan two political parties that arise just to make debates sitting in the parliament. A dispensation for a few elites submerges the entire distribution of profits among everybody. Crime is not dealt with, we all want to be free but theft comes from this world.

We are set in a system that has modern-day slavery, and most people recognize it. The drug distribution and trafficking happens when developed countries are out of control. A capital increase in developed countries usually leads to controversial decisions.

A Simple Principle

When people have a common goal, it is unluckily that they fold hands, and expect events to unfold while learning other ways to make a living.

All corrupt people have a higher chance to again receive votes at any given time, and the principled won't.

The problem is we know something about this corruption but we fear to speak out against these ruling parties, this has been an African culture for the past century, a common saying, "snitches get stitches" is real. To have equality, we should stand up with those that speak out.

Political Success is Not Capital Success

Most Zimbabweans are under the influence that ZANU-PF fought against the Caucasian supremacy in Rhodesia, but this is misinformation and wrong education because the people that fought the supremacy and won were courageous citizens of Zimbabwe.

ZANU-PF has violated several human rights, which has led to ZIDERA sanctions leaving the country scrambling.

The economic downturn also saw the introduction of money-making activities which had little respect for education, hard work or good work ethic that was traditionally known in Zimbabwe. This caused a loss of respect for teachers. Although another's support for the party remains profound. It is an absurd emotional rollercoaster.

Changing the Perception

It is a journey for human social challenges measured differently. The purpose of entertainment is to entertain than to educate. Grandmothers raised others when their fathers were in another land claiming freedom. Transformation of our society is a way for a big family to earn high gross, this relates to the reduction of all food costs, which creates lower values on all products.

A single error can cause a misdirection or misconception of an idea. People are continuously embarrassed in a push and go society, which is drastically changing at every turn.

We were at despair, but soon as the nations regain single power, businesses express their knowledge to fortunate people that do not rely on set rules. It is a great challenge of thoughts along the road, a set wheelbarrow remains idle until a push effort. You do not make wealth by throwing it away.

Comes a catastrophic roaming around the streets with a group of people singing and dancing. Then, along the lines, we still judge a beautiful yellow rose's appearance. Thorns are always thrown away from a place of business. A rose would not be as lovely as feathers of black and white if it was not for the thorns. As a real-time player would say, the victory of a player is hope.

We target the wrong side of our systems ignoring a path that gets to determine the future when we fight for a boom of success throughout the whole continent, we stay close and mixed with other families and as a nation, days of hope could be discussed. The first direction is to acquire information for everyone, and treat it as a common ground. Governments keep on acquiring information at repeated times, and it only makes a few wealth.

Fighting against each other is tearing down a curtain covering us, and drafted plans gives us a sense of direction, either we play games with each other in a political arena or we sit down and start discussing survival.

A Common background

Think of two students in a classroom, they both have the ambition to achieve something bigger compared to other classmates. Single mothers, in both cases, raised them both, these boys lost their fathers in their early years. Both grew up in any environment that groups people into classes. Through everything, one loses a mother. She collapsed during a heart attack. These two were not just students they were brothers.

In terms of school work and average pass rate, the other student passed with distinction in all subjects, whilst the other student performed averagely. They had talents in the creativity of crafts and music. These talents would soon fade away just after high school. The first student had deceased parents and the second student's father died twelve years back, his single mother works in another country. As adults, their achievements in life differed. A child without parents struggles to make it in life, so this is the purpose of a community wealth as a whole.

Parental guidance is a key necessary to strengthen house education, which facilitates conversations about motivation, purpose and a vision.

It is also enough to understand the reasons behind modern families.

From consuming an American culture young people's minds are driven by the motivation to make millions. The very same group discriminates and point fingers at certain individuals that shouldn't be rich. This is what politics has done to Africa. There are two main parties in the country well-positioned to fight for local power.

Case a) Congo Under King Leopold ll...>100 years ago

Case b) Zimbabwe After Independence...<01082018

Chapter 4

SANCTION AND SOCIAL SYSTEMS

In a biblical way; Revelation 13:16-17

> He causes all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and slave, to receive a mark on their right hand or on their foreheads, and that no-one may buy or sell except one who has the mark or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

In today's political world, which has more than a higher percentage of people working towards their dreams. The interpretation of the truth is explained differently, it is confusing how people usually misinterpret change, the most difficult idea is to plan a way that people should live in and that seems democratic, communistic, socialistic and capitalistic. They are all systems working well for other people than others, but in each of these systems, one person will always oppress another. Mostly in each part of the world, people are separated by a system in control, politically and religiously.

The only way people have successfully remained separated is through these systems in power. In numbers, black people have symbolized long marches, from labor unions to politics. This kind of influence it gives is not much the same when these unions are facing a dictatorial government. For Martin Luther King Jr, the lives of black Americans remained difficult, and yet, they continuously celebrated his deeds. A plain example is that of Nelson Mandela whose freedom came at a cost for generations of South Africans to come.

Some people are willing to die for these systems in governments. Each system is well funded and supported by the foundations of the army and political power and money.

A Reality of the Scriptures

This is a way for people to understand that scriptures have a way to the truth, countries that disagree with a superpower face economic problems. At some point, the rule of sanctions upon individuals in power affects the poorest. On the same basis, the practice of power is laid upon the few, the decision of making bold moves in the continent will continuously stop thieves from harvesting public investments with a shovel. Furthermore, nearly all people agree with these rules of law that increases human rights abuse. A human being has the inherent right to life. Law shall protect this right. No one shall be arbitrarily deprived of his life.

Neutralization

When the world fails to destroy a leader from inside the country, it seeks other ways to attack it from the outside. A general syndrome that people pass on and practice within is envy; the level of morality is compared to the culture of a people. The only society for us is the only one built by us.

When building a neutral society some ignore to build their dreams. Money grants access to goods and services, but not life. Debt means that we should pay for goods and services for which the supplier never received payment. This is what sanctions are meant to do, to enslave a nation into debt until it denounces its resources to another nation, for example, a power company.

Life Matters

We have Chicago in the United States of America, and we have Harare in Zimbabwe. Chicago is considered a ''murder capital''. Politically, these two countries have different systems and opinions about life, when six people were shot in a protest in Zimbabwe just after elections, the same sanctions that led to the fall of the Zimbabwean economy, the bill extended the sanctions imposed on Zimbabwe back in 2001 and remain active to this day.

In Chicago, which is a city in the United States of America has reported more than five hundred and fifty-five gun-related murders in 2018. We are educated to protest-against the sanctions, and the confidence in the country cannot survive this monopolistic oppressive capitalistic and communistic power, which was introduced through Protestants and Catholics. African religious imbalances affect the economy and review clear flaws from leaders. People are suffering and in pain, anger usually overwhelms people pointing fingers at each other without solutions. There are more shootings in Chicago like other countries at war, yet Zimbabwe as a country is banned from participating in the world trade forums over human rights violations.

The African Struggle

These sanctions are a political venom, but they are policies emerging from bad politics, if the rule of law is pointed out in certain areas, for a certain people, we serve men with evil motives. Millions of children in Congo are raised away from their fathers. And are either dead or in South Africa working hard to provide.

Unity is the only way for most Africans to realize all kinds of trade as businesses. The stipulation of sanctions recognizes a partial economic country thriving to survive. The entire nation cannot be punished to prove a point. A person deemed to fail chose foolishness over wisdom. The need for Africans to prioritize structuring and security allows more teamwork. People are characterized by a different phenomenal, human nature can progressively be entertained by wars.

The struggle to co-exist in this world for Africans has been rejected, yet again in a different way but the same strategy. People ought to be fooled, according to people ruling this world. There are many ways to kill a cat, but the results are very important. There are kingdoms in the world, the focus is not on the leadership, anyone can become a leader, the question begins with legitimate. People change and crucify leaders one after another.

Promoting Evil

The negative world has exceedingly poured out media into the world, we avoid understanding a situation as if television has more reality. The level of people seeking employment and working at a tenure has increased. We are in a world without rules, this place has more wickedness than unnecessary and we are forced to abide with that. After searching for the truth, we discover ideas and hidden passions. The situation of racism is extreme, and religion welfares are potentially worse.

We are always dealing with a ruthless leader with intentions of ever-increasing profits. People are indoctrinated through listening to people promoting propaganda, people of Africa and other parts of the world are in wars over resources within their grounds.

These other superpowers found it perfectly good to throw innocent lives into an ocean. If people mention about this, there are backlashed, and it appears much more as pain to discuss it openly. Forty years ago, colonization rule ended with new colonization taking over. Indigenous Africans have much to learn about the history of African from the previous century.

A major issue between the press and the people is increasingly dominating and creating indoctrinated people, which is the most dangerous warfare. Supposedly, we all speak about all the negativity received from the news, but people remain ignorant. We are condemned to speak lies because we are raised in lies. Unsuccessfully, people can settle for anything less than what could be achieved.

Potential Energy

Africa has enough resources and propositions to make huge contributions towards other nations, only that we are small and divided countries in a very huge continent and that hinders growth and freedom. A single African economy brings in financial stability in every house in Africa. Occupations of general jobs should be for students studying towards their professions.

Contemplating the center of attention in every story represents a vision and a direction. We have different and negative behavior or character towards general confidence. Skills are set to defend a mindset and training it to pull a trigger. Freedom begins in the mind.

When we are in a hostile situation as human beings, we are suddenly revoked. It is mind-blowing that we partake a certain journey as a people, which is different from the past. Trust is earned and built on respect, and it is passed on to other people. A government entrusted with power bears bad fruits or good fruits, results are clear. Mindless of occasions, people submit to power in a struggle for an opportunity.

Two students suppose are found in a city under the influence of drugs. The act of hustling is to improve their lives; such is for young people passionate enough to bring the African continent together. On the other hand, life gets hard when we are not prepared. The reality of the truth provokes people, and hurts them.

Robert Gabriel Mugabe was not wrong that Africans were completely entitled to the land, but the question is who is not African? And because of our failure to understand world politics, Ian Smith was portrayed demonic, and the truth about Rhodesia and Zimbabwe remained surpassed to allow Mugabe's continuous reign. Only when one person understands the loophole and stops it, corruption is a never-ending game when people hide it.

Policies and Power

The level of crime rate is something that people of a younger age will not discuss properly. With a very small percentage of understanding ourselves, the earth offers hope to every life born into the world. However, the people agreed to a freedom charter only to starve at a later stage. The amount of oil to be mined in Africa carries the weight of the continent's energy problems.

A quality life is a product of power to unite and work towards a common goal, and racism is part of our blindness. The world of today creates problems and offers a solution at a very high cost.

Limitations and Capabilities

In today's world, society or the school system is usually committed to certain disciplines. The system was brought about to have more general workers. We persist to participate as human beings and as law decision-makers. The international court of law demands justice at the risk of poor people in the countries without power.

The demand to salute an opportunist underwhelms children to poverty. Corrupt political ideologies in power cannot profit an economy. The larger the economy, the greater the ego to protect it. We are partially solicited around envy, the agony of rulers of this world is set as an obstacle for progress.

The truth about the old leaders' phenomena to power exceeds their strength to rule in a modern world. Despite racism's rhetorical history, racism is a manifestation of fear, out of propaganda, a manoeuvre that vividly consume people into comparison, and yet God created all people equal. The possible way around this idea is to keep on moving around the world searching for understanding and cultures of different people. A crooked smile pretends somehow that people are peaceful and idealist.

The common act

The have-nots appreciate nothing and idolize the haves. It has always been, and the truth is always clear. We can eradicate or push any end to racism, although scars will remain. Without our usual common sense, we can be defined as animals. The greater the percentage of power in the hands of people, the greater the masses are controlled, wisdom remains a challenge. Practically, some people in power will not step down unforcefully, but we can work around our way towards unity and collaboration.

The history of King Leopold II, Joseph Stalin, and Adolf Hitler's deeds will not change, but the world moved forward.

A human right is to live on earth and this should be granted for everyone. World peace is a lie, condemning small powers into sanctions is not acceptable. The rule of law on earth should overcome the rule of politics; it has oppressed people and forcing the rest of the world to look away because of fast businesses. These laws are set to protect certain people. Foremost, underestimation is foolishness, for several people losing is their greatest pride.

No Change

Nonetheless, as a human being, or someone living on earth in pain over hardships of life, governments must alert people in schools that a job is not the way forward, because in this a government is expected to perform better. The world governing laws hinders the true value of people by protecting the haves with quality and the have-nots with quantity. It tears apart the chances of again another great civilization. The world has failed to unite out of political differences, in this mess; money finds a way to boost economies especially in a country with a huge population.

The judgement against African countries or the continent, reasonably, some do not understand, so they misinterpret between the lines, terribly, fourteen million people cannot achieve the best for their continent when the international committee bans them from trading.

Chinese have made a great economic impact on the face of the earth because they work in numbers and under a very strict Communism-Capitalist parties. Africa is a large continent with few people managing it. The knowledge that Africans have is mixed and enough to supply raw materials in the world of traders, building and enabling well-functioning security systems. By availing this to the citizens of the continent at all levels, the competition in the continent will increase and reduce the monopoly of products.

Luke -12-48-

We have heard about a mixture of politics and the truth, to separate these two, the use of violence is unavoidable from the politicians, and teaching peace is different from applying peace.

The creature found in a political game is fear of death. Believe that God allows some people to be leaders, even those wicked at heart. We are always found in deep pits after we have dug them. People without integrity to protect are entitled to create a solid heap of wealth from theft.

> ... For everyone to whom much is given, from him will be required; and to whom much has been committed, of him, they will ask the more. Luke -12-48-

African leaders are in positions that only consumes the lives of citizens, of which, some of these acts have future consequences on people. The goal to lead people out of poverty is not always a reality.

Moreover, nearly all people in this world are attached to the material life of this world. The competition to prosper is somehow an enemy of humanity. Until, we learn to love each other, only then, we will learn to embrace each other in times of sorrow.

Equal opportunities allow people to live and work for their lives.

Absence of Wisdom

We physically reap apart our health for chicken feed. Even if hard work is a solution towards an achievement, but without work an achievement is a myth.

A fool overtakes a blind man when it comes to many fallen pits. Human beings are commanded to work in order to eat. A demonic nature found in the world hinders the spiritual growth of human beings.

And we have a syndrome of turning against each other, this is not just for Africans, but this is for the entire world to understand. The peace of this world is temporary, as soon as the world's economy drops, a new war erupts and diseases vapors life out of children. A king who does not focus on development destroys the seeds. For the present, few people cheer for peace, but the impatient nature of human hearts creates problems.

A wise person once mentioned that the only way a street could be clean is through the participation of the inhabitants, if one of these inhabitants participate in cleaning their yards first, then the street will remain clean and clear. Moreover, the least that people can do is working towards a peaceful environment, which has different colors but one people.

People that spend time in search of life are then trapped in their well-being, in this life, we are lost in the pursuit of great living. The present time matters in all the centuries of past, present, and future, the question of morals in human beings has never been answered.

The betrayal of glory

We have seen better in life, that glory among men is nothing but a bed of snakes. The common way of thoughts generalize everything, children of today are familiarizing themselves with the life of today, which does not require effort towards one's morality.

It is in the interest of other people, of which we choose to live either proper or improper, with so much focus on problems.

However, mostly segregating countries reduces human development. A future for poor people living presently can be a dilemma for their children in years to come.

It is important to understand

People come to Africa for tourism and few remain behind to build a home. A critique look at the role education plays would leave one convinced that the colonial education system was designed for Africans to serve, as they were never exposed to innovation.

Good people in this world want peace, love, food, shelter, family, and clothing. We can be convinced that disasters around the world have increased, from earthquakes to terrorism. Africa uniting into a single economy could turn out as a helping hand around the world. People that are trapped in war-environments could be brought to Africa in an effort for them to receive proper health care.

This is possible in due time, especially with every African home receiving monthly earnings, and above all, people can live and focus on their redemption, it is important to understand the need for spirituality in our daily lives.

Equity over equality

If Africa is not perceived as equal to the rest of the world, it hinders the movement to end poverty in the world. People do not want to travel in different directions away from their families. When people are brutally dismissed and ill-treated, they are forced to retaliate. The competition around information insists that power creation is through collaboration.

All people are moving into a society that has no scars of wars, but this is not a solution for a very long time. Humans have learned to travel from earth to another space planet, through all ages, we have been seeking for a solution to eternal life. And the fear of death has carried us to find solutions of eternal life.

The human philosophical ideologies are almost blinded and an insult to our own very nature. We have internally organized a well functioning system, which by the way, it is for a profit. The nature of hunting is one-sided, animals have to flee from hunters, in business nine to fifteen hours is hard-working, but all this for what, it is unhealthy. The result of changing the world has separated the common thinkers from critical thinkers, consistently regarding this nature as ambitious.

We ought to make peace with ourselves, and yet, falling into pieces with others. The current system represents a very ancient way of a caste living.

Simply when a constitution does something like this, people do not take charge, in that matter, the question of idolizing people in different parts of life cannot take us further forward as individuals. Africans uniting into an economic state is an attempt to change the circumstance of power distribution. A situation to critically think through will not leave us behind, advocating each critical opinion lays a very wide picture and the very foundation of information.

Mistakes of Old

If we correctly understand that in life, we are living for debts to prosper and to suffer, we will even understand that religion is a controlling factor in our lives.

People were redeemed from destroying themselves each other several times, but hearts are full of anger and murder. Cannibalism is one of those behaviors wiped off in the history books. Something that seems to be making sense today might as well be viewed as a mental disorder in centuries to come. Money is above everything to this world, and as people, we have killed and destroyed over it.

Nature is failing to its core, and although we are restructuring our societies, tomorrow is promised to no man. However, people are not alike including their spiritual level. This does not determine who is worth more, although, people with the Holy Spirit can achieve anything when they put their faith, hearts, and minds to test.

Biased and Dangerous

Some are spending billions of dollars on scientific research. In search of light, we have seen enough to know misconceptions convincing the world that the art of life is business. We consume each other in different ways that the life of a slave depends on the slave master's behavior.

When a nation does survive sanctions, or they are hardly felt, they are obligated to correct their mistakes. The Christian faith was born in war and through war. All results of regrets are negative, as a pressure point for others, we speak for ourselves than we do for others.

A Good Spirit

Many people know the movie of the three hundred soldiers during the time of Xerxes. And also the time of Gideon witnessed men willing to fight wholeheartedly and courageous in the face of fear. This is sharing the same spirit. To conquer something in this world such as economic sanctions and ill-treatment requires unity, using force against a bigger force is exactly fighting a war to just lose it. The crooks of such empires exist amongst us. We shouldn't praise each other so much than we do to God.

The command of death is upon man, whose command to kill is institutionalized one-way or the other. Understanding the past for the future is sometimes indoctrinated incorrect, close to what might be concisely useless information. We are living in the amidst of our own mistakes. We gave birth to all the pain that we suffer today. If people change and understand the need for change, then we have a bigger chance of growing.

We are encouraged to compete everyday, mostly, coming up from nothing cause families to break apart during the process. A nightmare that disfigures African families. The development of African ties is a commitment to God and the people in Africa. In this way, both spiritual leaders and political leaders can work together in the same spirit and end suffering, since they all represent the ideology about unity.

A Simple lie

The peace that we can have in this world is false, the focus on solving the problems in the world requires a very dedicated and delicate group of people. People are closeted because of color, gender or age, the beauty of a people in groups results from their performance as a group. If the whole group does better performances on stage, then it is awarded as a group. For people to shine as one, they work together to achieve the same goal.

The decisions are usually criticized with theories, a high level of discouragement from a group usually appears in the form jealous. We all die of thirst when we refuse to dig the well of water, whilst others cannot be followed when they resist digging a well.

The spirit leading a group of people should be as one. In every generation of a people, the only human activities that have survived for generations of years is a continuous advancement of individuals with unique critical thinking capacity. And most of this kind of leadership is burden and a forceful nature to the very honor of human existence. We are best at doing godly work because we are godly. Since we are of this nature, we tend to seek worshippers.

Suicides, And not Making sense

Like I have said before that the living matters more than the dead, and if we have to forgive and move forward, then let it be. If we should base every way of doing things as a system, this should be as clear as the moonlight to people. The high-level authority determines the highest level of development. The attention set aside for people that are deceased is so much more than to those that are still alive.

Nonetheless, a venom moves from one part of the body to another, it is a poison that circulates within a short time. In understanding how the world works, it is easy to determine the single most important weapon in the world.

We have created this weapon already, we are doomed into making a single mistake, and women are raped and trafficked everyday, a human mind is the most dangerous weapon the world created.

A New Enemy

The person in control of people usually seeks power to control more areas. A man that sees the truth also testify the truth about his acts. People settle down and surrender to power.

The wonders of this world belong to us, for we live, then those that are not amongst us should never interpret the way of our living into today's world. People should continue with making a big difference from the ways of this world. If the misinterpretation is perceived accurate, we barely process information the same way, we are born different for a reason. Only through the blood, we were made a family. The image of people suffering cannot bring peace, the most unavoidable vivid piece of our life is faith and it yields yards of food out of one seed.

With every moderate step, a person separates a life of peace from a life of discouragement and never-ending work. We might as well put to rest every opinion that basis to divide people. Sometimes, we want to be better, but our salvaged human mind fills pride into our empty souls and lowers the spirit of life. That has led kings of this world into wars, and to be warned by a mad man about coming wars seem hysterical and a starting point for few that understand the Word.

The truth changes a man and gift him with power and the will over his enemies. The first part of taking a chance is to change, with other words, the waters are above to watch out for crabs and the deeper the feet, the further they could ever wander. Love is the only meaningful way for a people to unite, and the so-called help from a foreign empire has hidden motives, some help from these empires is nothing but camouflaged oppression.

Growing up in Iraq

The life of a child in a war-torn country or economy torn country is hard. Therefore, when leaders are wondering about making enemies with large economic countries, the result is a war on the home ground. The economy might as well shake off, but due to the emphasis of people to unite, it turns a nation into a people that can afford an earthly life.

After chains were broken, the struggle of people never stopped, the quote 'Rome was never built in one day' still exist to this day, every great country took its time to build great monuments, and once a country falls back, then people should construct their way out of such situations. People chose a government, then people are entitled to choosing another government when one underperforms.

This does not bring much air to breathe for politicians, they should not even be involved in any sort of tribal decisions, which makes chiefs more important than people, and people are only divided after those decisions. It is through a decision that redemption is granted to a human soul.

Civilization is an Ideology

People could survive wars and injustice as long as they are united in ideology. It also draws a focus on the thorny question of what an alternative political project would mean concretely and how to piece it together. The beginning of life is the birth of a new decision; the past provides lessons and insights into what is possible. And these are constraints that we must confront. Thinkers build empires and they acknowledge change as a way forward.

When one of us cannot afford, it is through our hands that hope is passed on to these people. The way of life is one and the letter of life has few addresses. The most important way for a community to grow is to join hands as a whole. When we gather stones and other weapons to fight for honor, most of the soldiers depart from their wives and children.

Many African countries have broken homes, the judgement and the torment emerge from poverty. We can continue to move forward as we engage ourselves with critical thinking mindsets, openly and honestly, guided by our common aspirations, and genuine love, selflessness, and commitment to good and justice.

Within a period of three decades, a United Africa will have the freedom to learn and explore throughout the whole continent. With learning institutions valued at zero cost, more people are educated without too much propaganda. This power only emerges the effort for people to change the way they live.

Right Direction

Economic freedom varies from business to personal taste. One attempts to be open to change during in a process of reflection, also invariably develops a better understanding and awareness of different positions without necessarily embracing a change in view.

The way for a person to make it in life depends on their work ethic, things that make the very society a good environment. In accomplishing a goal as a people, we might fail due to different obstacles, perhaps more importantly, whilst there is no single way of moving forward, we can at least be guided to some extent, and know where to look for directions.

We have diversive curiosity when we are completely united, in terms of peace and everything, and religion matters in all these places. People with peace do not tremble when an opportunity presents itself.

We have serious political problems and religious problems. Unity is not an idea or a philosophical study, but it is a way to live. A fact is that people always work hard to impress, in desperation most people are beggers of bread.

The value of living peacefully with others remains a piece of light in life. People that value living right spend time making peace. The relationship between human beings is very important.

Chapter 5

BELIEFS

What do we believe in?

A human mind is powerful enough to control capabilities, thoughts, and possibilities with the potential to succeed through actions. But a human heart is weak to fear, politics, money, and religion. The abundance comes after optimism in a pessimistic situation, the greatest challenge in this world is unity, and it dries the food from this world.

The purpose of living is making peace with each other. Making peace with each other is to understand that our freedom was bought with blood and the efforts of other people brought freedom to others, and we barely recognize those before us.

The negative feeling built in us has made life worse for us. Hyperactively speaking, every leader makes a mistake, in the entire world, presumably, to recognize a passion for people, they extremely face and fight the entire world for it. The uniformity of everything is beaconed against the possible truth, we should help each other to change minds. Intellectual approval is the same reason that changing people's way of thinking usually leads to success or death. The use of uniformity was recognized a long time back; do we allow people to be individuals? Universal laws recognize the need for families.

Reality of beliefs

The Zimbabwean paradox of an educated citizenry with a high literacy rate but an inability to tackle development challenges the quality of education and the simple principles on political roots causes for maintaining the status quo. Decentralization of power in Africa destroys the phenomena of dictatorship.

In most of our lives, people are spiritual and financial regressed, it is nearly impossible to challenge a party ruling a country based on patronage and patrimonialism.

The state has declined investment and inadequate financial support, which undermines the quality of confidence in the hands of the citizens.

Thirsty for Peace

The struggle to live in peace controls many people, can it be that people living to satisfy their motives appease only a few families. The first dagger is hatred and it is unchanging night and day. The attention of living creatures relies on the pain of competition. We can continue into understanding that due to different beliefs, we cannot have religious wars amongst ourselves. Some are slaughtered in the name of religion. The journey of life is shared amongst the living, and not for the deceased.

A New Search

A new direction focuses on clearing our minds from wrongdoings. When a person receives power he is a threat to his enemies, mostly, when he speaks against his enemies, it becomes a turning wheel of a political world. The right idea does not cause wars, the right idea does not select the people that are right to serve. It is mostly among the people that understand the wisdom is in them, riches of this world are temporary compared to the riches of a human soul. A single soul is priceless, something that can be identified as the single goal of this world, until we learn of the ways to preserve life, the innocent will continuously suffer.

Marcus Garvey once said we have an existing society that is ready to learn. At times, we are build to support one another; the vision is progress and modernity.

> In another way of life, the preservation of agricultural education implies changes and increasing demand for human resources to provide supportive services (extension, training, and research).

Instead, a starving government seats comfortably at tariffs, these should be the people to provide, however, even if they are to provide, autocratic leadership in this whole world is unacceptable. It is through that corruptions and extortions continuously erupt throughout the land. The most efficient legacy to live on is education, wisdom, and wealth collected by those that are fortunate enough to have all.

Same Pyschology

The same love of money that worries the world also worries even the small and poorer of the world, because political problems are like a syndrome that is usually shared among people of such kind. We face much crisis like earthquakes, which are all-natural, in this way, we further fail to understand and prepare for the next strike. The way our lives functions are either led by a spirit of devotion or understanding.

One man urged me that the easiest way to live a better life is through simple living, and there are advantages to living in this way. The burden to live better consumes most of us at heart, and as individuals, we are never satisfied. The interpretation of an unknown future and a correct passion could fuel a higher level of goals that even if the hour comes, people are usually entitled to change their environment of living. Otherwise, bridges were built for a reason, even in the thought of working on something, working towards a goals is perpetuating the right way of living.

Food matters in the entire world, there is no place in this world where people are living and food is not a need, they might have excess to buy it, but is everyone possibly earning the same.

Countries like Zimbabwe as a starting ground of sanctions, for some years, the country suffered political corruption and violence, this has affected the struggle to have a purpose for living. It is dangerous to lose a purpose.

Do we have a purpose?

This leads into a common way of functioning for a purpose, the truth is that people with a purpose finds a way to speak the truth that burns within their souls. We make a way to function as a people that entitle us to create the imagination into reality, on earth people have talked about changing the world for thousands of years. When we think about it, what exactly is in the world that needs to be changed? Is it money? It is politics or religion? These three always go along.

People are deep into something they cannot understand, fear is behind everything that condemns people into creating inferiorities on earth, the ruthless, which praise the strongest as a leading society, and others as wild animals hunted as food.

Light in Christ

The freedom to light is grace from Christ and to show the world his glory. In this situation, we must rise like never before as a people of peace, to teach good to others, respect and unity will prevail in our own families. This is a tip, for people disfigured into tribes and such, the beginning of the African journey, and a United States of Africa is not only in glory for people, but for people to learn and understand more about the glory of God on earth, everything is under him, and throughout all our traditions. Understanding a soul comes from the deepest part of that soul. And Souls are meant to live in warmth, comfort, and security.

This is not happening in the entire world and people are divided without the peace from God. The difference in all corresponding religions is time, like time, since the resurrection of Christ and before Jesus Christ; we ought to believe in criticism than our confidence.

> Human philosophical thinking certainly enables people to conquer their daily issues, but Christ's consciousness through the Holy Spirit changes human beings.

A way to life is the one that other people die for, they is no life without death first, if Jesus Christ chose to live, we wouldn't have salvation. Mostly, all the soldiers that went to wars for liberation had friends that never returned. It sounds resentful expressing the way we live even after we thought it was the colonizer's faults, the moment people overcome their boundaries fear is provoked and conquered. Sometimes, it is in our best interest that innovation requires progress. Great is the moment that people get together for information. Although, still most of the countries in the continent are not well functioning due to a higher level of political power abuse and oppression in those countries.

Faith in Business

The faith is that such countries as South Africa should acquire proper political power to make right calls, since, it is well known for liberating people from war-torn countries and economic-torn countries, however in terms of uniting Africa, the influence from these countries that have high levels of wealth is strong. Businesses in South Africa are United States of America, Russia and China-based businesses. This is an ongoing business, and we can study the right plans set in these African companies, it might turn out to be a benefiting point without remorse.

Morality in people

To expose the truth is living in the truth, usually, the truth is proven by words and fulfilled promises. God sends people that can change other people's lives. What is received by us has always belonged to us. Seeking solutions from the devil is self-destructive, and a negative energy to move forward.

> Unity is probably a joint venture; it is good and has happened through the ages.

> Daughters used to have honor because of virginity and being the link to a man's family and her own family. The nature of a woman is a weapon to destroy a society or to build it. Betray, jealous and hatred is part of our human life. People that suffer these things in life understand only what they do not have, which is an identity, a mirror can only transmit your perception of life and hope for the world.

The unforgettable truth is about the amount of blood lost to this world over money, it is unimaginable that as human beings we do not learn. Leaders of the twenty-first century have more history to build, iniquities to destroy, and a negative energy in people to change.

The Power of Liberators

These men and women did not fight for remembrance, but they had no life outside of violence and war, women were raped like animals. Greed is a complicated ally of motivation and a force that has driven creativity, innovation, and discovery, on the other hand, with each unique innovation, there is an unanticipated downside, it is a blessing and a curse.

Discipline of a People

The community with love depends on the amount of time reserved for the community to meet their community demands. People do not spend time camping when they have problems. The main purpose of life in this world of today is teaching. It is the only last guide between the old and the new, which reminds old and new generations about future hope. If weapons are not under the control of the army, then giving children guns is teaching them war.

The life of widows in our societies is not pleasing and it deems to fail children born in these houses. It all contributes to a way that Africa is today and tomorrow.

> There was once an experiment to set up aside a group of people in the same place with conditions of living, some as prison guards and some were prisoners.
>
> The life of a prisoner was based on certain conditions determined by the prison condition.

What is the destination?

With motives to clean up a mess, people are usually caught upon a life that is dirty through and through. Citizens that are seeking a new land are usually hungry and thirsty of life. Several things could change when we focus on our motives to live with each other in peace. The idea of peace is the true value of a people, which could be interpreted as principal.

The purpose of a government is to protect and increase the wealth of people in harmony and peace; this yet requires another prediction that anyone in power is doomed to corruption. And that would be a lie, they are those with a purpose to change something at heart and they use that power to get things done.

Mostly, when a person of such ambition is placed on such a position, failure is in the doubt, the doubt creates hesitance, which exceeds to procrastination.

A man with a weapon controls a village, the village out of fear for a little while they obey without judgement. As time goes on, people evolve or adopt to a way of living in their new societies.

The greatest solution is to seek the right answers, in most cases, the question that people do not ask turns out to be the best questions to ask. In fear of attention, the highest percentage of the people in the world is in fear of taking back their dignity.

Some people build companies just to destroy companies, and they are successful in bringing other people down. The answer is in building lives, not destroying them. People fear to be special, yet they want to be special.

It is a pattern from competitors that they produce a different product with extremely highest mechanisms when they are in the market, they consume other products and the main competition between two products weakens the rest of other products from other producers. Several sales per year depend on a decision from a customer aware of the competition and promotion of such products. A rise in anti-monopolies rewards confidence in a society.

Fight over land

Since the land has become very scarce in the world because of greed, there is more migration to greener pastures.

Therefore, if bad governing is in the hands of the government elites we should not spend time-fighting against each other, because the civilians' blood bath is not honor. We all want places of peace, but others are set to put fire and destroy that peace notion.

Strength to Move Forward

People should attempt in all efforts to be better. Although human nature says something on the other hand, the most focus is placed on those that are easily underwhelmed by the power granted to man. In respect of power, when humans aspire to be God, something bad happens

The greatest one among us allows other people to share knowledge and power. For most men, death is the end whilst for others, it is just the beginning. People without fear of death serve as an example of life, and it is through this life that freedom is celebrated. Nevertheless, for men with the fear of death choose slavery over death. However, death is peace when men have no freedom. It is bad causing a war on home soil, even when decisions are limited, we rather use accounting to calculate the missing gap in our budgets, instead of waving a rifle at the citizens. A man who cannot manage his wealth cannot manage a nation's wealth.

Obtacles from Tradition

In all these prospects, a major issue is to destroy all our traditional ways, it is not that they are failing, they are pagan and not even African, but worldly. It happens like the minimum wage to only cover the monthly expenses, people will not be free from the needs of this world until they learn to change. Protesting and demonstrations are part of freedom, but it is not changing minds. When change is neglected the damage is huge.

Accountability is the best way to exercise principality, a smoke of fire in every court of law might change the whole case. The people seeking justice are bound to fail if it is up to entrusting the criminal law of today.

Seeking justice for the lost ones or something else might lead people into a controversial war, assuming that both sides are attentively listening to the rule of law. It is hard to provide evidence when speaking the truth, for most people pervert the truth for money and control.

Accepting new Norms

In the way of life, the community select individuals into certain projects and with accountability follow responsibility. In a struggle for a better living, poor communities seek to adjust to the economic weather, which is mostly against them through spending.

A replacement of politics weights as an advantage against the norms of the usual system. A poor community intends to create an environment that enables children to have confidence in their dreams. The structures of our modern systems do not review such a way for everyone. Still, the modern system empowers the few and creates an analogy for the rest.

Change is a process and the Way in life will always give people hope and faith.

Impossible Progress

A theory of living, there is nothing else in the world that matters most to human beings than family and money. Engaging in the theory of life, most people have wondered around obliviously without a purpose.

The most hypocritical thought is thinking human beings are different in the way of creation, but the truth hides in our spiritual warfare. The things that people have accomplished in this world comes from ambitions and sometimes imagination only. Repetition of work and experience has a greater reward, not only towards the things we desire.

Ugly Traditions

People used to manifest dead spirits, and then with that manifestation, they would slaughter a cattle or follow other instructions, which worked every time because Chiefs and Kings were in-charge of such, then when violence spread across the world, the rules changed and the spirits evolved, but the mind didn't.

The truth in fighting against a tradition is the misunderstanding that comes from paganism.

Lack of Strength

Human beings require leadership, even many do disagree with this statement, and the uncertainty of our ways are probably influenced by our lack of leadership, which proves that every step taken during a day is important. If people practiced the right way of leadership, which starts in every house, the understanding of our own needs improves.

A piece of land, peace of mind and a practice of leadership directs the vision of a people. Business, irrespectively that it is private, people with high hopes to generate income are those that understand that punching words and numbers create wealth.

A rebirth of life is like a forgiving spirit that holds no grudge. Several empires that were ever built from the greatest to the least fell, the land is ever appreciating with time, anything build on these lands usually provides envisions and provisions to grow. And the land is not what can grow only, but what can be dug out of it, which is capital.

How far are businesses willing to go?

The way of life means that if we are all going to live on this planet in peace, we should make an effort to unite and love our children.

An idea that appears frequent and most used is a good example to other continents, and at times, the peace that people fight for is like a key into and for doors to a better future, even for children.

In this case, in less than thirty years, a whole continent can redistribute wealth, but to further people's success, not to spoil lazy people, because that is a political way to steal wealth from other people. Furthermore, the impact of a leading country furthers other countries forward, it is more than slavery, the equal sharing of common gifts and livelihood is a good practice of a culture.

Modern Pillars

Politics and religion are bonded together in a way that one cannot function without the other. The power of religion depends on the masses of people in search of spirituality.

Education and Religion contradict intensively when it comes to the ways of the faith and common sense. People that criticize religion are mostly well educated into believing science over God. However, people reject completely the ways of religion, but religions do not educate the masses, but rather indoctrinates them.

> This is how the propaganda or a lie looks like, - the human civilization has developed from ancient times to this point, where people are planning to have a life on the planet Mars, these are billions spent on such projects while increasing poverty on earth.

A person of Islam faith hates Christianity and vice-versa, convincing a Jewish rabbi into Christian faith is almost impossible, and in most cases, it does not happen because religion is an educational tool, and it contributes to the society's division.

Continuous Growth

Moreover, it is important to equalize the opportunities to wealth in a society, which eradicates a phenomenon of inferiority, the further we push for certain rights in our communities we view it as change, we are contributing to the human evolution. And evolution doesn't create solutions to problems that don't exist, it is blind, it doesn't plan for the future, and it doesn't worry about moral consequences.

We have allowed the television to educate our subconsciousness. Supposedly, a psychology study has shown repetition on images creates the very same image into the human mind, but rather in detail. The basis of our political principle might be half way from what a political man should be, not to anticipating against the truth, a legendary identity crisis in a leader might cause bias in him/her into a savior complex.

Most people do not bother to ask the right question and at the right time, because many are mostly focused on wealth, which is our perception of the world, which is distorted and dangerous. We are what we learn. For the days of our lives, people that speak about the truth live upon it, and only if they live upon it, then one teaches these instruments of life to other small upcoming believers. Today's children are tomorrow's worshippers, leaders, and believers.

Also, the knowledge set to divide leads into incompetence. In uniform, children are taught that they are not the same from the families that they are brought up in, so division comes along.

In a school system, two thousand pupil, chiefly, the pupil that are enrolled in a system set to divided them into a class people, a reality of the world people live in.

Producing and creating a product is the type of education we should seek to understand and crave for, without thoughts of creating a way forward for everyone, we remain enslaved when oppression strengthens a few over the masses, destroying families, humility and basic rights.

More than Just Ideas

It is not much about ideas. As long as there is a deep lack of trust among ourselves, the next generation might as well be poorer than today's generation. In a declining economy, it is hard to find many rich people, but a country that has a broken economy might have richer people controlling the economy's day-to-day activities. Firstly, economic power is regarded as a product of payment. A very rewarding system that satisfies human desires while enslaving others.

It is a well-organized system that other people have intentions to rule over others even to such an extent of killing them to protect this system. A system invested in a narrow-minded society could be misleading other people's opinions as bogus, the same people that a governing system should protect and serve, mostly and usually are the same human beings that an army opens fire to.

Hierarchy of Power

A command is from a commander, which is a position of authority, and the need to kill is real. The focus of a United States in the continent creates a great culture that does shares and recognizes the descendants of Africa as residents of the continent.

This is not a benefit for African businesses only, but all people that would be interested in doing businesses with citizens of Africa, and a decrease in the number of refugees from war-torn, and economic-torn countries in the world.

Needlessly, Africans have beliefs that are entirely different from the rest of the world, it is most likely that these beliefs have been dismissed as ludicrous. This is a position that people fight for, it frowns towards societies that are mostly affected by the world, especially financial wise.

A life given to a child at birth is something that a mother takes into the heart. It is not for political grievances that people's lives are lost over political issues. If two parties in the country are fisting each other over presidential positions, a win is mostly at the expense of other people's blood.

Businesses in beliefs

The need for religion in every country is necessary to control and build spiritual awakening in communities. Roughly, morals and principles are tirelessly reducing.

There is a way forward for the whole world, only if ideas could be expressed freely without hidden agendas; a way for a person to reason easily is either through education or understanding natural laws towards fellow human beings.

The saviors of this world, the young ones are affected by wars over political errors and religious punishment. The right opinion in analysing the truth is to take a lead, which upon a decision is made. A right idea requires the right effort. Any example of this is appealing and fascinating towards people that understand the way business is handled in this world.

Many commonly say, "Business is business". A business can murder and that is still considered as business. In every part of this world, people generate money through different business ideas. And the money that is generated resurfaces as the main factor to temper with a couple of laws and for that to happen, most politicians are influenced by corporation power. Exploitations increases when a country depends on private companies to handle the backbone of an economy, which is trade. People in a country enrich it through investing in it.

Institutionalized Influence

Institutions should be aware of the system in terms of protecting people against their government. The situation in an African home is mostly a single mother raising children by her hand. The rate is increasing as the focus on single mothers is decreasing.

A single person can improve the lives of billions of people. People believe through seeing or hope, in these two, faith is tested. The right effort is not revenge but in eradicating poverty. People cannot hate each other through the influence of history, wealth and philosophy.

The philosophy of men is to defend what they believe in. Meanwhile, for our governments to set aside their differences, people who are in these countries, should, by all means, be willing to share the movement and change in Africa, and then the rest of the world. Africans have to realize the right to freedom and peace is not selective. And in these movements, some are won, and it matters that people are not lost in trying to prove a point.

A father and a son relationship could be in jeopardy over issues such as drugs, a country, and its citizen should be one. In the sense of this relationship, a very rebellious son is a notorious heir, so is a rebellious citizen in the country. If the father fails to discipline the child in time, they are likely to fall to a lost cause. People are in peace with each other beyond racism, languages, businesses, jobs, and money, this happens because of a relative nature in people.

The Biggest Failure

So far, beyond time, human beings have failed to build peaceful earth together. We do not have respect for others due to religion and political influences in our society. A life that we share has more people seeking to control other people, the very same nature of people has been passed down from generations to generations for thousands of years, human power leads to cruelty.

Future Leaders

The children raised in today‘s world are socially influenced as born free youth into ambitious and riches seeking beings. The definition of life in today’s world is unrealistic and materialistic. A small number of people that unite into one have undoubted power over a given number of years. In that small group, empires are overthrown and the proud fall. This is a way of living for others; but only for a matter of time.

Survival of seeds comes through a gardener’s hands. This is the time and an era of Africa to unite, it is only through us to unite it, for the fact that people are not interacting with each other, of which people learn different ideas through interaction. We have nothing to lose now.

The idea that surrounds a weapon is regarded as violence. People go through difficulties on many occasions, as hard as things might be, borrowed time is something people have in common. The time children spend in the streets is viewed as nothing compared to the time spent with the adults. Two cases can verify an opinion and a thought when a leader is ambitious, they turn out to be charismatic as well.

The Offspring of a Nation

Citizens that are quick to find out about something adjust and agree generally with any media facts. If you have selfish and ignorant citizens, you end up with selfish and ignorant politicians. People find it hard to forgive each other, of which, it causes self-inflicted pain on the host.

For a people to enjoy and live well under good conditions, food, water, clothing, health, money, housing, and spiritual needs, all these things make up a society when balanced equally and out of equity. People only fight when they are deprived of these common needs.

The death of Libya

A country that had an enormous economy, Libya, but years later, many people have reported about slavery in Libya due to economic difficulties the country is going through since the death of Muammar Gaddafi. The first step towards changing the world is kindness towards others and even strangers. The need for the African continent to unite is of emergency means. In order to produce highly effective products, the partnership of African countries with international companies must be revised, to build lives of those that were raised or born disadvantaged.

Moreover, with nothing to lose, solutions to all African problems, those solutions start with us to eradicate poverty permanently. We might be of the same origin but our intentions for each other might be uncomfortable. People in different places of influence or power protecting their own interest support extremist group like Boko haram with foreign-made guns.

And gold has eaten away the core of our souls, it is this gold that create armies to destroy nations.

The most immoral problem in our governing system is that politicians do not listen to each other. A misinformed political syndrome is found in every corner of this earth. If we put power into the hands of the citizens to make decisions, it will affect those without a voice in society, especially those people with little knowledge about how the system works. Instead of blathering against each other, we must learn to speak to each other without invoking violence.

Although men make their day-to-day decisions, it might seem we never had decisions at all, but our consciousness is subjected to meditate and judge most of our decisions before we execute, voluntary or involuntary.

People make enough to survive through the month, but people in struggling communities affected by segregation and corruption are afraid to challenge anyone rich or above them.

The Cause of Ignorance

Politicians are quick to speak and slow to listening, when people are quick to protest in the streets for answers, questioning authority is another thing and protesting is another problem, which is not a solution to all this.

People that critically think are killed and solutions are destroyed with them, and every value or moral of our today's societies are formed through politicians. Yet, African political freedom is far much worse and limited when it should be promoted more often. Nonetheless, mostly for those that started either by a law degree or business studies, it is up to these people to work in their communities as politicians and community leaders.

Through expanding the African political arena, there is more fear to corrupt and limited extortion when people are competing in numbers.

The Reasons to Unite

Two groups work together in a society to maintain order even if it is through a religious or political lie, in most cases, there is a persuasive side to every story that people by and with the leaders of a society seeks to control the rest, the so-called "job creators". Religion affects a far much greater proportion of an ignorant society.

In conclusion, the way of life for Africans in the continent will be easier if it is a country rather. And the feud for land against one another has caused problems for both indigenous Africans and Caucasian Africans. The alternate solution to our small problems in this life of ours is to unite, at first, it seems as if it is nothing. Only a person that can visualize the future could work towards it.

Underestimating imagination leads to pain, the lack of imagination is a doorway to poverty. A vision is for a people that are deeply concerned about the near future. Tribalism is powerful and it creates division and small maniac groups. We are contemporarily at war with each other and these major conflicts will never stop until the end of times.

Living without anything is not a positive gesture and that only cause people to be greed. The moment that we believe in ourselves, we realize that building a better future is a dream that the whole continent can share. In sharing all this, we can co-own our food production. Through doctors and engineers, a community is built, and they shouldn't worry about their financial status to promote their work when the state is organized. The value of unity is required without any form of force and the real error is in our conflict for peanuts.

> A lesson from nature; Zebras do not look at tigers and wish they could hunt like tigers. Accept yourself as you are, know your weaknesses and strengths and embrace your unique beauty and gifts. The universal law of correspondence; Most of us have heard the adage that our outer world is nothing more than a reflection of our inner world – as within, so without, as above, so below.

Chapter 6

FREEDOM OF A CULTURE

The Karl Marxist

Karl Marx mentioned that history is a battleground, if you want to change a people's culture, you have to go on and change their history, and it gives them a different impression about the past and that affects how they view the future.

The Beginning

African history has always been the subject of ongoing arguments; and even now it cannot be said that scholars have reached an agreement upon the degree of African's history reliability, of which, in every language, there is a history of a people.

The economy grows with a milestone when entertainment promotes foolishness, drug usage, guns, and violence. They believe that what they are doing is vital for the betterment of a society. Understanding our similarities is more profitable to all men and women, than our differences. Every individual is important and his or her role in our economy is vital as well. People should learn to live together even by embracing the black or white phenomenon, religious or non-religious, all this apply to the citizens, not to the leaders.

Voluntary Servitude

A free world does not exist and the ideology goes back in time when we all engage in integrating the little effort each being has there is better creativity and dynamics. Spirituality is part of human nature, it is an essential tool for people and it drives other parts of our lives.

People are groomed differently, either through knowledge of studies or cultural and traditional ways. A corporate culture promotes and advertises the same office job in a hierarchy that some of the employees are encouraged to work towards it, even if it is impossible for them to achieve it over time.

Ways to Subdue Wars

Peace offering is not the only way to subdue wars, but fear as well, it is a question of who wants peace. Confusion is a product of hate, which brings a reality of life that victimize the masses. The economic problem in some Africa countries traces back to the savagery on the subject of supremacy and paganism, and mostly, people that are in poor societies both 'capitalistic and communistic' are affected dearly with a government's political propaganda.

Decisions made in anger or after a disagreement only make sense to the decision-makers even if it affects many people later on. A leader of a people is the one who understands that listening is more important than his personal feelings towards a certain situation.

A Frame of Freedom

A government draws a constitution to serve the people and the law. Of which, a constitution should serve the citizens. Whenever a conclusion is made a frame is built. Only a few people contribute ideas and execute their thoughts urgently more than others execute theirs, it is the reason why others are richer than others. The power of doing things with inception may not result in massive destruction. People with a faith and a mind are powerful. These things are found in all human beings. Love is true, and it is the only element that is not found in our history.

In our minds, people think living financially free and spiritually free is the only purpose of our entire existence. Most of us do not think further, our minds are subjected entirely to complaining, and in this life, it is hard to depend on a failed system, which connives and masquerade on its people.

Young people at the bottom are spending more time in prison, and mostly at the age of twenty-two some have children. In the pursuit of riches and fame, there are certain rules for that path.

A Human Heart

Moreover, our darkness has resulted in challenging God's power, our calamity, people do not work together for good in the world. The lessons taught in the streets include violence, and ambition, only if we understand the simplicity of harmony. The way life slips off our hands makes us more vigilant, the fear of death intensifies our violence. This creates a ruthless jungle of survival in the deep of darkness, holocaust from churches in the name of God, concentration camps from governments and extermination of citizens in the name of prosperity.

A Huge Motivation

Channelling our minds into the right frequency is a way for people to understand the way forward in life, executing without hesitation. Money is the center of scrutiny in the mercenary focus to expand. Politicians have hijacked the rights of citizens, their success diminishes masses into poverty.

Achieving success for one individual is a capitalist ideology, which affects those citizens without the birthright to privileges of life, leading to slavery. The true meaning of freedom is exploited.

> The Middle East needs a truce. Since many people pay attention to organized religion and monarchies, the influence of these powers is extra-ordinary. We have so much potential misused with these organized religions and monarchies.

As an individual, it is nearly impossible to satisfy everyone, nevertheless, the psychological pattern in our roots still trace further back to our traditions.

This issue goes back into the way that the biggest kingdoms in the world were built because of man's ambition. Expectations of wars are everywhere; people's pain is only felt after they are gone. Ruling with grievances is directly influenced by the lust of power and a paganized mindset.

People who loved peace suffered under the hands of the ruthless. Through interaction, people can support each other beyond their controversial relationships. Options always seem like they are open, and a good decision is clear in the eyes of the beholder.

Making Wide Investments

The African economy should not focus only in the east, it will result in an unforeseen sinister. Trade depends on making the right friends. A country with a free trade policy survives for a very long period.

African new trading policies benefit indigenous people through indigenous trades, but capital to finance this trade is only limited to a few. After all, an economy that fails confidence fails the capital. It is a matter of reducing the cons and pros of fast economic growth. On multiple occasions, leaders or leading families fail to discuss the future of all people.

> "Nothing will be of avail, except the united act of a united Africa. We have already reached the stage where we must unite or sink into that condition which has made Latin America the unwilling and distressed prey of imperialism after one-and-a-half centuries of political independence. As a continent, we have emerged into independence in a different age, with imperialism growing stronger, more ruthless and experienced, and more dangerous in its international associations. Our economic advancement demands the end of colonialist and neo-colonialist domination of Africa.
>
> The unity of our continent, no less than our separate independence, will be delayed, if indeed we do not lose it, by hobnobbing with colonialism. African unity is, above all, a political kingdom which can only be gained by political means. The social and economic development of Africa will come only within the political kingdom, not the other way round." (Nkrumah, Addis Ababa 1963)

Uniting the Continent

If most of the African countries are sinking deep into the ground due to the economic downfall, it is a result of the divisions in Africa that should have been done away sixty years ago.

To this day, African Union has not yet brought about an idea that is perfectly suitable for all Africans, due to political differences, other African countries seek to destroy one another, and the focus is no longer the people but the government. The best is yet to come and we leave it to God, and in the meantime, the best we can achieve is through our efforts to end poverty, family division, slavery, and unhealthy lifestyles. Mostly our ideas are different and the way we perceive things is different.

The people that collaborate with evil are evil. If we do believe that this is true, then let us play our part in terms of uniting the continent through economic cooperation. The segregation will never pass away in this imperialist and capitalist world.

Moreover, the only way an economy functions is through the coalesces of all parties. When a large economy is trading with a small nation to boost both economies, a large economy ends up consuming a small nation.

This concept is one of the keynotes of early Africans and is a significant indication of the attitude adopted by later imperials. Africans sharing a currency is not an issue to debate about, because it is the only way to excess raw materials from Cape to Cairo easily. The means to create work is for people to perform in groups as in China's industrial movement, and without exploiting labor and people. The African continent is somehow in disarrays due to currency failures in other countries. The division is caused by incompetence amongst ourselves.

This brings us back to the idea that people can freely learn about languages and businesses. People's history is found in the language of a people, Swahili is one of the most widely spoken languages in Africa. It does break down all Africa dialects, which is possibly taught in different universities. The best way forward for most people interested in uniting is to teach the next person the importance of it. Working towards a future preserve a ground for children to discover new ways of life.

Slow to Observe

We are quick to judge, instead of helping out, people criticize opinions and display the stupidity of refusing corrections. The best to be made out of the continent is for the citizens to understand each other before the government does.

We are willing to give away each other in the African customary law, and this culture has evolved, the old traditions are fading away. Customary education has been part of the African tradition long enough that it should be reserved in the primary, secondary or tertiary education. Our marriages in the whole continent are to create a variety of relationships in all small groups of people.

This has been done before by those who challenged the superior power against the inferior power. If some of the people did it before us, then we have the power in our human inheritance, not to mention that most of the people that recognizes God as the Almighty powerful receive the Holy Spirit.

Understanding all this makes it clear that the war in other countries will never end, especially when the state and religion are one.

A Successful Vision

The recipe for success is hard work. Most people confuse hard work for slavery, it might be the way to fulfil our own needs, but time is an advantage to the employer, especially for those with workers under or at minimum wages. Many families depending on small minimum wages work harder for a pittance until another young ambitious person replaces them.

After graduating most people go for jobs that create their status, it is a good feeling at first, that changes when incompetence intensify. In a culture of people with growing wealth, it covers all expenses to an extended family, as the family would have a company of its own. Everyone is a buyer and everyone is a seller.

Concluding the truth, the perceptive of someone in the box is thinking about outside of the box, think of it as a way forward because knowledge is power.

The government cannot create jobs, citizens do, and a government cannot empower people into businesses and investment platforms, investors do. The financial illiteracy of people is used as a cover for corruption because people do not understand numbers.

Media Outlets

The media cannot cover skeletons forever. In other words, who is more affected in a society the most? In most cases, people that are exposed to violence scenes are children more than adults could comprehend. It is, however, an instrument of power that people love social media and interactions, which has maximized the taxation on internet data, the little that people ignore in a very long time, causes a bigger problem in due time. It is through the media that children are growing up to be less moral and unethical because it gives a right thumb up to nonsense.

Power of a Whole

The ignorance of a community is passed down from one generation to another, this is how a society suffers to progress, and earnest effort is a conscientious activity intended to do or accomplish something. Furthermore, people that live to satisfy their own needs usually suffer from stress and depression because it is never enough.

The life of a ghetto child does downsize our Bantu political theory. Some people expect success from good fortune. The political ways of a country reflect a society's theory of hard work. People with self-esteem understand that building a life or wealth is part of a sacrifice that few people are willing to undertake. In every city, there is a hero.

The pain of prison to a younger men only changes their heart for the worse. In every situation, people undertake the ideas of living in an organized system as delusive. An egocentric behavior happens when people undergo a very traumatic episode, hate is created in the process. When people are interested in making a living through others it remains an object of scorn even after making a great success.

The desire to be served is such a desire that many people want towards their relationships with other people, but this desire when out of control it is very slippery and painful.

The Law of Respect

For others to respect you, that respect is first given. Firstly, it is important to agree on a certain argument and move on into executing the solution. If the answer is "No", hands cannot mould mud and paint walls when guns and bullets control societies. A village is better than a modern city in terms of morals, the difficulties of people in rural areas are nothing compared to the difficulties of people in modern cities.

People suffer from all calls of life from bills to relationships. The fast life in the city has a high report of suicidal rates. From all angles, the political crisis dominates a city, the rural areas are much far from politics in the country, of which, their participation in the national elections is strong, even when their ideologies might be biased, at times, information is limited.

A Failure to Grow

A city with more than five million people can survive without external help when they focus on their single trading system. This is natural work among humans; we survive against all odds, the need for people to continue living as foreigners at some point is unnecessary.

Organizations and institutions in Africa should manage and control their organizational goals in a way that social habits are improved.

That is enabling a community of people to convert energy from one particular source to another creating jobs. The future is regarded by today's actions. The more people invest in God is the more we are able to invest in other people, it will not only profit one person, but many.

The Acceptance of Division

The continent of Africa by accepting division instead of peace and unity has created wrong elements and a political difference in people, leaders' fear to lose authority over people remains an obstacle to change. The only deal-breaker in a country is the president, who is in this given position, entrusted by the people that he is leading. At some point, people have recognized the president seizing the army as his and whose decree continuously oversteps his power, and soldiers under the mandate of the chief in command shot and beat up citizens, for example, the Museveni of Uganda. An idea to unite the continent separates the army from one man in command, creating a board of members with different political ideologies.

Therefore, a way to make a continent of communist, capitalist, socialist, Jewish and Christianity, and Islamist nations to unite is nearly impossible, to agree to the existence of all these philosophies, theories and doctrines should be beyond our reasoning capacity. If we do not set aside these differences and come up with a common way to exchange our currency and a traveling system, it gives more pain to the people in the continent. After a tarnished image, people are still powerful enough to uphold their own independent beliefs. In most cases people complain about the way the kingdoms of Africa refer to their customary law, to make the rule common, there should be a base for all of it.

For those that do not understand the religious ways in Africa are usually informed through books published by foreign writers, whose goal is to dehumanize and demonize the African people beyond our imagination. And history is never about the truth.

The reason for this is that people are thirst for something negative that is used to abuse other human beings. It is the same way that most innocent people are hurt in the process.

Defining to Tomorrow

United Africa is a bigger platform for everyone to perform to their full potential. The lost books of African writers before three thousand years ago are still valid to the people. Egypt has more than half of the information, and more parts of Africa like Ethiopia have the same information about some of the oldest civilizations humankind have had, but it is suppressed to the learners in-order to strengthen the information published by linear media.

If the people of Africa wait for politicians to come up with a formula to unite the people of Africa into a country then it will take time due to different agendas in political fields. It is not all of these politicians that are upside minded, some of the good leaders in political positions seek to eradicate the segregations and the violence in families. The way they can be useful for public service is when they are receptive with ideas from their opposition. The reason for people to elect a leader comes from pain or the need for change.

China's Difficult Examples

Human beings should not fear to challenge power. If the opportunity is set clear remember that a society cannot be sorted out within a short period. And it is within that period that people focus on the hierarchy of success.

The main objective Moses had was leading the people of Israel into the promised land of Canaan.

For a man determined to change the lives of his people, he has to be willing to change.

It is a vision of putting together a way to communicate even though two-thirds of the people are in suffering. If this decision can change the hearts of many, then this decision portrays the need for those that come after us to focus on the further changes into helping the world through practice of African medicine and shared knowledge.

Understanding history is to break it down. An apparent mechanism is to live above the African expected living standards. More power to the people in need of education, land and high security. We cannot be in a position to second guess corruption as a mistake. Unlike other countries, China's prosperity came with difficult examples.

> Unlike Africa, China's wealth was built on blood and sweat, which included execution on political leaders that were found guilty of bribery, smuggling and the diversion of state-controlled drugs for illegal sale.
>
> In 2011, China sentenced to capital punishment Xu Maiyong, former vice mayor of Hangzhou City, and Jiang Renjie, vice mayor of Suzhou City in 2011. The officials were found guilty of bribery amounting to $50 million. Xu reportedly led an excessive lifestyle. Investigators were said to find gold bullion and expensive jewelry upon inspection of his home. In 2010, the Chongqing Justice Bureau director was also killed over bribery and for supporting organized crime. In 2008, a city official of Chengdu was executed over bribery, too.

China is often criticized for its widespread use of the death penalty, and communism, but protecting corruption in a country destroys it to its core and a definition of law changes.

However, the world leaders and the African leaders are not charged with these crimes when they are even guilty of war crimes. Someone has to be accountable when a crime occurs.

People will never understand the consequences of a crime when the state is more guilt than prisoners.

Natural Selection

If people should trace the have-nots of the world, it is through advertising products in commercial television through celebrities that made a clear demonstration between the rich and the poor. The hatred amongst ourselves over the history has generated destitutions.

As people and the government, by failing to commit, the country will fail to cooperate with the world, then a forged system will thrives. The government with two parties running for presidencies destroys the country in part-ways, that idea is a particular psychological disorder. A separated country has a few elites ruling it. A crisis of greed is that it only leads to blood, and people who live by guns die from a gun fight, which is the truth about evil.

Breaking Away

The need for family unity in the world is a struggle. Young families are breaking away into parents without a job, a will or good government welfare.

Only a few people in our societies understand the consequences for our ways of living.

Back to Zimbabwe

Controversial policies in Zimbabwe led the currency into catastrophe, considering that Robert Gabriel Mugabe was correct about the land policy, many argue that the political reason for land reform was a desperate party seeking political relevance, although, as bad policies came along, corruption activities within the government resulted in an economic meltdown.

A collapse of the currency in the country increased the unemployment rate to over ninety percent in a decade. When two people rise against each other in a fight, after that fight, the pain and the scars always remain behind to remind them about one moment of foolishness. They mention that war is necessary sometimes to have peace, but the collateral damage hurts both sides.

A country made of two parties, one party is eager to take control and another one is fighting to keep control when the government fails, people should take the blame for not taking control in time.

A state with enough people to vote can survive the struggle that people undergo from the moment they vote. Soldiers are trained for wars, and police to keep the peace, the people that vote have a say over violence because they are the citizens.

The element of building a home is exceptional. People do not eat ideas, the necessity of a healthy economy is essential, the Zimbabwean government failed to retrieve funds that were lost in corruption and that has not stopped to this day. The chief in command should protect the welfare of his people, poor people in a country shouldn't be discussing politics. It is a pit and a crisis. Even a very wealthy man dies, greed is pointless.

Open Blindness

We are all capable of making billions in this world with little exposure to information, the projects that African leaders have received from foreign investors such as China do make a big difference to their financial budgets as a country. On those affairs, the communist way has worked through the years into making and creating the largest dynasty for trade, although the freedom of citizens is sacrificed during that process. It is at this moment that people are either open-minded or closed-minded to expansion.

Openness To A Struggle

Refugees, more than ten thousands Africans have drowned in the Mediterranean Sea trying to cross over into Europe. Discrimination, languages, and politics have ruined and caused disasters on earth.

A living human being is a living testimony, the wars in this world are of our own cause, even if we were all born in them, we chose to continue with them. The continent is tirelessly seeking solutions for all states to be at peace. The compulsory of thoughts have resulted in breakthroughs for other nations, and wars are inessential.

Expensive Jokes

Many Africans that invented machines were laughed at, for this is an African affliction. For example, a man who built a helicopter from old motor equipment could not proceed when the government shut his project down, instead of promoting it. It is unfortunate for African inventors.

Respect to all

Natural resources in Africa can sustain the whole continent for hundreds of years to come. The future matters as well as today matters to society, we have to push for the right movements and the freedom of thoughts. The pleasure of life is freedom of thought, but how can this come to be in a society with muti and multi-religions doctrines, because some of these religious doctrines are more important than human life. Most people ignore religious wars, but they are effectual enough to cause a radical division. If there is such, the respect of one another in a society is a law, the same idea provides fathom towards tranquillity with our neighbours.

An Illusion of Freedom

Freedom of speech is much easier to manipulate the freedom of a mind. Zimbabwean citizens have understood that nothing comes from their government, and their taxation is paying civil servants that are exploiting everything that people feed on, the Zanu-PF party weaponized food aid for votes.

Decision of the Mind, Not Heart

People should use their minds into picking decisions of life. Sometimes the fact that most people are not reading as much as they should create complications and low reasoning capacity.

Most decision-makers failed repeatedly a long time ago, but no change may be made without the consent of all the partners. The power of change is inevitable. And change is life when we learn how to practice it. Africa's biggest investments are in farms, minerals, and education. The amount of capital and education people have determine success. Integrated mechanisms only work through the exposure of resources available.

Provision before Destruction

Besides, a tendency to sabotage is high in developing countries, so the need for security in countries such as South Africa is high. Drugs such as Nyaope, heroin, and cocaine are only found in developed countries. South Africa has a higher crime rate from well-orchestrated cash in transit vehicles attacks and police officers participating in organized crimes.

People are willing to starve for and defend a tradition or a religion. True believers defend their faith even in death. Building a legacy requires wisdom. Each day is another chance and hope. The burden that people have gone through is enough.

A Good Legacy

Africa is a legacy if it is planned well, making this the largest investment soon. The picture is, of course, satirical to the point of caricature. The wealth of a country can only increase when patriarchal develops, sometimes nearly contemporaneously with the urbanization of society. Poor governing of a state is not natural, but rather a disease.

Power Struggle Leads to Instabilities

Two parties in a country fight for success not for people. They are mostly not focusing on the business that the other party is doing in the country. By this means, no developments are created to help some people in need. It does not help the society to develop, words without action are empty promises. A lie is easy to tell and support, the truth is impenetrable.

The most biased society is the one that fears to display the pain of their oppressive system while the whole world is praising it. The nationality of a people is based on the way a government functions, this means sacrificing soldiers into wars. A good example is like that of soldiers fighting against Iraq and other mid-east countries, these countries are still in a war. If a nation is quiet when the state government is exercising power on its citizens, it is then a very great sign that the country is in the hands of evil men.

Even a Small Change is Good

The mission to change starts with the family and the state cannot recognize its mistakes and failure. This requires deeper wisdom among the rulers, it is necessary that even in the current system the advisor of a man in power should be as wise as the master himself.

This is not the first time that people are fighting for survival, and the work of people living in rural located areas is barely available. The entitlement of peace and collaborating work is obligatory.

The amount of time people spend in hard labor, and the amount of savings budgeted after a year is almost close to nothing. These are the disadvantages of a capitalist society. The life of widows and children cannot be a burden to other foreign governments as refugees, should that happen, the other government has no right to deport such people. Communism works ultimately better for others, African policies cannot prevail as a guard, even to avoid human misconduct. The need for people to survive to lead them into fighting against another. Lastly, people that should be competing are those responsible for producing quality food to the public, not the public.

A mind is like a chief, and he does not only care about his family but the whole village. The restoration of a country requires courage and a shared vision. A chief's village survives on meat demand and as much as people demand more meat a village could expand.

If there is a better way to live, it is not through the simple life of Lazarus, because people automatically understand that going through change could be traumatic when it is unexpected.

Chapter 7

FAITH

No Vision is Greater Than His

The conversion of a tradition is a huge vision. The question for human salvation is more undesirable on earth, with a high growing rate of atheism. The revelation in people about the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ sometimes it is either misused or misquoted across the world. The people in faith can overpower a dominant mindset of influence and fear in the world. There is a saviour above us, but still on earth, people need food.

If demons manifest and confess Jesus Christ's power over them, then because of our limited knowledge, we should not stop seeking spiritual development or a way of life that has saved and is still saving people from their spiritual bondages. If we do not understand God, we might as well fail to locate oppression and a seldom of victory and peace, of which, democracy is only a propaganda.

Ignorance is Polygamy

Some families still prefer polygamy, and it is not a good tradition anymore, because of many diseases and poverty. Although to break down a certain culture, tradition, or religion of a people is war on history. Imagine a religion practising polygamy from the eldest of the religion. For most of the Christians, reading the Holy Bible is difficult.

Young little girls are deprived of education, and elders succumb to temptations in the practice of immorality in the religion. This behaviour affects societies for the living and for those that come after them. Selfishness and rapacity are children of lust, and lust destroys its captive.

The Truth is Important

People should be rebuked when they start participating in a horrible tradition that contradicts even the constitution and human rights. It is not for everyone to interpret the change of old traditions into this new world. We are all under higher power.

The spilt of blood from an animal and beer ceremonies were the traditions practised in Africa, which to some point, due to misinterpretation of these traditional practises, they became evil with time, even if they started as true spiritual movements, which had led the people in Africa in a spiritual realm the world could never offer.

Education access should extend to all people, both males and females; the new world order helps nobody, and to accomplish dreams and goals we equally require education and equity to improve an urban society.

There is a sacrifice motive behind every religion, when sacrifices are misinterpreted, they are a dangerous weapon used by charlatans, and most people are ignorant to falsified doctrines presented in religious places. A good example is an uncomfortable tension caused by Islamic teachings leading to extremist groups like jihadist, Boko Haram and all other ISIS movements. Of which, the only people capable of stopping such movements are Muslims from other peaceful movements.

The Need To Change

People that are in need of urbanization are children, the number of reported abuses in schools and homes are essentially high and no solutions are provided. The HIV/AIDS rate has increased amongst teenagers. Trafficking has increased in every part of the world, and it is a growing business. More families are hurt through such a business; this is a community's responsibility.

The act of helping one another is love. Honestly loving one's neighbour develops community powers. This clears our grounds until we learn to teach each other how to love. Even intellectuals cannot study love, but it is a practice. The need to help one another is an essential tool to growth. Sometimes, it is through peace that people can learn to love unconditionally. Wars and battles are part of our lives, and oppression always manifest differently.

Peace will always be temporary, and violence will remain unacceptable. The image of a people is nothing compared to the spirit of a people. Innocent people are always casualties, in a way, the people that focus on the foundation of a product careless about the buyer. A corrupted seed is a danger to other seeds.

The Mistake of Iraq

A country should not be fooled into making a war, there is only collateral damage. It is game of dark and evil. Those implicated into fraud cases are usually cleared of all these charges with enough money to pay the court of laws.

It is a heteronomous society when two murderers are not the same under the same law. Institutional power creates a vigilantism system crisis. Much more of this leads to a civil war, something that reveals human beings as animal and a society out of control.

Insane Obsession

We focus on the well-being of our lives, which is good as well as bad, a self- sufficient principle. When a flavour of sweet rose has deadly poison, a large number of people consume it while unaware of the effects.

Zimbabwe's downfall drastically affected the whole country including widows with deceased husbands. When a hen starts eating its own eggs, it is necessary to hide the eggs away from the hen. The insanity of a human mind goes back in time. The biggest inventors of today cannot break down insanity without hard evidence. The truth is a wonderland.

While admiring the nature of bravery, people are always occupied with struggles, the pain of life is mandatory to many people. And we are always searching for the murderer and the destroyer, not the life giver.

Bear No Deceit

The truth in the work of God bear no deception, human fear is a conversation that is directly proportional to every bad decision we ever made. This world is thirst and lustful of blood, which has led to mass bloodshed, and the appetite for more bloodshed has troubled humans for thousands of years.

An overall view, people used to depend on the wings of prophets, some received quality knowledge and some are still biased because of the lack of wisdom.

Restoration of global peace is somehow the reason that nations on earth are still stealing from each other. Some countries are burdened with higher institutions of few noble families. The world has a goal to reduce population, in further doing this; people will suffer more just to have children knowing they are not safe. In order for this to happen, governments have to be incorporation. However, governments with superpowers would force small powers to be submissive, if they refuse, they are toppled to replace them with a puppet cabinet.

Changing the World

In this very moment United Nations remain prerogative to few individuals. The whole system is immune to virtue, and few citizens cannot overcome oppression from superpowers easily, sanctioning system is part of the program.

The most depressing issue is about children that are affected with wars in Syria, Iraq, and Yemen. The very reasons to unite in Africa is to avoid wars is the near future. Egypt is affected by Israel wars and other Middle-east wars, in order to make peace with the Middle East, Egypt has to be at peace. Uniting the continent will eradicate wars, especially the war about land. And having both sides on the plate serves the need for peace.

People worry more about immorality in the society, but major judgements from a society are incorrect. It is the hope to build lives as one, the citizens of the continent with talents, and higher educated individuals understand the priority of building.

A quality education should be accessible in all levels of the society. And education does not guarantee a job but an opportunity, citizens are in charge of leading the country into victory, and are as well in charge of creating a clear position for peace with others.

Envisions before the Second Step

A theory of ruling an African country without compromising is continuously unrealistic. People that are united are an ambassador of themselves. And a single person's decision cannot represent everyone, the emptiness of a society is in division and status.

The need to be a state that controls its own raw materials, production and trade produces security and education in the country. A life of envy is born out of dissatisfaction. In the absence of light, eyes are full of blindness. We can prepare for a dark night by keeping the lights on.

The Most Common Desire

We all want the same thing, peace, and peace is everything. In Christianity, people are taught to forgive and love one another; it is what keeps a heart warmth, protected by mercy and hope that two enemies can co-exist. Everybody deserves happiness. All revolutions and liberators started by learning from their opponents, maybe individuals or a system.

Paganism has always thrived in the world, and it has always been like that in the very existence of people, the worship of mother nature, and other mysterious beliefs and legends.

Making a decision is something that change people's lives. As a matter of fact, most stories of successful individuals started with a decision. Only a single decision can change a person's life permanently.

At this particular point in time, we are educated into successful students, but not citizens. The pain never end until we all learn to take the cross and follow the sacrifice, but people have failed to make decisions that are clear enough to set a path for them.

We have to avoid companies organising a country's ruler ship, it is about avoiding extortions. The ownership of a country should not be in corporations.

Basic Slavery

A minority people or group is an idea that someone of evil intentions builds up. People that are raised in a minority group of a large society are most likely to adapt to this system through fear of change. The privileges of schools to a certain group of people creates a caste system. Education for the poor is somehow an expense and a business to the rich.

Survival in this world is based on a decision. The roads are not certain, it is either we pick one and sacrifice it all, or we take the other one and forget everything like nothing ever happened. Sometimes we argue before making a stable decision, it also takes time to make the right decision for others. It is never too late to make up for the lost time, but this requires effort and the need to grow.

In this world to purchase peace and happiness is through blood, it always requires sacrifice. One way or the other, the fact that people judge life from an outward perspective, few people anticipate understanding the purpose of life. Peace or happiness is something that someone sacrificed to earn for others. Jesus Christ of Nazareth would have lived and grow older as a king of an earthly Israel, but he fled several times from people trying to make him a KING. He chose to death.

A Good Spirit

A spirit of caring, trust, humbleness, love, life and beauty is only found where wisdom prevails and understanding unveils the purpose of every being. The opposite of this is more focused on consuming than guarding and protecting.

A second opportunity for African states to unite as a country will openly allow people to do business from different sectors of the globe without foreign obstacles such as sanctions over one state. Democracy should decentralise power with more power to the people.

The art of war is a way that others chose to live and believe in. The way that children view the world depends on how the parents painted the picture.

In addition, from time to time people made mistakes and those mistakes redeems the way people view life. The human way of solving problems is through blood. Some human rights are more important than other rights, and it is a miscarriage of justice. Some laws in the world provided serve the few, for a number of families living in poverty work and support a family that owns estates and enterprises, and enslaving employees.

Business Hostility

A business in the hands of these few men excels into a very huge business. Every person that excels in business is someone's friend. To agree or to disagree people with enough education evaluates to learn more because information is never enough.

Education Hostility

Some people are trapped into believing some of these ways of learning, and many people have questioned the way that the education system works but openly received it and recommended it to others.

Class and Division

A caste system of classes is a massive weapon in every urban civilization. The need for financial education is high especially in this rapid and rigid changing world. The burden of African children is a struggle to remain in school especially on empty stomachs. The effort put to change determines the improvement. It is worse when people grow or mature during the years without noticing the years. Economic stability offers that peace of mind.

The rich complain that poor people should build just like they did and be free from financial problems. However, most of these ''poor people" are the ones in the production line producing for these companies. The idea of making it in life is the reason of today's slavery which is more than racism. People that are working for large companies or small are passionate to feed their own families, they only end up surviving not living.

So then, it is easy to borrow a desperate person money and then exchange it with his health or birth right. Before we know it, people start pointing fingers at each other. Now, we rethink for a second about all the ideas we ever had, from all these ideas we wrote down, then it is clear of what a mind can create. There will be no point that the truth lives in you and you alone, it should be spread around. There is the truth of God that we cannot even comprehend the love of having a life. We take all the ideas that we ever had into creative.

A Right to Exist

The right to live and exist is found in the laws of nature. The leaders in Africa should build trust, which breeds variety pathways and focus points. To trace back in time, ships of slavery, people have a tendency to blame the slaves for slavery. This is a child receiving information in a history class and then he/she breaks the analysis using the reasoning capacity of a child.

We are so afraid of death that life as a whole is nothing. There are so many wars to preserve life, which is intriguing to find depression and hurt from such.

Like in the Days Of Noah

Most people denies the existences of Jesus Christ, and yet accepting the evolution of men. Men care not about the truth.

However, this creates a difference in the way people live with each other, people that have accepted Jesus Christ as the Lord and saviour understand that the only way forward is to love one's neighbour. If this is not practiced, then we are still far from our salvation. It is something that people cannot work to achieve by human strength, but through the grace of God, we received salvation through his grace. Our work might be even close to nothing, if we are judged by work compared to the Creator of everything.

The Time of Nelson

A prison is much more like a system dumping area, and a place lost to the so called "criminals". Most societies with strong financial foundation have drug and spiritual problems. The most fundamental ways to build principles are ethics and morals. Some people in businesses or other parts of life can hate each other to death, but they will not kill each other. They may hate each other so much, but the principle is for them to recognise hate as a better way to deal with pain and anger.

Understanding is for the mind and wisdom is for the soul. It is necessary to pressurize ourselves in making a society, it is difficult certainly living in a house with children when both parents are working and studying, more time is cut short for them to have a life even after graduation.

One of the most interesting cases is more close to the dark ages of holocaust in Europe. People suffered most, and this resulted in migration. Understanding is not prior to change, the difference that people have is a discouraging factor to unity. Education in the world depends on time. The longer people study allows a population to dominate with an infringement of tradition. People abandoned to ruthless emperors or dictators complain without necessary action. The idea of revising life and the way of living is in our bones. During the time of Nelson Mandela in prison, it was the participation of the whole society to continuously fight the struggle but what it the right struggle?

Quick to Listening

If a person in our society has found a solution or claims that he has found a solution, we must work together with them to improve the solution for our own people and the rest of the world. Most of us destroy what we helped build. A mother that gives birth to a child, after birth, it is the moulding of a child. Children that suffer later as adults in psychological related patterns might that have resulted from a dysfunctional childhood. People agree in different things, but peace and equity is not open for discussion.

> Observing from the pattern of criminals. Crime remains wrong. A criminal mind is based on a psychological pattern, most of all these issues generate after birth. The importance of faith is to change their lives.

The passage of living and learning have created broken homes and that really affects children, which is also a result of a broken trust. Young girls are found in relationships to very old married men for money.

This is a growing culture for a people, but in the new world, as one wife per husband, more elderly men are still coming back with money to finance their own prostitution with young people in need of money.

However, out of these platforms, few people survive in businesses such as this. A proper way to build is to first create a better way to make a living. In our societies, people learn about religion more than the law of attraction. The faith is in teaching the law of attraction to people. Human beings are challenged and troubled with diseases, and blindness. More people preach about peace, but peace is something that people have to work together on.

The Age to Accumulate

It is through our participation in time that moments are sometimes awkward, to hate is to teach hate, and to live is to survive. This is how people have survived for ages.

It is through time spent in a project that makes it successful. The third way to bring about peace is through convictions of the corrupt. However, it is a danger to use this kind of a way whenever people approaches a problem. Political wars for positions remain the biggest battle in the world. More innocent people are killed when politics justify evil.

Freedom or death, this is a way of life for soldiers, but it cannot be a way of life for civilians. When it turns out to be dangerous, we cannot fight each other in order to win someone's battle for power. The value that our lives offer to the whole world is enough for a reason to avoid war.

Mostly people that are working in different sectors of life set-up a system different from that of their own children, and it is hard to convince a parent to understand a child's mind.

The way that people have come through for each other and even in hard times remains hope for peace through unity, and this is the relationship that Africans as a people should have. The meaning of relating to the same thing.

A Constant Thirst

The missing link, it is more of a spirit than just an imagination. So far, the same people that brought up children in schools and graduates from universities created wealth through their children's strength, and these are people who had a shot to a privileged life.

A far-fetched dream is closer than the way people visualise it. A child born and raised without toys to play with, makes him/her more acquisitively ambitious to achieve and earn respect. The only movements people have had so far are based on human rights. The fact that there is a human right, it has to be protected by the constitution, another's right tramples another's right.

Poor and Vulnerable

Poor people are intellectually crucified with religious affairs, and governing board promotes with blind eye on these issues.

Listening is a skill and this determines a leader's wisdom. The wisdom of listening is much more important to people that it controls anger, and preserve right words for a right moment. It is through human anger that most people still suffer from it. The real issue for many people is in understanding that to lose means to sacrifice.

The only way for people to perceive reality is if they are actually living in that reality. The purpose of life is to understand the purpose of life, and then believing in it. The intimidation of history is the cruelty of the very modern nature of the African political leaders. All such is awful, especially when we do not concentrate with our missions. The anger against colonisation in Africa is fully powerful, and anger is negative. It is the way we handle it, which gives us more power over it.

Spreading The Truth

When people recognise the power of words, they do not immediately stop speaking negative words. All is in confidence, sometimes there is more to just confidence for people to reach their goals. A child that is raised away from a society brings his/her own ideologies. People in religious affairs protecting ideologies are under the same influence that they are spreading the truth, even if it is at the expense of others.

The countries going through disasters need help in terms of housing, infrastructure, school and health, which is something that Africa should provide in due time.

A Mediocre

A country without youth is in jeopardy because another country is benefiting from them. The amount of time spent in religious affairs and political affairs has created two classes of people in Countries such as in Zimbabwe and Congo, the rich and the poor. People vote for rulers even if they will oppress them. In understanding oppressive governing system, it does not require personal education, it is the same slavery that people fought freedom from.

The legacy of such government has made an impact on its land. Police officers need to use a gun so much on people, and this is from a system with a very deteriorating law, infrastructure and economy.

People are forced to be grateful with what they have. With that much said, a way to commemorate the human life, the old pain and wounds must heal. All human beings are equal and the same, our minds might be different in terms of ideologies and information, but our emotions are all driven to act in a certain way.

Starting Somewhere

Progress is only valuable when wealth does not use people to commit murder, and this creates the so-called "tribalism, racism and religious extremism", most of the problems that people are suffering started from identity politics.

The pain of decisions by people without anything confronts a system which disagrees with the original way of life. Criticism about religion is something that provokes people but forgetting that it is people that make up a society, we might be of different colours, but our views on life today are almost the same.

Most people in different countries and continents consider Africa as a country without knowledge of its fifty-five states. In terms of religion and race, racism is still one of the most controversial topics in the world. Any name that is given to them follows an institution, religion, nativity, politics and sexuality, all these people are one.

It is through our morals and daily activities that changes the way we think, talk and listen. Beliefs and morals, people with less enlightenment to these cases are mostly led by people protesting for their own cause.

The community cannot stand out against a system operating with brutality and injustice. The mistakes of a leader are laid upon the whole country, a great leader provides wealth to the people.

To Never Stop Learning

The idea of learning life only teaches understanding to the masses of people. And it is not every opinion that is correct or idea from a leader, this clearly means that all people make mistakes, but those that refuse to learn from their wrong mistakes, when they repeat them are considered fools.

Life in this world of today is no-longer defined by wealth and a people's race, because people that own the world know what matters most. These few people control masses through corporations and governments. The mistakes of Robert Mugabe cannot justify the sanctions that later divided the country into twenty-three political groups.

The system to control food is powerful enough towards ideas of oppression, the main reason being that people work hard for food.

In the process of working hard for food, sometimes, they are unable to build a business or a home. The instability of the law cannot serve to and for people that have limited education, it is in fact pretending that human rights exist. We have not yet learned a lesson through the years.

People with separated beliefs, morals and education might find it hard to have a common ground. The main object of unity is to revise our mistakes from a different perception.

Positive thoughts and Words

When we say something negative during an argument, it proves that people preach about changing their hearts and minds without a good reason for doing so. Understanding that most of the societies and families are broken in this modern age, there is a need for hope in people. All best philosophers that the world produced never actually changed a human heart, only thoughts, and they added doubts and more knowledge, the same knowledge which is destroying people's morals and principals even for future generations, but not enough living souls care about the future because we care only about our businesses.

A principle is strong until the day that it is broken. The most valuable tool a human being has used is fear, which causes divisions.

In the beginning, people lived in far distances for a very long time and faced their natural judgements differently, it was from a very distant point of view that wars increased as death started prevailing the earth. The emptiness of the world uses social challenges from one community and a divide them into small governments with issues. If people are then voting for a party that has the controlling hand, they are still entrusting all their powers to the same people helping them to dig their grave.

The Need to Control

The damage remains the very same reason why people should vote for a new government. People that had invested millions of money in lands were affected by political disagreements that ended up as a revenge and a hate crisis, Britain failed as much as Zimbabwe did, and a coin has three sides. Dictatorship develops wrong influence and sabotage trust. Instead of people looking up to politicians that have proven repeatedly and constantly what change is, we chose to focus on the corrupt and on the useless ones.

This is the main reason why questioning authority is important, because clarity will clear mistakes. People living in a condition that a house is the biggest investment do suffer further when the economic is crumbling.

Mostly, people agree that constant repetition leads to success, and to foresee the truth is to acknowledge the present. If wealth is built on a lie, at some point that lie is exposed, and all that wealth is flashed down the drain with law suits and bankruptcy.

The patience is to sustain a dominant thought, it might be an idea, goal, dream, vision, imagination or a spirit through perseverance that leads to lifetime achievements. The work that somebody starts in the morning, by evening after taking some few breaks reflects the difference clearly. The ethic of work could be done in lines and numbers, and that challenges a mind to complete a certain job at a given time. Organised people work with the government, not against the government, this does not mean to work for the government.

An Agenda to Protect

Millions of woman are raising children by their own means. This is not only an African problem, but also the rest of the world. Most of the youth have already started parenting, this increases expenses and increases government funding or welfare.

A fight for a position in the government is seriously ill, this has created a crisis of egocentrics, without respect for governance in peace. If unity it is not achieved peacefully, it will result in division and civil war. For most, this is not an experiment that results in an evolution towards gradual development of the whole earth.

In today's world, most people have hope and light for a better future, and it all depends on how our lives in spirit and faith mature. Through the work that we do for others, we are able to survive.

Forgiveness Matters

Due to different morals pertaining to a culture people were raised in, the same way that Christ perceived it to us, it is clear to comprehend. People relate to the way families functions through education, wealth and reconciliation.

> In the modest way, a friend in need is a friend indeed. We do not only forgive our enemies but we also forgive our friends. We should learn this above everything, which is forgiveness, mostly people criticise and remain unforgiving. The definition of weakness might be wrong because a person is granted more power through forgiveness.

Granting someone forgiveness yields happiness, which is something valuable. Struggles of life differs from time to time. People of the same faith bear the pain of faith in an unfaithful world. If we stick together in loving each other through forgiveness.

We will discuss more solutions to feed children all around the world because colour, religion or political views, all in one matters not.

The technique is in acquiring knowledge and then use it to advance daily life routines.

Many people admire a world ruled by an iron hand, and a good example is that of the children of Israel after Moses had rescued them from the Egyptians, they complained still. In addressing these challenges, one must assert that we should not be treated as callously as to be rendered unthinking beings to be controlled.

With all this knowledge poured unto men, Jesus Christ is still the way to life, and nothing else can ever replace that.

Chapter 8

FAMILY

The Strength of A Family

A family would depend on a father that never had time to play with his children or wife, unity in that family remained weak. A fifty years ago, indigenous African wives would argue with their husband towards building urban houses, because these wives were in fear to lose their marriage to other woman living in urban areas. This was my grandmother's dilemma.

The only discussion a family would have in unity was over marriages, farming or harvesting. With very large lands, the family combined work force and worked towards one common goal.

However, this culture failed to evolve due to continental problems such as unhygienic politics, poor economy or wars, with such poverty families are in destitute. If there are many poor people in a developing country, it faces higher vandalism.

The power of children is in imagination, the weakness of adults is doubt. The hope of children is in the hands of their parents, as much as parents have their future hopes in children. The importance of family in a society is that it contrives production in several ways.

Divorce, Not A Choice

Children under divorced parents are actually the witnesses of broken and horror relationships, those children fail in many ways to relate to their society. It is not fair for most marriages to break apart due to money issues. Some seek marriage counselling in churches, some survive and live to tell their own stories to their grandchildren. The most ethical and moral thing a society can ever do is to save a marriage, not to break it. A marriage is always beautiful than a divorce. Many young people are marrying to divorce.

How to Destroy Wealth

Some families still prefer polygamy and it is a custom that cannot be second-guessed. Although to break down a certain culture, tradition, or religion of a people is a war. People are willing to starve for and defend a tradition or religion. True believers defend their faith even in death.

Women are more endangered into today's society in terms of knowledge. African women are paid off in marriage, and it symbolises the end of their dreams.

That fear and knowledge is passed on to children. Their greatest achievement is raising children in fear and developing housewife skills. Many young girls view marriage as an achievement rather than a phase of life. The results of core family teaching is that grandfathers and grandmothers are responsible for love and discipline of a child. And in this way, they might have failed raising one of their own troubled child, but they would not repeat the same mistake on their grandchildren. This is wealth, it is more than guidance.

Family's Strength

In order to win your lives back, you must be able to balance unity and anger, because people who have lust to rule over others only destroy a group.

In a lion family or the king's family, the good ruler ship comes through experience most of the times. The more we want to lead, the less we are capable of leading. Although, in every family there is a need for a king. His time of reign ends either with his family at peace or with unresolved issues causing dissection over inheritance. And during his funeral people fight against each other over his will and last wishes, a determined king has more to learn from his own family before the majority, the reason being that people from the same family fight over different issues, some of those issues are marital.

A False Affair

When two people are brought together with money, it might as well separate them. The wisdom of life is found in marriages, right from the first commitment of vows. And every relationship has a reason to break away or to remain intact. The right reason of a good marriage is true love. Only if one is patient enough.

The moment of impatience shades light on the negative side of our lives. In this life to demonstrate peace means to illustrate unity in people, learning to love each other beyond our differences. This is for both sides, and we can never out smart ourselves into a solution.

Critically thinking things through sheds better light on the big picture, which is life, if it is not for our lives, then to who should the gain go to. A marriage between the governing board and the people qualifies as the only union that people are not used to and they are not willing to change.

Human Power is a Paper

Power to the paper is gibberish, and because of that many people have gradually witnessed and suffered persecution from those in cabinets and power positions. Still others without many choices in life depart from the truth, business minded youth depart from the truth, entrepreneurs depart into another country to secure their investment, and a government still seeks support from its people. An administration without people is a head without a body.

If we remove the governing system of today, it is either a revolution or an evolution of time, in total, with less dispute life on earth could be easier when governments are impermissible to lawlessness.

In every revolution, redemption is necessary; the power to redeem is in the hands of the redeemer. The redemption of a society is necessary and it is not simple, however, when it is not done at all, we end up with a society with the same psychological patterns.

No Perfect People

We share the same history of pain one-way or the other. The hatred in this world resides in money and power. The human nature is triggered by ego and envy; it is a very dangerous appetite. The times are changing, and it is either we unite or we suffer, and end the constant jealous over resources.

Fixing a broken plate depends on who broke it, meaning people are willing to learn something new only when they are benefiting from it.

Unresolved disagreements leads to conflicts. It is interesting that people do not step aside whenever their use of power becomes corrupt, and this does affect the children in our communities.

Suppressing some parts of history creates a generation of people revoking even the truth for a lie. While seeking a lasting idea people come up with ideologies and strategies, and those that are not willing to step down from power and it is better as a solution to combine all our efforts and bring down autocratic leaders, and further focus on our growth.

It is a public position for a little while, and not forever. We need most of our focus on solutions.

United people stand but divided people fall like a worthless shepherd being dragged away from his flock. The illusion of maniacs is not criticised, the same illusion of ruling the world is a number one cause of havoc in the world from political to social challenges.

The builders are obligated to build, and then it is for builders to put effort in their itineraries, pushing their agendas.

Falsified information creates a system that changes the way people think from day to day basis. The opportunity for a winner comes through after losing maybe a couple of times, and the opinion of a winner is important to the mass even if it is twisted.

The Promised Land

The use of a particular political view always works when it comes to segregating people from time to time, in search of something, people are biased into thinking otherwise. A leader becomes a very powerful man, whose power feeds off from his ambitions and lust, it is then, people fear those in charge of the wealth and security. With all this, we have so little to depend on, when people are pushing against oppression that decision is to bring about an idea or to destroy an idea. Our taste differs in terms of living, which is the reason for improving standards of living for everybody. In this way, people mostly spend time with their families and their own neighbours.

Deliberately, consorting with an enemy is more like finding ways to fall from the top. Even people of the same nature fight against each other to make a living when the land is enough for both.

A single lawyer in a city can starve to death, but two of them in a village could survive.

Success comes through sacrifice, discipline and commitment towards finishing a goal. The only way for people to focus on their lives is to increase the same living standards for all.

People do sit back and relax until the given opportunity is taken away. It is a matter of living with freedom your whole life, and having the discipline to work towards life goals.

Nations only rise to power to subdue the rest of the world. And when superpowers are trying to subdue superpowers, the end is in nuclear war.

The people that have done better can dare and encourage others towards their own dreams and a better life.

Undocumented Reality

Africa's population has survived for thousands and thousands of years, and a borderless Africa cannot remain a theory only. Europe and America have invested in Africa for a century through their own capital, and then it is mostly in their interest to successfully grow their investment. Cheap labour markets and businesses have increased in both Africa and China. The recognition of this fact is the impetus behind the drive towards decolonisation of Africa, but that might actually be longer than expected, in how so, it is through our own participation in converting our own wealth into investments.

Moses and the rest of those who left Israel had to die first, for the new generation to enter the Promised Land. Even Moses failed to decolonise the minds of Israelites, so the punishment was death.

Power, Businesses and an Agenda

Many businesses that were built with a strong family and capital foundation have gone through political eras surviving because of their international partners. Some business mostly abuse one government after another. We cannot get such investments anywhere in the whole of Africa without personal attachment. They are many reasons to unite and that it is mandatory until it is complete. People build or destroy, and those that chose to destroy are destined to commit massacre. The international law, people that built the constitution had their own motives and agenda to follow. This kind of law is ludicrous, and full of hypocrisy.

Complaining is Not Solution

A community of happy families is only developed when people are not complaining about a bottle of cooking oil. The need for survival and the war to survive is even found at the peak of products.

The people in our society are more interested in making sure that each cent is not recorded. The fundamentals of a people is education and the energy to wait for returns. As much as people are obligated to proceed even in war, there is always a point of no return. In doing something, they affect those that we live with, as neighbours. Operating together or cooperating with one another is the only way; we have to use heads more than our hearts.

As human beings we automatically reduce ourselves to our appetites. The reality is that few people share the same valuations in understanding that life is never too old to change the way we perceive it. The valuation of our own information is enough to create foundations. The determination of a person comes from his/her background, mostly those that are well organised, understand that part of life. In a disagreement, through those opinions it is only then that we meet new methods to diverge to new focus.

Are we focused enough to belong?

The truth about most people that do not fight their government have nothing to fight back with. Instead, youth do not care whose side they belong to as long as they are making money.

Our contribution to build and evaluate each person's efforts lays the foundation for a society based on democratic values, social justice and fundamental human rights.

The most amazing tool is to make a living using our minds and think of a way to help the whole, nothing else but our minds carry the most absurd thoughts all the time. It was only through a Samaritan that a drunkard was helped. The beauty of our minds is diversification.

Without going into a complicated explanation, it is related to the statement that warms followers of wolves formally dressed much like a good shepherd for a flock of sheep.

An Identity of the Enemy Matters

It is a matter of understanding the ways of an enemy, and predicting the near future through progress that can only be reviewed after time has prevailed, but this is a lost chapter in the days of our lives. Ideas are more relevant to people that understand the power of knowledge, and how it is converted into businesses and other parts of life including marriages.

A union of great minds is a pack of wolves together discussing their next meal. In order to win, one has to lose, then why is it that when great minds are together in the same room, they only think about themselves. It is then a case of study that African leaders for more than sixty years are still using the same trivial system, which degraded their power and authority compared to the rest of the world.

The best way to know the whole continent is allowing people in it to survey and understand their own natural legacy. There are places in Africa that one cannot describe with enough words, the wonders in caves and mountains.

Black or White, Same

The main objective of these idea leads to a free trading system, which has few political affairs and misleading religions, values that cater and develop family values. In Congo, they won't be a difference in changing a political leader without changing the mindset. The second president will do the very same thing, even causing more pain.

It is not the current president's fault for the destruction in the country, but his will to work with other people in the country must be huge, Zimbabwe went broke and Europe played a major role, which is the reality of Caucasian families and farmers in Zimbabwe suffered clearly. A solution is not using guns to fight back, but to restore peace. The more we fight against our own governments as in Uganda, innocent people are affected with that will to rule. And Africa Union committee promotes the same dictatorial mind into extra power.

Identity Politics, then Division

The restoration will never be complete, if we follow certain parties to a certain revolution, we lose the truth. People living in the continent should remember the importance of all this, in order for them to have a strong identity before 2063 or after.

Furthermore, the interesting part of sharing food with a neighbour is that their problems are forgotten for a moment. Although, it is not over a meal that problems are solved. Politicians are more interested in a re-election, for them to be in the office. Businesses should not be affected, and people learn more about life in the way that the government operates.

In this case, let us use Zimbabwe as an example of a state capture, not that it is, but the same party has been in power for more than thirty-seven years and the opposition party is in bed with poverty, sanctions and division. The ruling party destroyed businesses through industrial exploitation. The opposition parties have played a potent role in the division of the people contributing to segregation.

The participation of the opposition party in the parliament shouldn't be political only, in order to increase the progress in a country human capital should be an accomplished goal. The disagreements over power are arguments of children on a table of elders planning empires and wars.

The opposition's opinions in Zimbabwe are considered as nothing on the contrary, and yet, the pain in the country has affected both the oppositions and the citizens.

Minor Developments

Chitungwiza must have had all the Universities required for a large population of people in a small city, and yet the possibilities of success are mean.

It is further hard to understand that parties come and go. The best way to move forward is for the Zimbabwean government to dissolve and restructure the system Robert Mugabe left, which is an irresponsibility communist-related system.

The African civil wars are inspired with greediness, and for most people the threat to comfortability leads to bloodshed. The human mind is instigated to retain self-power through the ages; it has been done before, and still will be done after. We cannot fight against each other, and often one can make quite subtle errors that are connected to this problem. The truth is light in the darkest hour, and it cannot be hidden, this may appear to be a very simple observation. In the benefit to gain something, people believe in making a living through peace. Sometimes dignity is lost in trying to prove a point.

We have to learn from our own mistakes and believe that each and every minute is a moment to change one's life. People that are poor and in poverty are more enslaved, and in fear of death.

When a revolution is born out of people, it qualifies as a punishment of justice to the system. But then, fear of change depends on who might be changing the position. It is not in these political constraints that the country move forward, the business between countries is represented by ambassadors and ministers, and honest is mandatory.

A Vision For All

The priority to build a continent is to value it. A given situation or an opportunity is always seized by the powerful. The powerful of this world rely and survive on poor people's weaknesses. The only relieve poor people get from the powerful is death.

People's freedom comes from powerful battles against a controlling state and government, and Zimbabwe pose as an autocratic government serving its purposes and ideologies. But, resistance has reared its head once again; the government's declining investment and inadequate financial support undermines the quality of education in the country. And its re-imposition of school fees denied access to education for many students from poorer households.

This system failed spectacularly to address the social and economic issues, the poverty of many and the prosperity of a few, then social, economic and political factors undid the gains of independence.

Corruption Or Not

Private institutions recognises the corruption to avail resources and funding towards public projects, then they pull out their investments.

Information that children can inherit for hundred years is vital. It is not necessary to actually charge hospitals and schools when many people cannot afford a loaf of bread.

Billions raised from a country's investment are for school systems and health facilities. There is nothing of class, but with enough corporation from all the leaders in the continent, people can achieve free and fair opportunities to make wealth and live in peace and prosperity. The dreams of our lives are built in the days of our youth.

The past is gone and the future is to come, decisions matter, if they do matter, then, people should remember it is very important to listen to one another. Those that actually want to settle in Africa expect good living conditions and an affordable lifestyle, and this as well allows people to bring ideas from different cultures. People migrate to different parts of earth for a reason, for this reason, people have a way to adapt to new environments.

The Purpose of Nationality

The idea is to belong and certainly anywhere in this world. People have celebrated and lived their dreams while others remained wishful thinkers. In particular, the sacrifice to see goals through is for those people with a purpose, and a little sentimental value, spending half of their time to achieve the best out of the little they have. People make choices out of their best interest. And those ignorant of it, procreates an image of regret.

A choice that went wrong changes every picture of reality into a war zone. This is a means to make progress, or to lose each other over civil wars and corruption. It is found in every part of the world. The amount of energy that we preserve to feed our minds with illusions and delusions is vast. The strongest economies in Africa such as South Africa have a leading role already in the world, and mapping them back to Africa will not resolve their issues, although, such an economy can eradicate small drug dealers in a tremendously growing drug using environment. There is such an immediate case about Cape flats, and gun violence are increasing, shooting children, women and anyone without protection.

Furthermore, the war on drugs is biased, it should not be only against drug dealers, but the entire system of suppliers. These drugs are cooked and packed in a lab, they are promoted into a market for many buyers. The need to control drug warfare against victimising more children in every given opportunity of a growing economy is by providing more funds into the projects to avoid drug use.

Unity to Emerge

This is more than just a desire to do more, but to find a reason to do more. It is then more helpful to fund more than one project, because it is a given challenge for each and every growing community.

It is more about what we believe in, and if the youth is deserted, they are quick to find schemes to make a living. A ghetto-born poor child can make a living by any means. A child born in crime is only saved through motivation and provided resources. Each land has doctors, engineers and designers, even in Africa, engineers can build any infrastructures provided that there are enough resources in their societies.

However, in the case of Somalia and other countries that are facing a religious extremist group, pirates and tribalism suffers from a strong identity dilemma. A people that learn from a mistake are more intelligent than those that do not learn. The need of freedom for many people is to build businesses and wealth for their grandchildren. The best way for brothers to fight an enemy is allowing unity to emerge between them.

Easily Broken

A country's events and issues that interpreted roughly by television and radio, which intimidate people's thoughts. Mostly people spend time in these activities, a good weapon, people are unable to overcome the intimidations of media. Although, a source of information matters, the power of media could be used to destroy, especially during the recent years.

One of the reasons why families and marriages are breaking apart the tradition and the meaning of family and marriage is as well influenced by movies and music portraying the false beauty of divorces, and happy unmarried people. Children in school are rapidly dropping out because of the deceit they see when successful entrepreneur tell them about dropping out to chase after their passions, which is a very complicated topic and dangerous if misunderstood. Mostly people that understand education are offered basically media in large amounts, proven facts, ideologies, mathematicians, philosophies and doctrines. The chances to challenge the so called "facts" in today's education are slim, given that, people barely challenge problems in life to change a perception.

Demonising Morality

A society without morals is dead. If a moral life is ignored because of our own personal freedom, then we should evaluate that a Holy Bible can be used to oppress a mind, or enlightenment. The general idea of morality is based on the way people ignore the truth staring right in front of them, a family without this knowledge, is like a village myth about raising a child, and that child is raised in a village that metaphorically has a systematic way to put the child in shackles. We all serve the higher God, and in the presence of this God, we are all children of a King of kings.

We receive information in a one-way direction, with this kind of a system; there is a dictator in a position to overrule an idea that is far greater than his. The participation of every individual represent unity and a vision, and that is the only way to move forward in terms of the continent's education and future.

All information depends on the giver's intentions, it doesn't care much about the receiver. The autocratic leader is an enemy of peace, love and unity among the people, the fear of death is more of a catalyst that speeds up fear and insight more fear into the public. Any devil in search of power is clever enough to keep it by any means. On the other hand, it is through what people receive and believe that changes their own lives. They are so many ways to build a legacy and a good man leaves inheritance to his children's children.

Human Development

It is good that we have human development programs for future events. We are creators by our very own right from the beginning, and on the contrary, the only way people fix problems in a society is through inventing solutions and implementing them.

There is a need for jobs to build the African systems and major social welfare programmes. People have no jobs and no quality education.

People are in search of work, the inheritance Africans have is land, but rather people are in conflicts over faith.

Total Deceit

A party pushes ideologies to support the base of its own system but never the hierarchy of power for all people. It is never about colour or anything close to that, but a good perception, which is one of the biggest problems in Africa, the open result is corruption. At different ages people require some sort of jobs to cater for their own needs and wants, and it is necessary that we are no beggars amongst ourselves as we live.

> In the same way people agree to meet as one and discuss the challenges of life towards a great cause. A minister of principals apply his knowledge on a project that would leave him and his country brothers with a legacy for their own grandchildren. A people that pushes the idea to ignore the living is like sacrificing all lives in road accidents because of greed and evil hearts. Lives are sacrificed in order for people to live better, these cases are everywhere. In other countries with a dictatorship system, citizens suffer from such compulsion, and it is not a national problem when it affects the whole continent.

Moreover, Africans should be disciplined and that is a good reason for supporting the idea of self-determination and self-actualisation. The attempt to dream is only for those people that anticipate and concentrate on building their own businesses.

Working For All

Combining our work with the governing system leads both of us to victory, at first, it was for the people, but it is no longer about individualism.

Two social systems are on an up-rise in this world. Capitalism creates wealth and then poverty, it is based on more of a sacrificial system. The government controls people with laws, which also rewards and tyrannize others unfairly.

> People of today are not aware that the world at some point will be united due to pressures from banks, not in peace but in war.

The losers will then serve the victors, and after that age. Under one government, this provided, world banks and united-nations will commemorate power. These organisations and businesses understand that collaboration of their own work benefits them more than other people. The combination of various ideas from people can decipher a puzzle with all pieces together.

Oral Ideologies

A permanent solution for peace is from the Lord Jesus, and our effort is only short-term, only when we are honest about our situation. The belief system in the world is exactly the opposite of the original ideas, but lacking understanding leads to oral ideologies.

The movement brought about by a leader is for people that cannot follow their own paths, they are always after prevalence.

Every leader is always right in his heart and in the hearts of his followers. The only way people focus on expanding is through a vision.

The Privileges to Life

People are not born with equal strength, and the negativity withhold us back and keeps us out of control, we are not all born the same way, and in that, we are mostly connected because of the living spirit in us, besides that, it is not every time that people have problems such as shelter and food. Some families have earned and learned that the only way to make a life is through hard work, and if not careful, it leads to depression and sleeping pills.

In addition, the better we control our own lives, the further we mature. The further implication of our own education in our daily lives increases motivation, especially financial literacy.

Due to higher levels of segregation in Africa, other families had a disadvantaged education.

The idea of a job should be eliminated from our minds, because with such a mentality people do not explore their potential enough to see ideas through. In a society of the privileged, the most important lessons happens between the age of zero to seven years of a child.

This applies to all families; it is not every time wealth families are joyful living together. People always quarrel over small things, this comes with the nature of our feelings. An average number of educated people could be manipulated in making a disadvantaged deal over their personal freedom. That is a top priority to create a people with higher reasoning capacity. Once that is achieved, the second step is development.

The pressure to make life from an underprivileged background results in exploitation of national resources.

Chapter 9

ECONOMY

Entrepreneurship

One man said, "behind every great fortunes relies a vast of interconnected lattice work of sins committed by companies that own each other, feed each other and drain each other off in an on-going original mutual financial gratification." But is this true?

Most people without any qualification are victims of labour exploitation especially immigrants. People can create jobs through starting new businesses, it becomes unchallenging to control time and lives altogether. A job offers a salary in-exchange with results. Money is time but time is not money. Nothing in this world will ever be compared to time, even riches cannot buy time. Workers are abused several times in workplaces because money creates a false reality in an effort of an everlasting profit.

A modern world is based on trading, the easier it becomes the more people start using it to earn more.

Globalisation is a propaganda for domination; it promotes exotic businesses and exploit indigenous businesses.

It is more adhering for business not to seize an opportunity of growth with a given chance. In a country that parties dissimulate and religious wars are certainly accumulating, there is a demand for peace in order to improve the economy. We have a web of growth in every country, production improves growth, and if there is no production, the countries fails. Success is not luck, it is a number of calculated probabilities, and even those that only use a small portion of their minds could build.

All About the Money

Money is a constant factor in an individual's life. The greediness people have towards money is just the desperation of it in times of need, but chasing money is chasing the wind. The freedom to explore is not limited to one because of financial means, the trip might be easier but leaving work for a holiday is actually hard. People that are taught financial skills are successful entrepreneurs with expertises for a business magnate. We are not being taught how to start businesses in general.

A budget is based on assumptions and it is a disadvantage, budgets are not a solution to all our financial problems, a house built on loans is indirectly owned by creditors, and it was built under the influence to condense a budget.

Money controls over our daily activities, many families have been broken apart over money. Young new families are usually suffering because of low incomes and the general poverty problems. Poor communities at large have reported high child pregnancies, the end result down the line is just an inheritance of poverty. All of these problems from small to medium families are found from a government's unstable welfare and politics.

A Loss For Youth

Many entrepreneurs realises the necessity of creating different incomes to avoid increased responsibilities to their next generation. The youth is more concerned with fashion, music, acting, modelling and photographing. The challenge is only to start and work with perseverance to see these dreams through.

The most important lesson for all is to sacrifice a little, and expand into a dynasty over the years. The part that troubles people is the idea of capital before starting a business, however, it is more about courage before capital. This leads to overemphasis or underemphasise of money, the perception of customs and the ways we tend to use them while constructing a society. The financial stability is never built while dreaming. The more that we work towards our financial literacy we are forced to understand what is money beyond our normal understanding.

The reality of money in our society is unrealistic. People living in high density and undeveloped countries usually suffer for over a century before understanding the value of trading and the wisdom to use money and build wealth. Whilst in developed countries they create products as a community and buy the same product back into their communities unlike poor and underdeveloped communities.

The Power of Now

We as people accept that everything works in a hierarchy of power. Many African countries are still developing which has led me to believe that the power of entrepreneurship in these countries is difficult due to a level of missing capital.

The African focus is on international businesses and that is like an old vulture consuming dead meat, businesses consuming more profits at the expense of a society.

Investing in Africa and receiving treatment in Singapore sounds like a government's high echelon neglecting the same investment's he or she voted for.

This is the biggest crop from the very same corrupt seed that ruined nations, which Africans have suffered from for over three centuries. Hundred years passed away and the same people that were in pain then, are still in pain now. The hurt remains the same, although conditions have changed.

From A Small Mistake

In Zimbabwe, the land reform project only ended up pleasing party members that were no longer happy about the party's leadership ethics and principals. And that has created two classes in the country, and in South Africa, there is a middle class, which makes it easier to further grow an economy.

> An unorganised community is highly affected and suffers losses during world financial breakdowns. A rapid wealth growth might also have negative effects in the country on a later stage; we build in order to restore dignity, not to destroy it.

The whole idea of entrepreneurship serves the power for people to grow and spend most of their lives in a better future. The government has a key to capital, and access to private resources, which makes the government more of a useful organisation in the hands of right people. A person who has enough access to resources is more than likely to win in any given competition.

A Correct Budget

The idea to budgeting makes more for the banks than people actually budgeting, once the system is corrected, both banks and people benefit from collaborating on an investment.

The working class should understand that through their hard work and management of time, they could earn more through investing in stocks and in the same companies they are working for.

At some point, education is nothing without capital. The influence of money in our societies resulted from the higher levels of segregation that the human being gene took from an ancient past.

The time to build is now; the result will match the amount of sleepless nights spent working towards dreams and goals. Few African families inherited something of worth from their fathers.

> Property is possibly the most durable asset. Most people never had all this, but rather had cattle for economy, which is something that the whole family fed on.
>
> Men had so many wives and children; the wealth of such was separated among wives after their death, accordingly, and starting with the first wife with a controlling vote. The most outrageous way of losing wealth for your grandchildren is through promiscuousness.

Building a family is only good when there is a family to build. The greatest challenge that Africans have had in the past years was in adapting to the rest of the world.

It is interesting even now that only a few countries use higher tech to create trade. Information in particular matters most in this world, without information, people lose their lives. A man who has conquered fears and wars has to teach others. The wealth of a country is in people.

Facts About Money

The facts surrounding money is a rewarding system behind it, gift, wages and salaries. It is something of value, we actually understand that gold has a value, and that value is converted into money as a currency in the modern day trading system, being the reason why Muammar Gaddafi suggested dinar as a single African currency in order to add value to all transactions across exports and imports from and out of Africa. This could not be compared to the United States of America dollar, which is basically valueless as a paper, because it is not backed by an actual value. Education has a value, and that makes it money, although it is more important than a salary. Gold is treasure to people, and that treasure is valued on the amount of gold available to an individual. The original bank always keeps the actual gold, perhaps properties. That is the reason why labour is not equal to money; it is time consuming rather, which is always a priceless tool.

Gold is dug out of its own foundations, which is a foot on an opportunity, and other best countries have managed causing inflation in other countries just to prosper out of it.

Accumulating Wealth

The importance of a business is that it is a project that we invest money and time in. And a business can also be a very basic way to accumulate gold (WEALTH). Then practising to use money as gold or gold as money could set the interest of the world so high in the African investment forum, that the only value to buy something in Africa people have to use gold.

The life of entrepreneurship is important in this world of today; it is the very best way that gold could be mined, processed and sold to a foreign market at a reasonable price. The more people spend time and give time to their businesses, the business grow, even rapidly. The population is increasing daily, and people with ideas operate in a way that benefit only a few people.

The secret is in mastering the idea of one person and convert it into a profitable business.

A good example is of a man with one million, just enough to invest. The way that he drafts his budget will somehow review the way his future is going to be, and how the capital came into his possession.

> Money can never be satisfactory, it is a number, which is infinite. If it is effective to teach children about sex, then it should be as well important to teach children about money. Robert Kiyosaki mentioned in his book rich dad and poor dad that parents usually give children money to buy instead of reinvesting it, how so? The education has changed and the emphasis on money depends on the very same perception of making more.

In every continent the greatest period of time is after the victory have been won over from ruthless demands of monarchies.

In Africa, so far, we have few monarchies, people live in the very same old way before oppression. The father would travel to work in a national game park. The freedom of having a family is as limited as it could be. The same with gold, it is that people earn money and money earn people.

The only way to possibly grow bigger is through enforcing hard work; the main picture of this is through our participation in education when the country is in jeopardy. It is more often that people from other parts of the world have shaped their own future.

A Society of Equity

The equity of our societies is different in terms of money circulating amongst us. The highest products developers are the same shareholders contributing to the biggest companies in the country, somehow with secured investment outside the country. The state should take down corruption the same way they reacted against superiority supremacy.

If then people are poor and in a society that food is scarce, crucifixion of our people is through the things they have not. People have two spirits that pushes them forward into success. The human spirit, which is constantly in identity crisis with ego, then we have a spirit of faith. Both of these two cases strengthens the way people do things.

Nevertheless, entrepreneurship is the second biggest way to boost the economy, and it is only health when the economy is thriving, and when a country or continent such as Africa has no stable economy, African entrepreneurs cannot excess the whole continent with their patents. Capital is the last problem when an idea is certain. The power of people is in the hands of the producers, and that is neither black nor white. Some of the governments in Africa have made sure that only a few people have financial stability to challenge authority, of which, these people will never try or do anything positive because they fear to lose their own wealth. The wealth of people could be used by the same people to challenge the government's corruption, and this has been always a system in other parts of the world.

With every idea, look at the big picture of everything. Do not celebrate funerals, but celebrate child birth. We gather in numbers at a funeral, and yet we carry that agony of someone who didn’t show at a funeral. Weddings are celebrated with food and gifts, and true happiness is the foundation of life.

People of Congo

The economy of each and every country in the world is different, and religion and faith affects the countries’ direction. For example, people that are in Congo complain about a civil war in Congo to the international committee, which does not help the people of Congo. International businesses are interested in wars and political destabilisation in Africa. Some legal and illegal have made profits out of mines and other resources. Mostly, they have enough money to invest on a project. Some of these people usually make a profit out of projects even before building them.

The very attitude or behaviour might actually keep us away from receiving our own purpose from God. The truth about success is not only materialistic. When people are mentored under the same group, they live the same way and their attitude is influenced by their behaviour. Any relationship build on money is always at risk.

Trusting People

The people we trust most are our own families and friends. It is not every friend that is trustworthy. Any pain is served best cold, the most, and the very best are the weakest. Building modern communities depends on the mentality of the people belonging to that community. The scapegoat of all times is the one that sacrifice others to protect a secret from either the government or from other people. Any attitude is either a good weapon or a bad weapon. All solutions depends on the people, and then those in charge of a project should report to the people their progress without doubtful reasons. Our nature is subjective to learning from one step to another. Our thoughts matters most, and the way we think is very important. Our discernment develops an insecure mentality under the influence of a man's entitlement to his surroundings. Because of poverty, sometimes we do not open our eyes to the right solution.

Africa stands as an example of a redeemer to the whole world through eradicating poverty, only in unity. Most people usually say they want money, but for a man who receives millions, after receiving this money, there are high frustrations on using the money wisely, also with a strong mindset that recognises opportunities. Most people that are travelling around the world are seeking for greener pastures, all these people that are found in the same city with different backgrounds, brings together one factor of life.

The Most Important Commodity

The most important commodity in the country is food. The reality is that people work to spend and that need to spend will always increase as the economy freedom expands. If people work to spend, then the same people work harder to change their own lives through those material objects they can't avoid.

A country should depend on the workforce and that is the back bone of the country, which is a guideline for growth. The design of politics and religion is an investment of time, and with that in mind, the lack of money is the root of all evil. The life of graduates is not idolised as much as a life of an entertainer.

This industry works harder to corrupt young people that their way of living is changed. The focus to chase money results in a decrease in professionalism. The more people adapt to the changes in the world, they have a greater variety of choices as well as sincerity, avoid both abstruseness and banality, and succeed in conforming to high standards. It is through playing our part that progress is made. Attention is an indirect psychological weapon. This means that most of our lives depends on the amount of time we spend in other people's projects. Time is very important, people cheat around time, which reduces the amount of time that they can achieve goals. The moment they can believe in doing something, then they have the power to bring it out to light. The disparity between a promise and a performance leads to contradictions, incoherence, disorder, and arbitrary judgements.

The Naked Truth

Sharing is caring, the naked truth means someone always has nothing to give back. Most people that want to share have nothing. It is said that a poor man can give much more than a rich man. Wise people understand they have so much to learn in the world of strangers. If we do not combine ideas and work together to build what we actual want, some will always use force against the poor minded. Fighting against each other will not result in a peaceful understanding but death from both sides, the attitude of people towards their own dreams depends on how much they want them. The willingness to participate in the world as a whole brings about the semi-system, which pursuits to serve the same interest between two enemies, then doubtlessly our world was ruined before our arrival on earth.

Moreover, for people should know that in every situation, people have a different point of view on each question asked. And that only reduces the potential they usually have in terms of achieving something. The disappointment in all this leads to a burden. A human mind cannot and will not be oppressed by another human being without retaliation. This means that almost all religious and political persecutions around the world are bound to ruin from retaliation. The same thing will also happen to a leader who doesn't clean up his affairs, and misled people into conflicts.

If a person has committed a crime, in the eyes of the law, they are sent away or they are killed with injections. Some people commit crimes punishable by death, but none of this is more than a formal demonstration of political loyalty and a respected tradition. African governments persecute innocent activism with obvious exaggerations, which leads to their exposure; and this serves to emphasize the amount of falsifications that leads their organizations.

A ROAD TO DISCOVERY

A peace of mind is not just found in money, although it is a controlling factor. The modest commandment of life is to live it simple, then other things of life would be at your advantage. The most important tool to carry around is wisdom. The impact of wisdom in our society is determined by our daily habits. We must learn the power to solve a problem and it doesn't only depend in a single head.

Violence is found in societies built on blood, when everything is about making it in life, people create securities because of fear. The most effective method to focus on a country's progress depends on the amount of time that people give or receive, in any honest opinion, our security depends on our efforts to make progress as a whole.

When five people are consuming the national wealth, the nature has different ways to deal with greed, but violence cannot be controlled rather regulated. The most peaceful effort is allowing the families to provide security for their own. Drugs are only sold in communities where the privilege of life is limited, if a country has a higher annual gross domestic product and people are hungry in selected place, it is a havoc to maintain.

An imbalanced society has several problems to repair, a good example is found in a religion-torn country. People evaluate religion beliefs over people's lives; some are willing to kill and destroy in order to protect a belief. The same stamina to do it has made humans more wicked.

Non-Poor Africans

Africans are not all poor neither is the continent, it is still new and on a road to discovery. Most of these people starting companies have a high possibility of losing their business due to hard financial times of the world like 2008. People that solve problems in a society are those that are educated enough to remain civil even during an argument.

The only security people have is through the power of our own unity. A father and a husband understand the position to keep the family together, only if wise, even through bad times, they always survive because of a strong will.

They are people with open opinions about life, business, health and money, the fact that people from one city move into another for business markets and education, then it sets a demand for the need of people to progress in their businesses. And it is in these moments that we look at the world from a very different point of view.

Limitations to Consuming

We consume without producing, instead of trading, we are in-search of loans.

However, there is always a secret, which is fear to lose, in terms of African countries uniting into one; most of the leaders remain seated at the table without new ideas, but rather to keep the power. In that, there is fantasy to prove a point, which has caused more pain even to those people living in places without full reliable health operating systems, this is totally the work of a united people, because it is not for one to complete work for a thousand.

Moreover, most of the businesses handled by the elders have mostly something to do with their own wealth, which could be swept away from a change in economy growth.

People do not understand how a person manifest a spirit, while the host is unaware. Since we have witnessed this from the very beginning of time, it is never too late to learn that the progress of a people does not only depend on their intellectual agreements.

Ignorant and Pride

The ignorant comes from people that have an intention to grasp the attention of those that surrounds them. Sometimes the power of words is vulnerable without action, in that view of what we have spoken baloney out of ignorance.

The conditions of living in the world affects only the poor and other countries that cannot participate in the world growth and development. The identity element, which rather serves as a purpose and the very reason behind our contribution towards a better society is up to a few people making huge decisions and affecting the masses.

The combination of education and our very own culture could be the scope of our philosophy for the open-minded. Executives are employed to make a profit, and understanding politics is to disintegrate the game into a reality. For the very same reason, we might integrate into a united states with enough supplies for all.

The advantage is time, and at this moment our history unites us or could mean separation between us. The best is for those that are investors of small projects. This being the very reason that investors with money should be people with strong foundation of managing wealth.

The idea of an African Union passport emphasises the need for greater continental integration, drawing on the popular vision of pan-African unity. A people under one travelling passport and without tribal limitation will sprout when they mix and mingle with each other in terms of marriage, work, language, businesses, education and ideas.

Chapter 9

REDEMPTION

Knowledge is Power

Progress is our only concern for the continent and the rest of the world; it is through a peace of mind that freedom is discovered.

Understanding the ways of living with others could be the greatest knowledge children would possess. They do not chose any side during a war, unless they have been educated to hate, but the most indefinite truth is that they want peace for both sides, as long as they could spend time with their friends without the need to worry about food and money. The development of our own lives depends on the amount of time a parent gives to a child. The most encouraged weapon is to teach what might be known as love, unity and peace. In love, people share the most, then particularly, we focus on other things, as we are reminded each time about our hate for each other.

This act of giving people power over their lives should be the first focus of a community to raise its own powerful people. If our focus is always personal, then it is hopeless to seek a solution in a two-class continent.

This is the power of the rich. A society made up of strength, education and power could be achieved through hard work towards that end goal. The opportunity is always in our hands and it is the power of executing it that matters most.

Industrial Exploitation.

A situation where there is industrial exploitation, resources invested in mines and undeveloped industries in many countries directly fail when the state doesn't contribute to build them. It should not be surprising that cases of cholera are increasing undoubtedly due to poor sewage systems in undeveloped countries.

What is Right.

The truth is in believing that some human beings are not a lost cause. We should inspire and motivate other people into their best potentials. Children should not care about politics, religion or other philosophies as long as they are living properly.

People have knowledge about what is right and wrong, it is all in the eyes of the beholder. Most people do not wake up with a lottery ticket unless they were playing games for it. The wealth of few people in positions of power in the world was an inheritance from those that lived before them, as much as it could be for Dangote to save his wealth for his children.

By Any Means.

The minutes of making peace with neighbours can avoid years of war. Children are more involved in a fuse of cultures, which is somehow improving their communication skills towards each other. An investment in education can help one child, and the primary factor is to help one achieve something.

We should participate only in voting when there is a reason to vote, because giving a company to the devil is not a mistake but stupidity.

School systems should continue dissolving into practical education. Those students studying law should be around actual stories in court to sense the reality of a true case.

We should be free enough to travel and study Africa from its core foundation, and to unearth information related to the history of Africans, not just Egyptology.

Every situation that results from our own mistakes is usually resolved by acknowledging those faults.

The existence of a spiritual life is a reality to the consciousness of the Africa mind. The enemy of life is death, the more there is violence, wars, segregation, inequality or poverty, people start believing in a higher conscious.

In every group, even in schools, for a teacher to control about forty pupil they have to be grouped. People in masses are usually ignorant to each other's purposes. Creating the future serves as a timeline, because a time is coming when it will be hard.

In each group, some seek brutality and others seek a leader. Socialism proposes a society with an impact that boost its economy and bring about an idea of equality. The biggest challenge is that capitalism is an addictive system; rather Africa cannot overcome that system, but rather to absorb it in the next hundred years.

More Than Thirty Years

In Zimbabwe, with such a system, people are challenged to enforce power and provision, so that the ruling party will be concerned with its future as a leading party, which certainly should step down due to the high concern of corruption for more than thirty years. Although, by any means, good politics in a country doesn't matter when the people living in the country are in hunger.

The same peace needed in Chicago is the same peace needed in Congo, Syria, Libya, and other countries in the world with unsettled wars. This means that in the world peace will never come along as a surprising party, unless we make it. The positive purpose of our talents, mind, and land are used to benefit the whole world, but success in the world is an act of sabotage.

The Worthiness of Children

The children born today are parents of tomorrow, and then our part is to share that trust of life with everyone, starting with the poor. Our own lives matter that we shouldn't go to war with each other in the continent. Unity, peace and love are a scarcity product in this world. The richest continent on earth cannot fail to produce food for more than three other continents.

The African population should push towards the progress of their own children. Protesting for an economy will not change it, but working towards it will definitely change it. In other places, people suffer more than they should.

> Young marriages without guidance are afflicted by the world outside, either with their friends or relatives. Our story of life could be rewritten in forty-years, which is somehow the very reason some people are not focused enough because they ought to think that it is too late.

The most effective root of life is redemption and revaluation of life on earth.

We have more to think about than just the feeling of existing; there is a purpose to each one of us. The link could be broken only through changing the ways of our thoughts. Indicating that, if our lives are in the hands of a politician, most people are not fruitful.

Nehanda Nyakasikana

When a woman called Nehanda participated in a revolution, it led to the freedom of many people, not just for one tribe. She was hanged like the women from the European witch-hunt. The people that hanged her were comparing her crimes to the crimes of those women that were burnt during the European crusades.

Even not educated, Nehanda stood idle by her own ideas and other people were later revolutionized by her ideology. The only freedom people have is the power of a mind. Governments cannot thrive when they are at war with citizens. In that valuation, our lives are a weapon of change, and as massive as this could be, people have to understand that the only way to get over negativity is through a positive realization.

Under A Lie

Those that chose to live under a lie usually makes the best out of those things they have. In a particular situation, the mark and the killer hate each other to combine efforts in order to survive. As audacious as it is, people are only free through their financial and spiritual life.

The instability that people possess is possibly from an internal war, and the agreement between two people has almost an entitlement to what is idealistically an end of war. Everybody knows something that other people doesn't know, information is vital, in failing to understand this, our minds are diverged into thinking otherwise. The best activity to make a living is through increasing the power of a mind.

A mind require a peaceful state of living to continuously progress, and challenge difficult and essential problems of life. Everything in this world depends on the same impression that we are under God, the most interesting fact about life is the delusion of a perfect human being. The role we play is a manifest of our behaviour to the fact that in our lives people continuously live under their own curses.

Existence of Modern People

Never point a finger at the innocent to protect the guilt, each and everyone must learn to take a responsibility. If a man has done wrong, the other side seeks justice before forgiveness.

The work that those before us accomplished in pain for our own existence and freedom could be the only reason for us to fight for our own existence towards modern challenges. Nonetheless, every politician has a drafted plan. The most unwelcoming thought out of all this is that people remain the same, those that understand conversion are mostly in positions of adapting to the same way the world functions.

Some of our own brothers can betray us, although an oath is more than trust in a court of law. In understanding everything people are lost in discussions and they are forever lost. So creating peace with ourselves creates positive energy around other people. Whenever one is weak, it is up to another one to uplift a soul.

The system that distributes evil rules the world in full power and authority given to it. The world domination is not only through entertainment, but also in politics, economy, people, food and health.

With all this, we all depend on the survival of our own economy. Countries like Zimbabwe,Libya, Somalia, Central Africa Republic, and Nigeria, these countries' citizens once had a thriving economy. The indefinite of our African politics, in which, we seek revenge under the grievances at the expense of our own brothers, and it is not a fresh start for all these countries. They have enough awareness in them that the political condition for African politicians in the world is not very welcoming, which is an adding factor to the very reason of dictatorship.

A Time to Grow

The most important part of our wealth is to enable those that are growing up into becoming well-funded people in terms of capital. There is greed only when others are in need, and those in need are victims of greed and inhuman living conditions. The most important weapon in all this is increasing the mental power, and countries that are educated can find solutions for problems within.

Education without funding is more like a scientist sitting in his garage making the next invention. People could be educated, but without the base of the economy or financial input, education is crippled, then we are almost useless if one of these things is missing. The backbone of the economy depends on the objectives that the country has set out to achieve, although countries that are in captive to corruption are vassals of industrialised exploitations.

Due to a higher level of segregation in the world, people's agreements are reserved on the paper, and because we have given so much power to the paper, contracts written on a paper are somehow different from the reality of implementation. Successful or not successful, we are still the same people from five thousand years ago, and our fear differentiates us. Our revolution started before our time, and we are still an offspring of mistakes. The impact of unity breaks colour differences, education, talents, blind, deaf, well-being and specials.

Commercial Slavery

The groups in these commercials promotes mind slavery, in terms of higher hypnosis we go through while watching a television programme. The rise of a people with an increasing population enacts the competition. This is what it has all come to. Freedom for human beings is limited to such an extent that a court is useless because the judiciary serves its personal justice.

The feeling of dissatisfaction over wages and salaries has increased, and a hostile behaviour of employees towards their employers. The transformation of an African mind is the way forward into a better future with a global goal of unity and love.

The use of technology is for helping each other, not against each other. Fighting against each other will only further the plague of war and an increase of violence.

We have so much to discover in the continent and that will not only benefit Africans but all other continents. If Africa is a rising civilisation, then at some point it will lead the world, until then, it should be prepared enough to lead right, and avoid massacres and common mistakes of those that are currently ruling the world.

The land is the basis of livelihoods as it has the soil for cultivation, and mining as flora and fauna to thrive. Education is critical to national and economic development and is meant to liberate people so that they enjoy peace and prosperity.

The Survival of Womanhood

The universal education in woman reduces poverty, diseases and wars. The children of an educated woman are mostly educated or talented at most. She supports both intellectual and physical needs of a child. Our own development in wealth depends on the power that a society has from educated wives and husbands.

Many women in Africa and Americas are raising children alone, the father was either arrested, killed or he is with another woman raising her children, or he is dead. Then, in all these cases, woman are still trapped into raising children alone. And they must be educated with every effort, so that, they would be able to raise children in peace, comfort and love.

There is an increase in broken marriages and that number increases each year, and it directly affects the number of women working hard to keep their children alive and well. Education or understanding is a universal way to awake our consciousness towards our surroundings.

The movement of strengthening young girls to speak out towards rape and abuse is more than women's responsibilities, but all people are responsible. This care should dominate among us.

For thousands of years, most woman have suffered from inferiority complexity towards males, the identity of human beings is not defined by our work. If our society has no educated people, it is not as civilised as it should be.

Wealth does not only belong to a man, but also to a woman. Marriage is not death, but a new birth. Women are influenced by the idea of marriage, and it is biased and one-sided.

Hundred years ago, woman then waited for man while practising manners for a marriage, but that today has changed, the methods of living are evolving and woman should evolve with it to adapt the new world.

When education is available to women, then abortions are regulated. It is risky and dangerous, and those that abort are not to blame in most cases. This is not a sex problem, but a reflection of women's education level in the world, some of them abort because they have no money, no house and no education, they have less chances to create a better life for the child as young parents, they can barely afford to buy themselves food. At some point, it is beyond other people's thoughts towards another one's lifestyle.

The Way We Live

The participation of combined minds in a project brings positive results. Our way of thinking is related to the way we live. Allowing change to penetrate our thoughts, our minds are forever positive in a negative realm. In South Africa alone, there is a high level of children and young people living with HIV/AIDS, or syphilis, especially between sixteen and twenty-five years of age. The morality of our society has changed because we lack civility, and people are still applying old solutions to new problems.

When we have reached an understanding between all of us, then the most important part for our society is when we are able to unite and make decisions that will not only guard us, but also affect positively generations after us. What year can we embrace each other as brothers and sisters even behind closed doors.

The future is aroused by our means to stop world wars and build more hospitals than prisons, a better future for children that are growing up into today's world.

Communication without War

A commercial world, which has also an advantage towards free economy enterprises, it has created a number of successful entrepreneurs. These entrepreneurs are heroes of today's society, and diversity is defined from the definition of beauty. People that are still counselling our society are also hustling and for that, the world is upgrading and our own economy is degrading, yet, we are all still in the same world. Earth has produced many characters and human lustful dominations of power, and the authority that the rulers of this world have upon masses is huge.

The best deal that has so far been placed on the table for African politicians to play along has undermined them, one way or the > other, they have been weakened because some corporations have power over their policies. However, the pride in these men and women has led to hunger, death and diseases because that power is limited, but instead of leaving this political life behind, for some of them it is hard. They have committed horrible crimes against people and humanity as well, which is only justified when they are in power. A bad collision is between work and personal feelings, which has affected many people.

People that are well suited for these positions are usually eliminated by the powerful, this is a game for the wicked to play.

However, since we all live in this world, sacrifice is necessary. The moment that love prevails amongst us as brothers and sisters beyond borders and oceans the vision is forever young. It is not wrong for people to decide a way of life, but in most cases, we end up hurting ourselves with such decisions, and consequences are inevitable.

> The world has evolved, and people are sharing common languages, and our communication as human beings has increased. The whole world has started communicating in a very rapid way, and the technology has increased but we have not yet developed in terms of consciousness towards one another. The physical side of human beings has defined one amongst another, the focus on health has deteriorated.

All these societies have a very interesting opinion about perceptive and life, with a potential to exist, and it is not much of a possibility to the whole society to have an equal wealth country, unless we are all poor. People's ignorance towards their own lives leads to ignorance, and usually hard working under appreciated people. However, they should not use that as an advantage to oppress others, the key point is to listen to each other's problems and solve them if it is in our power.

More Than Just Races

We are more than South Africans, Nigerian, Congolese, and Chinese or English, we are still human beings to each other, and that matters most, because if it is the world we want, and then would it be wonderful if there were no people living in the world.

Wealth is created and built for people to live in health, and political contagious will wipe out many generations of health and wealth. As divided as people are, the attention to construct and build homes for our children is drifted away by our hatred and jealousy over each other's success.

> A cycle of rides contributes to the making of the actual product, if the actual product is not suitable for the market, then those that are perfect to conclude power choose certain individuals, in all this, they make themselves greater than others.

The Oath of God

A compiling reason to follow the love of Jesus Christ is not about his fame but courage, and because he innocently stood by his word up to a sacrificial point against the world. How does it compare with what we have done so far.

Chapter 10

FRUITS OF UNITY

Sacrifice before Glory

People should learn to help one another; otherwise, we will still be helpless. There is a turning point for young people to perform well in an average society which was stolen away from a younger generation. The freedom is not in money, but in the mind, and happiness is not in the money but within a soul.

We have to lose the modern idea of what democracy is, and it has reflected a defected community, which is falling down into havoc.

A community can change from a disastrous empire into a land of opportunities with the right people on projects. The plans of resettlements did not emerge well after people lost their homes besides other political affairs that have so far happened in Zimbabwe.

Some citizens in the country were chased out more than once, by the ruling leaders, and the whole nation cannot serve a small congress of men. The benefit from corporation taxes should not only benefit few individuals with enough power to control a vote. If the corruption in Africa decreases, there are more projects that could be funded with our wealth.

The Same Economy

All Africans can create the same economy, which has more than an average number of medium class income citizens as the least in the whole continent. Citizens with the same identity will benefit from their own production and the production of the continent.

The security will increase to people under terror and trafficking. Boko Haram has murdered over twenty-five thousand people since 2009, and the AU army has limited power because of our slow procedure to the so called vision 2063.

Moreover, the participation of religion has to remain operational because it guides morals and ethics in the very society we live in and human experience shows very clearly that law and order, if they are to be effective, require the backing of force. However, not the force Boko Haram and Jihadism have used against innocent people in the Islamic movements.

So it is important to separate religion and the military, just as much as Rome Catholic slaughtered people using the Templar of Knights, and the Protestants enslaved and killed Africans, Latinos and Indians in the name of God. People are not concerned about spirituality, only evil deeds from those that considered themselves religious and spiritual. The killings have to stop.

Breaking the Barrier

The equality of people breaks the bond of tribalism and nationalism. This being the most powerful tool, people are never educated enough to understand and differentiate between a good leader and a bad leader, instead, they are trapped into choosing one group because of their personal feelings.

True love has a cause and an effective nature, which includes compassion towards one another. Comparison is considered an insult, at least, to some extent; people have more power than their leaders have over them.

For there to be a leader, there has to be either people to lead or a flock of sheep, without both, there is no existence of a leader. Then our voice could be used to speak out ideas or to basically make noise. People of earth have fought wars for generations after generations, some would sacrifice making huge choices to go to war.

Africa will be able to contribute towards global peace when Africans are peaceful and productive enough as a people and as a continent. A country with more than fifty-seven states, including Jamaica, Haiti, African-American and other communities would benefit from the security and wealth of Africa through their participation towards a greater tomorrow.

Clearly to remove borders will set apart and give methods to secure people's wealth by introducing a system monitoring the usage of resources from the governments to people.

Injustice is Justice?

Ignorance is a massive weapon. On the other end, ignorant at times is important, because in being a slave people learn about forgiveness, but a slave master will always fall for the same temptation to benefit his cause. The injustice is the truth of this world; we perceive it as normal for one man to own much wealth, when another is dying of hunger.

> ...Jesus.....He said, ''How hard it is for those who have riches to enter the kingdom of God! For it is easier for a camel to go through the eye needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God,"

> ...., "Who then can be saved?" But He said, "the things which are impossible with men are possible with God."- LUKE 18 -24... 27.

Beyond our reasoning capacity, there is more to wealth than gold and silver, loyalty and peace are greater. The way that we live as people reveals more about our morals and developments, but with this much of attention on a subject, we rather revive the spirit of children against our own pessimistic way of thinking, the possibilities of being a doctor for a grade three are higher than those of a grade seven are. Most African dreams stops just after high school, and even after they graduate, the world is not as they expected it to be while they were still in school. When the confidence is gone, then they settle for anything.

In Archives

The definition of success is different in both cases, the first one is a solution that requires a child to grow and thinking for the common problems in a society and solve them, and the second one is a solution to poverty for many families through investments and bonds. The world has changed, there is a lack of education due to deficit of funds to improve it, and this will only affect the second generation from all these people. The only evidence left tracing back to African history is archived, yet to understand the future is understanding the past, and it all starts by understanding the present, in this current period, it is the prerogative in those people that benefit from a nepotism system.

Misleading High Schools

And not to be misled, the current education is not useless, to a certain extent it is necessary, this is the same way carpenters learnt about the best wood. However, life has become very competitive, the law of survival is in creating upgraded systems that produces more fruits and guarantee a safe and a sound connection.

Without This Sacrifice

We are not all good people, because of other spiritual battles humans face; there is a need for people to build. Even if Jesus Christ is coming today in the afternoon, it doesn't mean do not seed an apple tree or water your garden. And this fear contributes to the reason why most people have focused on the religious way for profit, through deceit, because we are not willing to learn and listen.

> The whole world remains ignorance to the wars and disasters. The same wicked wizards tell a lie and use it to undermine and compel much of our attention. People's beliefs and cultures are important to a certain extent.

African countries have a very small annual budget, including South Africa. Taking control of the continent requires the sacrifice of every state, without this sacrifice, it is not going to happen even in due time. Nevertheless, it is unnecessary to fear more power, when you have power already; the lust for more is endless. We have enough energy to consider fuel at a lower cost, and a basic commodity in the whole continent, including Nigeria and Libya. The stage that the continent was in twenty years back, shouldn't be the same stage it is today.

Shading the light on the topic is not just in creating unity and peace, because in that, we fail and fall into wars, something of indeterminate can be the note of revolutionised mind.

Unification Benefits

In a world that has changed repeatedly, the significance to create peace and unification benefits not only the present people, but future generations. The same autonomy is required for every individual. The most political way to deal with political affairs is to deal with institutions that strengthens bad politics. If it is the truth, then without a second guess it is mandatory. Authority over people cannot be personalised, and then a doubtless question is about peace attained after wars.

As I mentioned before that the fall of an economy should not be blamed on the government only or business people because people in business do worry about financial crisis in a country, although, sometimes their products are more valuable in a bad economy.

> The billionaires in Africa are mostly off record and they control powerful elites. The wealth spent on officials belongs to the country and its citizens as a whole. Any other government official treated outside the country at the expense of the poor creates a gap class with those that remain in the country trapped in hospitals without equipment.

Due to the poverty in Africa, we have an appetite for money and that craving is disastrous. African leaders seek investors from outside the continent in order to harvest public wealth for the few.

In either ways, contributing to our economy is not investing when the economy is corrupt. Firstly, the government makes effort and a difference in setting up businesses competitive enough to complete projects such as housing for the whole population's integrity, and then it becomes a two-way street.

The nature of human beings is compared to a corpse, for a corpse only fertilise the soil. The same ambition, and the need to survive is necessary and it doesn't have to be wicked.

HOUSE WITHOUT A FOUNDATION

People working for a minimum wage speak about the need for education and a better life, many responsibilities are not covered with a minimum wage.

Even after all this, in today's world skin colour matters, when comparing privileges. And people agree with the act of racialism in their own society, which is an act of war to those suffering from discrimination. Societies with several issues neglect peace over their differences, but they share the same pain and the troubles as a whole, as much to it, people require the same needs of food, clothing, shelter and a culture.

Let us not be promiscuous about race, and those in fear, the human psychology is the real problem, in that, we only understand the very same house built on procedures of laws.

Potential Contribution

Our education is a social weapon, then most of our lives are distracted with buying a house, and yet we could do more rather than building our houses only. Sometimes, we are only required to start and the rest will follow, which creates a new image of faith, because without this faith, we might end up dying in oppression or our evil deeds. The best potential contribution to our continent is to work with the governments that are within, instead of spending more time fighting against one another.

The same education acquired in universities must enable students to venture into numerous businesses instead of seeking for jobs. Most investments created in Zimbabwe, South Africa and Nigeria can trade faster, but first the idea of sovereignty must go, in order for it to be reborn again and with enough strength known to all of us.

Those that focus to achieve success in their own companies, family success is everything, even then to grow as successful brothers and sisters start with using the right education, and it must be implemented in order for families to change their attitudes in making decisions.

Since the world is changing very fast it means everything that worked for students twenty years ago is not good enough to get a good job today. Equality in education revives the need we have to create the very new future people took years to achieve.

In this battle of life, our perception has to change, and if not, children will mostly be affected by such irrational decisions. The new world requires intangible information per head.

Doubtlessly, it is these children that the future belongs to. Most families, because of money problems, will rather choose a male child for school than a girl child, our development is directly proportional to the way that we act and appeal. That girl child is compared to the direct negative attitude the world has viewed Africa as, and it has developed an ignorant essence to the fact that Africa is rapidly developing.

2050 Goals

In 2050, investors would have improved in all countries in Africa. For most Africans are starting to get involved with international ways of living. And the most elegant of all things is the fact that the world is developing is terms of economy as a whole, but for most Africans that are creating wealth and moving to other parts of the world are unaware of the migration of people into Africa.

> Whilst it's easy to throw around phrases like "you cannot eat ideas or your books" or likewise, "there is no oil well or gold mine on this earth that will ever be worth what your mind can contribute."

From the very beginning, governments in power change the tough beginnings. Encouraging wars or corruption is much more of a way to the people investing in the country, and gaining from those wars and corrupt activities.

It is in the strength of our hands, and most young people barely recognise the need to work at a younger age, and then regret it when they are trapped in accepting reality at an older age, which is poverty on the other hand. Drugs are destroying many lives, especially when a society is weak to prevent their sons from becoming drug dealers and gunners. They have no future and their children will never live in this world the same way there grandfathers did in peace.

Help or Hide

Sometimes we answer questions before thinking them through, and the world is too forward to make conclusions, and it still buries most of its skulls, these including war crimes done in the past, and it is through those war crimes that people's lives were changed for the worst. The people of Hiroshima saw death staring at them, but they couldn't help or hide. The world has tried to bury the past, but this does not change what happened.

People with issues against western countries over political issues are not wrong, as much as equity goes further than equality; people in Japan watched an atomic bomb detonating on them.

The most brutal thought is that consciousness has many opponents, and those that are actually benefiting from our conscious are few.

Since, the faith of life is to heal the broken and mend the blind; people are not forced into faith.

The missing part or link to human independents was defined through Jesus Christ. The world still to this day remain unpeaceful.

Yes, there is a need to build our financial base, but to some extent, we ignore things that matter most, we lose focus to the purpose of life, then how can people be the same. Once, the authority to build is understood, then that pain should be carried away, until people turn to the cross for happiness, most families in cash crisis have problems that are ordinary to a wealthy family.

It is a passion to make a living that has led the world to this point in time; some people have decided to sort happiness in a yard full of cars and jets, and this is only human potential, which is more powerful when it seeks more fruits that are spiritual.

Spiritural Problems

We have more cases on paedophile problems that money cannot solve. We desperately neglect the need to love each other, and pursue goals to our own ends. For that, poor or rich, inferior or superior, blind and deaf, we have more power to stand against the increase cases of rape and disease for all. The way that our minds work improve strength and reduce common problems, some people complain about problems, without actually realising the need to make a definite solution.

To agree or to disagree depends on the amount of time spent on making a decision, and then to deny the consequences is far much worse. Often, people working to buy a house and a car work hard than a real estate business agent does.

Time is a very powerful tool, and if it is misused, then it is time wasted. It is required from all of us to be responsible for our own souls.

In the time of crisis, whom do we depend on?

The work of our minds is important than the work of our body in a common world. Perseverance is a tool that comes from the mind; this is where education should come from, and the massive power of understanding more knowledge is found in these books. Including this book you are reading...

If information was not expensive, we would not have only few rich people in the world. When we clearly think about it, most people are always begging for money, not information.

Wisdom is very important in life, and our knowledge is a key, life is a product of our minds in a number of ways. People that absolutely materialise ideas creates more inventions and gives more power to the same need society.

Courage to Speak

We have different opinions towards many agendas, and the society is changing, because of morality, other people face hate than others in particular places, but all of this is history.

Innovation is in the interest of everyone, and the mind that once conquered fear has the courage to speak against the abusive administrative power. We can only focus on the future through imagination of a vision into a reality.

Day And Night

Only a few men could individualise themselves in the shoes of a pregnant woman in pain of child birth. The hearts of men will only understand a sacrifice after it has been done, even after that we are likely to suspend the need to make a treat with people that are not ignorant to their children's future.

We all get to have a life we always wanted when we work hard towards it. The reason behind achieving a lavish life shouldn't be to outshine others but to raise others up, dreamers understand the product that they are building right from the ground, the value of that product keeps them day and night, and they lose everything without a guarantee if their work will ever produce any fruits.

Redefining Africa is mostly realising the generation gap and also that children are different and diversified, because of the way they think about the world is totally different from there parents' point of view. There is a future in these children than the past, and Africa can invest in the youth development to pursue radical change in the continent. The power granted to many allows self-awareness.

A Barbarian Scavengers

The competition on earth is to make a profit even by selling other people, the same history, barbarian wars and cannibalism.

Some nations have caused the death of their own people due to different opinions. And others use suffering as a way of learning more about life either the positive side or the negative side, the life of a man of transparency ideologies doubtless is powerful enough to affect the mass with an executive order.

If through all these talents provided, it is a priority that an artist should use the talent wisely. The best approach towards building our own infrastructures depends on the administration's focus. If politics becomes more important than the well-being of people, the consequences are very dangerous. It is mostly surprising that the people in-charge of distributing wealth exploit it at large.

Do not look for spirits to blame in times of danger, or wait for fruits without farming, without even praying for it. It is easy for someone to lose a soul over worldly issues, forgetting that all material objects in this world are only temporary. There is no way around this; those that spend more time working to perfect a win explore the truth through reading profound research before making a good decision, most of these decisions are temporary as well.

Political Imaginations

The truth about African politics is as ugly as the rest of world's politics. African Leaders need to rise and lead from the front.

Some are ahead in terms of political philosophies, and we are only limited by our imagination, and people in power are much less visionaries to the common goal because they have eyes and they do not see, they have ears, but do not hear. The word "modernise" is opportunistically hated by many ageing Africa Leaders because to them it implies a possible loss of emotional control over their subjects.

It is mostly eligible when the country has institution that protects either a woman or a man on the seat from other mindless politicians with intentions to have power over others or they might actually be in danger from their very lust of power. Most solutions from parliaments, are only meant to recap a few. The first way to make changes in the continent demonstrate order to illustrate not just a point, but a fact. If then a point is proven for that sack, do we all agree that our ways were lost from the very start? Solutions are scarce in disagreements, and this is what most African governments have spend time doing.

Present Aspects

Some of the things that inform a negative narrative about the continent can be blamed on outsiders – such as the tendency of global media to overemphasise what is bad at the expense of what is good; or to present negative aspects as a generalised pattern representative of the entire continent – there are also many things that can be blamed on Africans themselves, whether they're prepared to accept what they see in the mirror or not.

Usually other leaders would report corruption done by the US government or EU governments, because these governments have a wicked background, and it doesn't tarnish much of their participation towards a better world, even the Chinese or Russian governments. All these countries have served as a key access to the world through the need to maintain their countries, there citizens, humility, and freedom of thoughts.

The international court of law works for those that are weak to handle their own political affairs. Assuming a solution is not a solution, and assuming might as well remain an assumption. Everything in the world depends on the belief of people, and to some, not believing gives them strength. The same way that we have regarded African Leaders as corrupt should be the same way people understood segregation during Chimurenga days; in short, people have strength to fight against segregation than the strength for their economic freedom, because the economy war is more intellectual than it is physical.

Sankara's Ideology

A person can lead people into war, but not to their resting grounds, a game of survival, at first, when politicians such as Robert Gabriel Mugabe started the revolution of Zimbabwe, they were the educated few that took over the segregation war and changed the history of the country, but later on, the country failed economically under political arrogance.

This was a different war to the revolutionary party, same as the African National Congress party of South Africa that has been in power since 1994, the parliament is either divided with race, noise or tribes. People love their revolutionary parties, but the god complex affects us negatively, a good example is that of Germans when they took Adolf Hitler as a messiah.

Many of the Zimbabwean youths played a part in the nation through several rallies that the ruling part held from one place to another, it is easy to compile someone without military or economic intelligence into doing the exact thing that their leader would never do himself or herself.

THE TESTIMONY OF JIM KUNAKA

The Constitution of Zimbabwe States:

Only the President can authorize the deployment of the Defense Forces. Under section 213 of the Constitution, only the President can authorize the deployment of the Defense Forces in support of the police in the maintenance of law and order.

This is a case presented by Jim Kunaka in front of Mohlante Commission.

Mr Kunaka, this commission serves to shed light on what happened on the 1st of August. When witnesses spoke, they mentioned your name, and that you were spotted at fourth street burning banners that belonged to the president's campaign, and also you were seen in a vehicle belonging to the opposition singing along with the crowd, and assaulting the current president.

Here we are not in a trial, but we just here for clarity.

Jim Kunaka's report;

"Thank you, and from what I do understand, this is not a trial. Let me begin by saying that I know about the internal affairs of the party Zanu-PF with all its evil deeds and how dangerous the party is internally and externally, I was once a member. You arrested me in August, and I appeared before a court of law. In this commission, Zanu-PF aligned its self with the judiciary systems, not under it but rather over it, and it is rather a state capture.

It delayed to set a trial date for us, so that we might appear in front of this commission, and they might hear what we are going to say today in our defence, then set a trial date after, and use it against us during the trial. So forgive me, they are some issues I will not respond to and some issues I will respond to.

I was a provincial chairperson member for Zanu-PF, not a sales clerk. Therefore, the story I want to tell the commission should capture its attentions, because its a story of power, cruelty and deceit, and it will lay a hold of your time.

Firstly, I would like to bring it to your attention that the letter you wrote to me was wrongly addressed. I am not a member of the MDC-alliance, but I am part of the National Patriotic Front (NPF), as a deputy political commissioner for the party. I also contested in the previous harmonised election against a candidate from the MDC-alliance. And I lost the election to that candidate.

So far, from what I have established, you do not have facts at hand. I will tell you from here onwards that I am not a member of the MDC-Alliance, next time, when you are writing your letters look for me directly at my place of residence.

Chairman, I want to tell you a story of what happens in Zanu-PF, if you go on internet and google Jim Kunaka, you will find my inclusive information. I am buffered and surprised that commissioners are sharing a sit with Charity Manyeruke. She is one of the architects of violence in ZANU-PF, as I have told you that I was a provincial person, I used to sit down with this woman planning together a way to assault national citizens that were supporting the MDC party. She is currently the secretary of woman affairs in Mashonaland east for Zanu-PF. I was thrilled to see my former boss among the commission group, because she used to give me orders to do all the violence in the country against the opposition parties.

I will not answer any question from my commander sitting over there - I was her mere foot soldier under her strict instructions.

However, let us engage and deal with the issue at hand. We won't be bothered further by Commissioner Charity Manyeruke.

I do not relate to the person mentioned in the given statement that I was a passenger to in his car. As I do not remember the specific date since the years have gone by and I haven't talked to this person. I was a provincial chairperson for Zanu-PF, so my friendship with the opposition party is not great, since I used to receive orders from Charity Manyeruke to harass the oppositions. I was dismissed from Zanu-PF in 2018, after a reshuffle in the government.

So when did I develop this friendship with Tendai Biti? We were enemies in the political battlefield all these previous years and still are.

Clearly, Zanu-PF consumes its own children. In 2014, I was kidnapped by military intelligence. One of the Guards right behind all commissioners is avoiding to look at me because he is much more aware of the assault case that took place at a certain disclosed location, before they dumped me at a bush along the road to Chitungwiza assuming I was dead.

In 2018, during a military coup, the country was forcefully taken through military strength. The same military personnels violently came to my house to cause a havoc. They destroyed my television, my framed pictures, assaulted my wife and children, after they had failed to locate me in the area of my residence.

This is the issue that has brought me here today, if you trace back, before I was a provincial chairperson, Zanu PF had no constituency in Harare. When I became a Chairperson, I promised to return all seats from MDC members back to Zanu-PF, but to achieve this goal we used violence on innocent people.

There is a basement meeting conveyed at the ZANU-PF headquarters in Harare. When Zanu-PF lost a presidential election in 2008 we were invited, especially me, by the military personal at the headquarters. I was clearly told that a country could not be signed away with a paper and a pen. Then I asked, what can we do? Then they said, "Go and defend the revolution. And do anything necessary," that was the instruction. Miracles happened, good or bad happened to the opposition people. Zanu-PF emerged as a winner at the end, I tell you this so that you might understand clearly were violence is coming from.

If you refuse to do like how Zanu-PF wants it here in Harare, then they will deal with you to your last. Do you remember the year that Morgan Tsvangirai was assaulted at the highfield police station? The police did not assault him, but they took Zanu-PF youth and gave uniforms and batter-sticks to them. A police officer testified HERE*! If we were to ask him, he would tell us that a trained police officer knows the points to hit a person, they do not just rush up and beat people all over the body. They do not hit any part that might result in the death of a person, as for example, the head, the people that insulted him wanted to kill him.*

*I just wanted you to know as well that the noise reported on the 1st of August came from the party elites aware that it had lost the harmonised elections, they sat down and executed a plan. "Let us cause violence and then we will later blame the opposition party," we were doing the same thing right from the beginning, and no Zanu-PF member can dispute over these statements because I was the Commandant in all these cases.*

This happens in Zanu-PF under coaches, you cannot separate Zanu-PF from its military wing. Once you outsmart them, they resort to violence. They will come after you and destroy everything or kill you.

Then why should I remain in a party of elderly people, instead I rather hang around those of my age. I found myself in a new party, where I could build something of my own. I am old enough to tell my own story and the direction of my life and that of my family. Therefore, the story between Zanu-PF and me, and all people that testified here when the commission started should be separated.

Mr. Madhuku, there is a man called Saide, his testimony was false, he is a member of the Zanu-PF. He lost during the primary elections, and he was actually aspiring to be a counsellor in Ruwa. Since, he doesn't have a job, so he benefit during the Zanu-PF fundraising activities which exploits the companies. They are told what to say before testifying in front of any judiciary.

But, you see, the problem is that they still want me in Zanu-PF. They still want to use me in Zanu-PF to do dirty work. However, I am a grown-up man, and I have my own right, and I cannot continue to be manipulated by elderly people. After I completed their dirty work, they came twice in a bid to kill me. They are not grateful, which is the reason why, we decided to part ways with them.

They are trying by all means to recruit me again, I once returned to them, back in 2014. I had to come and say, 'I have rejoined Zanu-PF, and that gave me a chance to support the G40 (rebellious group within Zanu-PF), which was later dismissed from the main government in 2018. And this happened after we used our minds to outsmart the elderly group, they used guns to take over the country. With Professor Manyeruke, we were together in the G-40, she betrayed G-40 as a result of cash, her desire for money.

I will only present my evidence to the Magistrate court during my trial, and not before that, because for now, they just want to play around with my answers and use them against me in the court of law.

It is impossible for me to leave this room without saying something about the street massacre of August. Even a grade two child in Epworth (Suburb in Harare) can attest to a massacre of 1st august. Mr. Mohlante, if we were to go together I would provide you security without Zanu-PF body guards, a young child will tell you about it. And a child will tell you that soldiers shot people in the street and it was clear for everybody to see. How can these people take three months in order to set a trial date, and then bring us the commission, it is rather a waste of time, while the economy is shrinking, but they are still paying the commissioners to come and investigate about an obvious incident. In addition, even Professor Manyeruke knows the people who shot civilians.

Mr. Madhuku among you aspired to become a President because he had clearly noticed the problems with the government in power, and those before them. This is the only reason that Mr. Madhuku went on to contest.

The commission is going to send a letter to President Emmerson D. Mnangagwa as the appointing authority, I know the reason why this commission has people such as Professor Charity Manyeruke, she has some interest that she is representing. We know some of their plans.

Mr. Mohlante, if you have courage, then it is the courage for Africa. The Gukurahundi barbarian act remains unsolved, when over twenty thousand people were massacred in Zimbabwe. None of the people in authority took responsibility for ordering soldiers to kill people.

And then, today, you expect someone to admit instructing soldiers elites shooting people in the street. Instead, rather discuss the economy with the commission, and a strict law towards those that stole diamonds. The diamond case remains unsolved after billions were looted out of the country.

The report that Chaibva gave you was biased and incorrect. I personally dragged him to become our spokesperson, and we also gave him a spot to have a small fast food kitchen in Harare.

He could not testify against the people that gave him life. He had fear in him to testify because Zanu-PF can take anything, for example they are still some people living in hostels after they lost their houses to ZANU-PF. For now, let us conclude that Soldiers killed civilians in the street. Then, how can the same police officers that were disarmed by the soldiers go and investigate them again, they are likely to be disarmed and assaulted again.

The police officer who testified in the commission couldn't answer the question, if they had apprehended the murder suspect?

I recalled watching the police officer's testimony and I almost cried. Citizens were massacred by soldiers, and a video reporter captured it all. However, the government is still looking for a culprit, in this case, the army.

The application of law in Zimbabwe is selective.

On the television, our names were announced, but the law is written, we do not arrest to investigate but we investigate to arrest. Up to this day, a trial date has been dragged from one day to another. The question is why are we here?

When I was kidnapped, I knew the soldiers who had kidnapped me, and I had to close the docket at some point after about one year without any arrest.

Commissioner, you should respond to our letters when we are in danger, because we testified today. Our lives are at risk. I will not allow Charity Manyeruke to judge me today, she is the same person who gave me orders to kill.

It is a matter of supporting the vision from the Opposition, and supporting a vision does not make me a member. These men have a crucial vision for the country of Zimbabwe.

The Last house of Power

Jim Kunaka's speech was politically inspired, he is one of the opposition members that inspired a protest, and they knew what they wanted out of it and they achieved. Zimbabweans hate the Zanu-PF party, but as much as they hate it, Opposition parties are destroying them and are causing meaningless protest inspired by their lust of power. No man is clean, especially Jim , after he pulled out a victim card to protect his ambitions.

The same brutality the government has pursued keeps on ruining lives of millions. The economy has diminished and even professors are still defending the deals of political affairs. The Africa political system is too loose.

The rule of law in African countries is against the truth. People that testify lose their lives at the expense of the truth. In a court of law, money has converted the courtroom into a business. There is a need for people to support the vision.

There are more allegations about the issue of electoral votes that the court later resolved into inaugurating the new president.

The constitution has to allow people to demonstrate their democratic rights. Others have sabotage freedom, when those in power can manipulate a demonstration and cause havoc, war is inevitable.

The violence on civilians will later on resonate in a generation to come. A gun was invented to kill other people, and the introduction of buying guns is suppose predictable once the army has nothing to eat. The irresponsibility of a government only depends on the points of elevation that it is willing to partake to destroy everyone.

The idea of a state-man is pretty much doomed than assumed, the next government will be in pursuit of power, condemning the same people that fought along with them, the noble prize for a wicked man is enough to destroy the country over his eagerness to rule.

The power to be in charge of our resources is the only way forward to unity in a country, people might have different political opinions, but they should not die for it. A country full of educated people is a playground of activism, ideologies, oppression and support.

Jim Kunaka played a dominance party in the Chipangano militia group which terrorised people many times, during his testimony, his words were not much for someone who had repented from the Zanu-PF, it was more like a Political opportunity. However, he stood as one of the people who spoke out against their former Party, but looking back when this problem began, things were good for them. They have lost wealth and power, so testifying is the right and dangerous path. Jim mentions that; when he became a chairperson for Harare with a declaration to have more power in the city they used violence. Same thing is happening all over Africa.

Furthermore, a nation cannot be conquered with a paper and a pen. Then what should we do? Because elections are not working, democracy is not working. This is the footsteps of violence in Zimbabwe. Then the problem has not been the Party, but the military, which the party uses everytime after suffering defeats.

The law is you investigate to arrest, not to arrest to investigate.